A MIGHTY STRUGGLE.

The battle is on and it will be a battle royal between the Cleveland imperialists and the feudal cohorts arrayed under the banner of Gorman. The senate rebellion has spread to the house of representatives, where the democratic leaders who have chafed under Cleveland's yoke are organizing a mutiny against the Wilson bill. The caucus called for this afternoon originated with the mutineers and is understood to be a movement against the president's tariff policy. It was called without the knowledge of Speaker Crisp, who is presumably in accord with the administration, or without consulting Chairman Wilson of the conference committee, who is known to be the favored champion of the president in the house, and this justifies the belief that the caucus was called at the instance of Senator Gorman, who is now the recognized leader of the opposition. We do not believe it possible to bring the democratic majority in the house over to the support of the senate bill, but the result of caucus discussion and action will probably be to create schism and division in the ranks of the administration and thus enable the senate to more securely hold its ground. Still, at this stage of the proceedings no one can make an intelligent guess of what the outcome will be. We only know that a great battle is being fought, and that the contending forces are bitterly hostile to each other. We furthermore know that Mr. Cleveland is making the fight of his life and that he is straining every nerve and is calling into requisition all the power of federal administration to sustain his policy. It is evident that he does not underestimate the strength of his adversaries, nor is he oblivious to the fact that he is in danger of defeat.—Telegram.

This war between China and Japan promises to become a most interesting fight. Hostilities have already begun, and so far victory perches on the banners of the Japs. The countrymen of the two contending nations residing in the United States feel a lively interest in the outcome of the fight, and men and money are being raised in San Francisco and other Pacific coast cities by the adherents of each party. Both Russia and Great Britain have interests at stake in the matter, and each watches with a jealous eye the action of the other. Appearance indicate that the fight will be a long one, for both China and Japan have immense armies at their command, and a navy that compares favorably with those of European countries. In this fight we should keep hands off, and labor solely to push our trade among these friendly nations. Let us look to our own interests—America for Americans is the true doctrine.

The Klamath Falls Star tells of the allotment of the reservation to Indians and how it was done, in the following: "Agent Matthews is having the agency renovated, and Allotting Agent Worden is the right man in the right place, as his speech to the Indians clearly proves. He said, in substance, to the agitated Indians, that the commissioner had ordered him to give the Klamath Indians their lands, and that his orders were strict. Each Indian is entitled to 80 acres of farming land, or 160 acres of grazing land. No one not a member of these tribes or a child of such member is recognized. Father can settle lands for themselves and for their children under 21. If the father is dead, the mother, if competent, may select for the children. If the children have no parents, the land will be selected for them by Agent Matthews or Agent Worden. Take your lands and build your houses and fences and have homes. White men married to Indian women will get no land unless they have been adopted by the tribe.

Now that men who want work are able to make themselves heard above the clamor and bluster of the bulldozers who managed the Debs strike on the Pacific coast, it is apparent that for every job for which the Southern Pacific needs a man there are two or three men who need and want the job. The men who were responsible for the strike must have known that this would be the case, under the present industrial condition of the country, and, knowing it, they must have relied upon winning the strike by intimidation of men who would be glad to take the places of the strikers. They depended upon a methods which not only brought them into immediate conflict with the authorities and the militant powers of the government, but lost them the sympathy and moral support of the people at large. The public likes to see the railroad employes well paid, but it likes, also, to see a man appreciate a good job when he has it.—Tidings.

CONTRARY to general opinion, the improvement in firearms has not increased the murderous results of battles. The battles which have been fought in the South American wars since 1890 show that only one out of each seventy-nine men engaged was killed. In the Franco-German war of 1870-71 one in each fifty-three met death, while in the Crimean war one in each thirty-five of the effective force was left dead on the field. In our great civil war one out of every sixty-five men was killed, and one in each ten wounded. In Napoleon's early wars one out of every twenty-eight was killed and every fourth man wounded, and in early British conflicts as high an average as one death to each nineteen engaged is reported.—St. Louis Republic.

It has been said that carrots promote digestion, and the tomato, so long appreciated, is an excellent aid to the liver, and is invaluable in the work of purifying the blood. Nor are these the only green things that improve the general health. The onion is a great stimulant to the circulatory system, and the sea kale and watercress correct scrofulous tendency, while the turnip is nearly as nutritious as cornmeal. Lettuce and celery supply a craving of the nerves, and early spinach rouses the inert kidney. Every one who can should have a garden, no matter how small, for really fresh vegetables will help to save many a doctor's bill.—Hall's Journal of Health.

Steps are now being taken in Chicago to organize a new company to manufacture railroad cars in opposition to the Pullman company, and give employment to the Pullman strikers. This would accomplish more than to one than a sympathetic strike of the various labor organizations, and cost far less. If Pullman is making so much money there is no reason why others cannot make money at the same business. There is no use of standing at the foot of the ladder and complaining because some other fellow has gone to the top. Go up yourself or be satisfied where you are.

KEEP the money in circulation at home. If you want goods, do not be misled by the deceptive misrepresentations of outsiders that you can save money by sending abroad for what you want. Nine times out of ten you will pay just as much and fail to get what you want, as you cannot give the goods your personal inspection. Keep your money at home where you will in the natural order of things see it again. Every dollar unnecessarily sent abroad is a dollar of poverty added to the community.

SOME economical member of the school board in Dayton, Oregon, sent their printing to be done in another town, notwithstanding the Herald has long been working for a new schoolhouse soon to be built. How downright contemptible some men can act toward their home paper! But if a member of any one of the families of these gentlemen referred to should die, the editor of the Herald would be held in lasting disgrace if he did not furnish free the labor, ink and paper necessary to write up an eulogistic article about the departed.—Florence West.

ONE hundred millions of money, by actual figures, was lost on account of the late strike. The men who were employed lost in wages, $55,000,000. Had they all continued to work and had taken the money they would have earned, they could have purchased the Pullman plant or erected shops equally as well equipped. But even such an object lesson does not teach some men common sense.

IT HAS been a cause of wonder why the penitentiary stove founded by Loewenberg & Co. was sold to the state of Oregon for $65,000 when its actual value was not over $10,000. The mystery is explained by the suit instituted by Mrs. Louis Kub'n, in Portland, against Julius Loewenberg for $10,360 due for services performed by her late husband in securing the passage of a bill by the legislature, providing for the purchase of the Northwest Foundry Company's plant at the state penitentiary.

A LONDON newspaper offered cash prizes for the best definition of "Home." Three of the best answer were: "A world of life shut out, and a world of love shut in." "Where you are treated the best and grumble most." "The only spot on earth where the faults and failures of fallen humanity are hidden under the mantle of charity."

TRAVELERS from the East report a widespread destruction of crops in Kansas and Nebraska by hot winds. Corn will have to be shipped into many counties in Nebraska to enable the farmers to live until another season. The highways are thronged with disheartened settlers, who have abandoned their homes and are moving East. No similar scene has been witnessed since 1873.

MANY old time Californians and others are now said to be coming to Oregon from California, where it is said the drouth and other causes have ruined many of them. They say that all roads leading to Oregon are lined with covered wagons driving for the Willamette valley.

EX-VICE PRESIDENT Levi P. Morton has announced himself a candidate for the republican nomination for governor of New York. Governor Flower will probably be renominated by the democrats.

Tacoma's interstate fair promises to be quite an exhibition, and shows the grit of the people there when they undertake such a thing in these dull times.

AGENTS' fees in the United States and England are paid by the vendor. In France and Holland the purchaser pays them.

Diabetes Cured! Wonderful Work.

A New Being Created!

Dear Sir: If you could see the writer of this letter and note the wonderful change that has been effected in his case by taking Dr. Grant's Kidney and Liver Cure, you would certainly be astonished. I was a most wretched sufferer for three years, trying all kinds of medicine and nothing would relieve. The flux of urine was very excessive. I was very emaciated and also covered with carbuncles, and felt at war with myself and the world at large, but, thanks to your wonderful medicine, I felt as though I was a new being, and I consider it a wonderful cure has been effected in my case. With my best wishes for your future success, I remain Your respectfully, M. A. Miller.

Has Saved His Life! Marvelous Cure!

HARNEY, OREGON, April 30, '03. O. W. B. MFG. CO., Portland, Ore. Dear Sir: About a year ago I was laid up with rheumatism. I was in a terrible state. I could not turn over in bed without assistance. As there was no physician in Harney I tried various liniments, but they all failed. When my condition was very serious, as the pain seemed to be striking near the heart, your agent came along and had a bottle of Congo Oil. Hearing I was ill with rheumatism, he called upon me and brought a bottle of Congo Oil. He commenced rubbing me with it, and in less than five minutes I was relieved; in half an hour I was able to swing my feet out of bed, and one hour I was down stairs. He left the bottle with me and I applied it several times. From that day to this I have not been troubled with rheumatism. I feel that I owe my life to the wonderful oil. All this can be verified by Fred Haines, of Harney, also the landlord of the hotel and several others. I always carry a bottle of Congo Oil in my grip now. Yours very truly, C. H. NORTON, Attorney Burns, Harney Co., Oregon.

Scrofula Cured. Twenty-seven Years.

Suffered all the time and Sores Constantly Breaking out—Used Eleven Bottles of Dr. Grant's Sarsaparilla and Grape Root and Fitted a Cure. Dear Sir: Ever since my eleventh year I have been sorely afflicted with Scrofulous sores breaking out on various parts of my body. The glands of my neck were the most affected. I have consulted with many physicians, but their medicine did not seem to do me any good. About a year ago I commenced taking Dr. Grant's Sarsaparilla and Grape Root, and I felt that the first bottle was doing me good, so I kept on until I had taken eleven bottles, and am now completely cured, and have never felt so well in the last twenty-seven years. It certainly was a cheap doctor bill, as the total cost of the medicine was only $5.00. I most cordially recommend Dr. Grant's Sarsaparilla as the King of Blood Purifiers. A. G.
