BETTER THAN PILLS

"As old as the hills" and never excelled. "Tried and proven" is the verdict of millions. Simmons' Liver Regulator is the only Liver and Kidney medicine to which you can pin your faith for a cure. A mild laxative, and purely vegetable, acting directly on the Liver and Kidneys. Try it. Sold by all Druggists in Liquid, or in Powder to be taken dry or made into a tea.

The King of Liver Medicines.
"I have used your Simmons' Liver Regulator and can conscientiously say it is the King of all liver medicines. I consider it a medicine chest in itself."—Geo. W. JACKSON, Tacoma, Washington.

STATE AND COAST.

Taken From Our Exchanges Through-out the Northwest.

The Weston normal school's enrollment is 102, a good increase over that of last year.

Toledo is about to assist in the establishment there of a creamery, the plants of which will come from Linnton.

Rolla Frog, suspected of the assault on Postmaster Isaac, of Helix, was held at Pendleton, in $750 bonds to the grand jury.

"Surrounding influences of civilization" is the happy synonym used by the Coquille City Herald in speaking of steel jail cages.

Dean & Co. shipped 1,409,940 feet of lumber to San Francisco from their Coos Bay City mill during the month of October.

Butte county will probably be the first in the state to get her tax roll completed and in the hands of the secretary of the state.

Mrs. W. E. Macaulay, of Medford, was nearly gored to death by a cow one night last week. Her right leg, near the thigh, was torn open, and she was otherwise bruised before rescued by a passer-by.

There are ten divorce and two murder cases on the circuit court docket of Douglas county.

J. W. Wiley, of Phoenix, took three car-loads of hogs and one car-load of cattle to San Francisco last week.

The managers of the Pendleton sawing mill presented each marriage man in their employ with a Thanksgiving turkey.

The residence of Hon. J. J. Daly, of Dallas, was damaged to the extent of $1,000 by fire Wednesday; fully insured.

The Ashland mine is still being worked night and day. A contract for the running of another 100 feet on the big tunnel has been let.

The Corvallis public school continues to increase at the rate of about three new students per day, and 450 pupils are in attendance.

A great many hogs are being slaughtered in Jackson county, although still more are being shipped. This will scatter a considerable sum of money among our farmers.

Denny Crowley, of Klamath county, has become almost totally blind, the result of a trip across the snow several years ago, with little hope for the restoration of his sight.

The fees received by the Douglas county clerk will probably exceed $400 for the month of November. This exceeds the salary expenses of the office.

Miss Minnie Sanders, of Albany, was badly burned about the head, face and breast Thursday evening, while successfully helping the kitchen fire with kerosene.

T. L. Stewart and E. M. Bushy, of Fossil, Gilliam county, started Thursday for Texas, each with a car load of horses, forty head in all. It will cost over $10 a head to get the horses to Texas.

Isaac Hays, a well-known and respected citizen of La Grande, died at the residence in that city Wednesday morning from heart trouble. Deceased was the father of Mrs. J. D. Slater, of La Grande, and was aged about 65 years.

The November term of circuit court in Malheur county, just adjourned by Judge Fee, was very short, lasting only two and one-half days. The grand jury reported that they found the county in excellent financial condition and although they had diligently inquired, they had been unable to learn of one crime committed, in the county during the previous six months.

Sophia Western Husser Brown, who died near Willamina last week, was born in Ohio in 1818, and settled in 1850 on the homestead where she died. Her husband, James H. Brown, passed away in 1875. They were married in 1832.

There is no clue to the missing John Henderson, of Harlan, or Summit, Lincoln county. He is about given up for lost. Some forty men have just returned from a fruitless search and the last of his four dogs have come home crestfallen. Some think he has voluntarily left the country, and his wife is inconsolable.

There was an unusually large express package in the express car on the east bound train Monday morning—a horse, shipped from Portland to Denver, by D. C. Bailey, the charge being $180. He was inclined to take full possession of the car at first, but finally became quite friendly with Express Messenger Volger, who acted as hostler.—Sun.

A tramp called at a residence at Independence Wednesday, and asked to buy five cents worth of milk. On being furnished with the article, he deliberately entered the house, laid his gunny-sack bundle down, spread his bread and cheese out on the dinner table, which was just set for dinner, drank his milk, and when through arose and said, "Thank you."

John Devine, the prominent Stein mountain cattleman, delivered to buyers at the Huntington stockyards on Saturday 276 head of prime cattle. This is said to be the best drove of cattle driven there for shipment this year. They were well graded with Shorthorn and Galloway breeds, and showed their good breeding prominently.

Several Jackson county men sold 900 acres of mineral-bearing land this week to Seattle parties. Prospectors have already run a tunnel 1,200 feet in the old channel, which is represented as being 600 yards wide and runs the full length of the claim. The gentlemen who prospected it say that the channel is eighty feet deep and will pay well either for drifting or hydraulic mining. The price paid was $15,000 cash.

It is never dull times with the industries here. When the mills are shut down and men are out of work the toredo goes right on and puts in his time just the same. The insect has had steady employment at the wharf of the Southern Oregon Company, at Marshfield, and last week about forty feet square of that structure fell down, carrying with it about 40,000 feet of lumber. The mill was compelled to close down on account of injury to the track used to run out lumber.

Another coal find has been made in Jackson county. Quite recently on the farm of County Commissioner Samuel Ferry an eight-foot vein of coal was discovered. Three feet of the vein is said to be excellent quality of coal, while five feet is bituminous shale. This find is almost directly south of the Crit Tolman mine, near Roxy Ann, and the finding of the new croppings proves conclusively that there is an immense bed of coal underlying a thin covering of earth, and only a short distance east of Medford.

The Siletz Indians are drinking a good deal of whiskey these days and stories are numerous of their naughty deeds. One report is that a lady and some school children were insulted by Indians from the reservation. Another report is that two citizens of Willamina, driving cattle between Willamina and the agency, were stopped by Indians and one of the sawashes drew a knife and threatened to kill one of the whites, who promptly clubbed the Indian with his Winchester and knocked him off his horse into the mud.

It is likely the Sykes assault story from Shotpouch creek will be brought to the attention of the next Benton county grand jury. Sykes, the Pole, who is accused of making free with two of his neighbors' wives, is in bad repute in the settlement and plenty of evidence will be forthcoming. It seems that the reason the late husbands have so long delayed reporting his last summer's atrocities is that the women folks kept the matter to themselves until last week. The story runs that he spent a week with one of his victims, who not only kept the assault a secret, but saw to it that she was well cared for.

HAPPY HOME.

Spelling school Friday eve.

Singing school Saturday eve.

Prayer meeting Thursday evening.

Mrs. Todd and Mr. Cox have moved on the Lindley place.

If you want a good old time call on Mrs. Molly Gee, the florist.

Rev. Norton went to Sweet Home Saturday to entertain the people on religious topics.

Mr. Rollings and his son, Harvy, are doing a large amount of work on their place. They are rustlers.

Rev. Brown, the Happy Home school teacher has the good will of his pupils as well as the patrons of the school.

Beautiful winter weather and the farmers have improved it, seeding all done, still the ploughs are still running.

Grandpa and Grandma Cummings are able to be around again, the old couple have had a rather hard time for the past three weeks.

Mr. Grant Lindley has traded his farm for a house and lot in Lebanon with a Mr. Cox of the same place. Mr. Lindley has moved upon Hamilton creek on his mother-in-law's place.

The individual who took a log chain from Mr. Gas is requested to return the same.

BEDROCK.

Don't Like Them.

The two big engines now on the S.P. are run between Roseburg and Grants Pass by Engineers Waite and Porter. The former's was laid up for several days with a broken main rod, but is back on the road again. It seems to be the intention of the company to put six of these engines on between Roseburg and Portland to take place of eight smaller ones now in use, the two running south to take the place of three now running there. They will then take off two of the helpers here and one at Grants Pass, throwing three crews out of employment. The engineers do not seem to take kindly to the big machines, believing them to be rather risky things to run on, especially south through the canyon. They say that it is impossible to see any distance ahead on track, and that they will probably run into obstructions more frequently than heretofore.—Review.

Asleep in a Bath Tub.

The Portland Welcome tells the following: A man giving the name of Henry Waterhouse, hailing from Albany, went into a First street barber shop Friday afternoon and asked for a bath. It was noticed that he was slightly intoxicated, but no particular attention was paid to him, and he was shown into a bath room. He was heard to splash around awhile and then everything became quiet. So quiet that the janitor became curious and looked over the door. The man lay in the water apparently dead. The door was broken open and it was ascertained that Waterhouse was almost drowned. A physician who was summoned, however, succeeded in resuscitating him and he came out all right. Too much booze caused him to fall asleep and he had a narrow escape.

His Shoulder Torn Off.

ASHLAND, Or., Dec. 2.—This town is in grief tonight over a horrible accident that occurred today. Charles Beobe, a lad but 16 years of age, and generally beloved by the entire community, lies at death's door, and probably before this is printed he will have passed the portals. Beobe's entire shoulder and arm were torn from his body today by a load of shot from his gun. He was out quail hunting, and in making a step he fell, and discharging his gun, the entire load mangled and tearing away the shoulder and arm.

Two Governors.

MONTGOMERY, Dec. 1.—The capital is thronged with men bearing arms with bristling bayonets, ordered here to assist in the inauguration of Governor-elect W. C. Oates. Many other men are also here, unarmed, with the vowed intention of placing Captain Kolb in the governor's chair. Kolb was sworn in by a Justice of the peace but failed to get possession of the office.

She—"Who's that nice looking man across the street?"

He—"Why, that's Mr. ———. He's wearing one of those fine tailor-made suits, made by the Salem Woolen Mill store."

Mrs.—Do likewise and be well pleased.

CONGRESS CONVENES.

The President's Message the Only Business.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—At 12 to-day the Fifty-third congress convened. When its term runs out at noon on the 4th of March next, it will have been in session fifteen months. Beside listening to the message of President Cleveland nothing was done to-day.

The senate calendar contains 147 bills and resolutions that have been reported by the committees, many of them measures of great importance, which will be urged for action as soon as the senate can emerge from the inertia that characterizes the beginning of a session. The most important of these, from a political point of view, are the tariff bills. Jones and Harris, of the finance committee, have said they intended to call these up, especially the sugar bill, at the earliest possible moment, but it is not likely that they will urge them during the first week.

Cleveland indorses the recommendation by Comptroller Eekels that congress permit national banks to issue currency to the amount of one-half of their capital, without depositing United States bonds as security.

The president's message contains 15,000 words. Its keynote is financial reform, and it discusses foreign affairs and the Niagara canal at length.

PROPOSITION ACCEPTED.

Contract Awarded for the Portland-Astoria Railroad.

PORTLAND, Dec. 1.—A dispatch received from Astoria that the contract to construct a railroad from Goble's point to Astoria had been awarded to Messrs. Bonner & Hammond, of Missoula, Mont. Inquiry was made of a member of the railroad party who is at present in the city, and the following additional particulars were obtained:

A proposition to build the road had been submitted by Messrs. Bonner & Hammond, of Missoula, with Mr. Stanten, of Astoria. The gentleman had received a dispatch this afternoon from Astoria informing him that this proposition had been unanimously accepted. The proposition was to build the road from Goble's on the Columbia to Astoria and from that point to a connection with the Seaside road at Young's bay. The proposition required the contractors to complete the road by May, 1896.

China Humbled.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—An official position to know the facts says Japan has replied, favoring China's proffer presented through United States Minister Denby. It still remains, however, for China to plainly show she can and will execute what she has proposed. Until this is done there will be no cessation of hostilities. While the exact terms of the offer are not known, it is said to be about $15,000,000 cash indemnity and China's relinquishment of sovereignty over Corea. There is said to be no surrender of China's territory.

A Novel Way.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2.—The society women of San Francisco have adopted a novel plan to raise money for the support of a ward for incurables at the children's hospital. They are going to edit the Christmas number of The Examiner. W. R. Heald, proprietor of the paper, has agreed to turn over the whole newspaper plant to them and they are going to write every line of the paper, manage the business department, edit the text, graph news, collect local news, select the advertisements—and, in fact, do everything.

An S. P. Brakeman Assaulted by Tramps.

ROSEBURG, Dec. 3.—Benjamin Lohr, a brakeman on the Southern Pacific overland train No. 16, going south yesterday, while at a point near tunnel 7 discovered three tramps on the train. In attempting to put them off he was struck in the face with a rock by one of them and badly injured. The tramps were all brought to this place and bound over to appear before the grand jury.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2.—Among the arrivals in this city last evening was J. M. Rappt, the transcontinental pedestrian, who left New York May 19th on a wager of $5,000 that he would reach San Francisco on or before December 1st without spending a cent other than what he earned on the journey. The traveler is a medium sized man of about forty years, with hair, almost white and a beard

Its Fame Will Live.

The World's Columbian Exposition marked the climax of human achievement. It will live in memory of the crowning glory of modern times. No other development of the closing century can compare with it in practical benefit to mankind.

Who that exhibited is not proud of it? Who that failed to exhibit does not regret the omission? The former are the people of to-day. The latter are relics of the past.

No honor so high as that embodied in an award at the fair. Competition was world-wide, the fruits of ripest experience and noblest endeavors were submitted for examination.

Honest tribunals, composed of eminent scientists, examined and passed upon the claims of exhibitors. Their judgement based on inquiry and justice, proves conclusively the value of any article they commend.

Their approval was stamped on

Price's Cream Baking Powder

It received the highest award at the fair from a jury headed by the Chief Chemist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Price's is officially commended for highest leavening
