He has no relatives here.

A good joke is told on Asa Baker, which is about as follows: While his father and mother were at the coast, John Ewing stayed with him of nights and one night Asa dreamed some one was trying to rob him and in his dream took John for the robber. Jumping on him he began to beat him in a lively manner and took hold of him with his teeth, leaving an imprint on his arm that is plainly visible yet. Peace was restored, however, as soon as he succeeded in getting Asa awake.

Rev. Holman of the Christian church will preach at 10:30 a. m. and at 8 p. m. next Sunday in the Academy building. If heaven is what Christians profess to believe it to be this spirit is a dangerous one. "Charity envieth not."

On last Wednesday, while Francis Springer was picking plums, he slipped and fell a distance of eight feet, falling on the sharp ends of a picket fence with such force that he ruptured his right lung, letting the air escape from the lung into the flesh. It was at first thought he had no chance of recovery, but as we go to press we learn that his chances are more favorable. Dr. Lamberson was called and waited on him.

Constable P. W. Morgan arrived home Sunday with John Hamilton and Stanley Robinson, the boys who stole the horses at Waterloo on July 4th. He also brought back the stolen horses and saddles. At the trial Tuesday before Justice Lovelee, the boys were bound over to appear before the next grand jury. Bonds were fixed at $100. Mrs. Hamilton could have got bonds, but as John was inclined to be saucy, she decided to let him go to jail. The boys claim to be only 13 and 14 years old, but look to be older. They were having a good time at Prineville working for their board when arrested. Both are now in the county jail. They belong in the reform school, where they will probably be sent.

TWO FAST WALKERS.

The Portland Telegram gives a long account of the recent 300 mile walk J. Thorburn Ross, secretary of the Title Guarantee and Trust Co, and Wallace McCamant, mention of which was made in the EXPRESS. They were gone sixteen days, walking 300 miles in ten days, making as high as 48 miles in one day, going from Belknap to Findly mostly by torchlight. Below we give the account of the trip from Lebanon to the Metoles:

Leaving Lebanon on foot, they passed through Waterloo, stopping to view and drink from the fine soda spring there. They followed the Cascade mountains and Willamette valley wagon road most of the way up the Santiam to Sweet Home and spent a night at Canyon creek ranch. This is the abode of the McKinnons, a noted hunting family. A 12-year-old boy in the family killed his first bear at the age of 8, and another of the boys has already killed 60 bears, to say nothing of deer innumerable. It was about here that they commenced to meet the mountain trout, and during next two weeks trout was a staple article of food.

From here they went to Upper Soda, and thence to the Mountain House, about 14 miles from McKinnon's, where they spent the night, leaving the next morning for Fish Lake.

They climbed the long ascent known as the Seven-Mile hill, and after a hard walk of 18 miles reached Fish Lake. The lake is remarkable for its complete disappearance in a short space of time during the summer season. One man told Mr. Ross that he had passed Fish Lake one morning when it was filled with water, and returning that evening had found it drained entirely and a fine grass field. This story is produced without verification, but it is a fact that within two or three days, at frequent times, the lake has been entirely drained of water.

After a few hours' rest they proceeded to Clear Lake, a very wonderful body of water. Its water is clear as crystal, and the lake is now where there was formerly a fertile valley covered with a thick forest. The outlet to this valley has evidently been dammed by molten lava flowing around it, and making a deep embankment, within which the lake was formed. Through the clear water can be seen the great forest still standing at its bottom, and as one rows in a boat over the lake he is tempted to put out his oar and touch the tops of the trees, which to the eye appears possible. It is not possible, however, as the water covers their tops many feet deep. The waters of the lake are cold as ice and well stocked with large trout.

The following morning they started for the Metoles, climbing the long hill known as Sand Mountain, from Clear Lake to Big Lake. This brought them to the summit of the Cascades. From Big Lake a magnificent view was had of a number of snow-clad mountain peaks, including Three Fingered Jack, an imposing mountain taking its name from the character of its surface, resembling three fingers. Mount Jefferson was among others.

The evangelist, Nunn, will lecture tonight at the Baptist church on "The Pope's House." He has with him a lime light stereopticon which produces the most powerful light known, and tonight you can view the Pope's House as it really is, and see the greatest palaces on earth, St. Peter's church, the Vatican, and nearly 100 other views fully described as they are presented. Last night the evangelist preached on the life of Christ, and illustrated with the stereopticon, which made the sermon very interesting.

The Soda Springs.

There is no truth in the report that the water at Lower Soda has been poisoned. A few cases of sickness have appeared among the hundreds who have been camping there. There is no one along the route who would be guilty of poisoning the waters of any spring. They are all polite and gentlemanly people. Everything possible is done at the springs for the comfort of the campers. Some people would kick if they were to be hung.

Delinquent Tax Roll.

The delinquent tax roll which was placed in the hands of Sheriff McFeron this week for collection is much larger than last year. The total amount of delinquent taxes is $48,087.22, itemized as follows: state, county and school, $37,869.89; polls, 1161; cities of Albany, Brownsville, Halsey, Lebanon, Soda-ville, $6889.63; school districts, $3116.70; warrant has been placed in the hands of the sheriff for collecting this delinquent tax and after a reasonable time for settlement a levy will be made upon property for all unpaid taxes.

School Fund.

Within the next few days $23,577.16 will be distributed among the schools of the county, at the rate of $5.67 for each enrolled pupil. Of this fund Lebanon will receive $1885.59, being the next largest in the county.

SAW MILL BURNED

Mr M. Bertrigan of the firm of Bertrigan & Humphrey was in town yesterday and gave us the following particulars in regard to the burning of their saw mill which was located about fourteen miles from this place on Hamilton Creek. He said the fire was discovered about 2 o'clock Sunday morning, August 12th, and when first seen was burning over the planer and was undoubtedly the work of an incendiary as there had not been any fire in the engine for two days. Every thing was a total loss except the boiler and engine which was saved. They estimate their loss at $6000. No insurance.

He said that they had been running about two and one-half months this year and had been doing a good business. On Thursday night following an attempt was made to burn their barn also, but as the fire was discovered soon after being set it was put out before much damage was done.

That Tidal Wave.

There has been considerable idle talk about Prof. Fals's prediction that a huge tidal wave will visit this coast between Aug. 17 and Aug. 30, to be 60 feet high, and that a great submarine earthquake submerge New York city, disconnect the peninsula of Florida from the mainland and cause it to sink, make an island of California and produce a tidal wave along the North Pacific coast. There is no danger of these predictions being fulfilled. If the conjunction of certain planets could ever produce such a result by attraction or otherwise there is sufficient room in the vast deep for such a wave to exhaust itself without piling up such a tidal wave as predicted; which would submerge Yaquina and other seaside resorts of the Northwest. Sensible people will take things as they come, and rely upon Nature's laws to keep things going in spite of Prof. Fals's awful prediction.

Coming this Way

"A petrified woman" was on exhibition in this city last week. The exhibitor said the figure had been found in Mexico, but the features were not Mexican or Indian, but Caucasian. The affair had evidently been manufactured by casting from a mould produced by moist clay in which a living woman had remained long enough to have a perfect mould of her nude figure made. The anatomy was perfectly formed of sand and cement and weighed 540 pounds. The owner was traveling by team from town to town and his figure will probably net him a good living at 10 cents a head.—Grants Pass Courier.

Charged With Libel.

F. C. Baker, editor of the Troutdale Champion, is under arrest in an East Portland court, on a charge of criminal libel preferred by a Mrs. Johnson, of Gresham. A correspondent sent a small item to the paper which on some married lady without using names, but represented her as holding high jinks during the absence of her husband Mrs. Johnson seemed to think it hit her. But there was no libel in the item.

The Pugilists.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—William A. Brady, manager of Pugilist Corbett, this morning telegraphed as follows to the United Press from Plattsburg N. Y.: "Corbett accepts the Sioux City offer for a fight with Jackson." The Sioux City offer referred to by Brady was made a couple of days ago. It is that a purse of $25,000 will be given by a syndicate to be formed in that city for a fight between Jackson and Corbett. The syndicate also announced that it is willing to post the $25,000 in any bank in Iowa. Corbett, through his manager, accepts this offer, and as Peter Jackson intimated he would also do so, should the purse be deposited with the Police Gazette, the prospects that they will come together in the ring in the near future. They are brighter than they have been since the match was first made.

Two doses of it settled the matter and cured him sound and well. I heartily recommend this remedy to all persons suffering from a like complaint. I will answer any inquiries regarding it when stamp is enclosed. I refer to any county official as to my reliability. Wm. ROACH J. P., Primory, Campbell Co., Tenn. For sale by N. W. Smith druggist
