

Lebanon Express.

H. Y. KIRKPATRICK,
Editor - and - Proprietor.

The following from an exchange may find a good application of our readers. It is simply disgusting to hear persons speak scornfully of girls who work for a living. No sensible man is dazzled by the glitter of a jeweled finger, a gold bracelet, or watch bought on 'tick' perhaps. All these have not so much fascination as a pleasant disposition, a happy, intelligent face, a well cooked meal and a glistening shirt front; a dimpled chin and a sunny face in the kitchen is worth a dozen of banged millinery singers in the parlor pawing ivory and screeching. "A Flower from My Mother's Grave," when very likely the poor old woman is hanging out the washing in the back yard."

In speaking of the public school system, Major McKinley said the other day in Wisconsin; "There is nothing like the public school system in this country. It lies at foundation of our security and liberty. It was from the public schools of this country that went forth courage and patriotism and conquered the mightiest rebellion in history and gave added lustre to the flag. These public schools must be maintained. We need more patriotism in this country, a little more genuine Americanism, a little more of that sentiment which means that the people are going to stand for their intrests and for America."

The exclusion laws of this country seem to have but little effect on the tide of Chinese immigration. The almond eyed Celestials are coming to this coast every week from their native land, and the majority of them have little trouble in securing entrance to this domain, where they are not wanted. Since the war broke out they have been flocking to this country, preferring possible imprisonment in the United States to being conscripted for service in the armies of the emperor. They are compelled to sneak from their native land, permission, since the opening of hostilities, being absolutely refused them. If detected in their flight, they are taken ashore and beheaded, without the formality of a trial.—Register.

An exchange says: "Post-masters would do newspaper publishers and some newspaper readers a good turn if they would inquire when a man refuses to take his paper from the office, whether he has paid up all arrears and ordered it discontinued. If he has not done so, the postmaster should explain that the law will compel him to pay for the paper whether he takes the paper from the office or not, and that the only way he has to stop it is to pay what he owes the publisher."

The St. Louis Globe Democrat a radical republican paper, says: "There has been a decrease of 17 per cent in business failures in the past nine months in the United States as compared with 1893, and the reduction in the number is still going on. This is something over which the public, without distinction of party, will rejoice." Yet the republican papers and orators tell the people that the new order of things is bound to ruin everything and everybody. It is hard work for them to keep up the deception until after the elections.

Debs has now acknowledged his folly in connection with the big rail road strike. He now expresses himself as upholding the ballot as the only means for free men to accomplish their rights. It is still questionable about his sincerity in this matter, and if his plans should meet defeat, even at the ballot box, there is a strong probability that he will become aggressive and anarchistic again. Such fellows as Debs loot their horn where they think it will do them the most individual profit.—Ex.

Our republican friends never copy such items as the following from the Oregon City Courier: "Several weeks ago W. H. Vaughan of Molalla brought some wool to town and was offered but 9 cents in store trade per pound and since the senate bill passed he sold his wool for 11 cents cash a pound."

The Southern lynchings reported nearly every week are greatly deplored by the better class of people, but deploring an act doesn't remedy it. Put intelligent men on our juries, men who realize the enormity of a crime to a community and to society, and the law will be properly enforced in such a manner that lynchings will not be necessary in order to insure a punishment to fit the crime.

THE American Jute Bag Company has given notice that owing to the removal of the tariff on jute bags they will probably be unable to continue in business. This state is fortunate in not having squandered the $300,000 appropriation for a jute mill.

THE Manufacturer's Gazette says: Our wool reports this week develops an interesting phase of the trade in the exportation and sale of a lot of wool in London. A lot of twelve-months' growth fine Texas wool, 103,000 pounds, was recently shipped from Boston to London, and there sold for 6 1/2 pence. This is fully a cent a pound better price than the owner could have obtained here. The transaction was a satisfactory one.

A LITTLE THE BEST.

The October issue of the Railway Gazetteer gives Albany and Linn county this favorable notice:

"Linn county is the largest and best county in the far-famed Willamette valley, being seventy miles in length and forty miles in width, having an area of 1,500,000 acres.

The land is well watered, there being numerous beautiful streams of pure, clear water, having their source in the Cascade mountains and thence flowing westward and emptying into the Willamette river, which constitutes the western boundary of the county.

The Willamette valley land is conceded by all as the best on the coast and Northwest for all kinds of fruit and small grain, and Linn county is located in its center; has none of your Kansas cyclones, Dakota blizzards, grasshoppers, chinchbugs, etc., but a beautiful temperature, not too cold in winter nor too warm in summer.

Albany, the county seat, is a very prosperous manufacturing city of 7,000 inhabitants. Albany is located on the Willamette river, which is navigable for steamboats all the year; has a great water power for all purposes, and has the best of church, educational and social advantages."

Henry Wilson, the postmaster at Welton, Florida, says he cured a case of diarrhea of long standing in six hours, with one small bottle of Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhea remedy. What a pleasant surprise that must have been to the sufferer. Such cures are not unusual with this remedy. In many instances only one or two doses are required to give permanent relief. It can always be depended upon. When reduced with water it is pleasant to take. For sale by N. W. Smith, druggist.

IN MEMORIAM.

FIRE AT SEATTLE.

Sixteen People Burned to Death and Many Others Injured.

SEATTLE, Oct. 27.—Fire broke out to the West hotel at 2 A. M. this morning, and in a few minutes enveloped the entire structure and burned ten human beings to death. The boiler-works removed from the burning embers as soon as the flames would allow.

The proprietor of the house says he had 80 guests in his house when he retired to bed, and believes that there are several more dead bodies in the smouldering ruins, besides the ten already recovered.

Several guests were injured, one man having his back so badly sprained that it is believed he will die.

The West hotel is a two-story corrugated iron building, at the foot of Columbia street, in the heart of the city, and within 100 feet of the Northern Pacific depot. It is a second-class hotel, but did a thriving business. The building is a total loss.

The fire was caused by a lamp explosion shortly before 2 o'clock. The night clerk gave the alarm, running from room to room. A scene of great confusion followed. Women screamed and men shouted in a frenzy of excitement.

The flames spread with such rapidity that many of the guests were unable to leave their rooms and were driven back to another and burn by the smoke and fire.

Many men and women jumped from the windows in all manner of attire. The fire department soon arrived on the scene and made a great effort to subdue the flames, but without avail. A great crowd of people also arrived, and tremendous excitement prevailed. When the crowd learned that several inmates were being burned to death, a thrill of horror was experienced, and heroic efforts were made to save those perishing, but to no avail.

It is now known that 16 persons, 10 men, 3 women and 3 little girls lost their lives. The iron sides of the building prevented the escape of the flames and made it a sheet-iron furnace, in which the bodies of the suffocated guests were literally charred to cinders, many of them beyond identification. All the bodies have been taken out, and are awaiting identification at the morgue.

Owing to the lateness of the season and the dull times, I offer my entire stock at cost. So call and avail yourself of the opportunity to get an elegant hat at cost, at Mrs. Rice's.
