Dates, this 14th day of October, 1894.

Better Than Pills

As old as the hills and never excelled. "Tried and proven" is the verdict of millions. Simmons Liver Regulator is the only Liver and Kidney medicine to which you can pin your faith for a cure. A mild laxative, and purely vegetable, acting directly on the Liver and Kidneys. Try it. Sold by all Druggists in Liquid, or in Powder to be taken dry or made into a tea.

The King of Liver Medicines. I have used your Simmons Liver Regulator and can conscientiously say it is the King of all liver medicines. I consider it a medicine chest in itself.—Geo. W. JACKSON, Tacoma, Washington.

STATE AND COAST.

Taken From Our Exchanges Through-out the Northwest.

Three feet of fresh snow has fallen on Siskiyou.

A Newburg man is putting out 1,200 pounds of peach-pits.

Salem's Building & Loan Association has assets now of over $100,000.

P. H. Brechley, of Oakland, has turned off $12,000 worth of hogs this fall.

Thirty-seven carloads of potatoes have been shipped from Jefferson this fall.

There is some talk at Dallas of the reopening of the wooden mill now idle.

Newberg expects to have telephone connection with McMinnville in sixty days.

Diphtheria is bad at Elgin, but is quarantined by ropes stretched in the streets.

The Prineville Review uses a piece of recently fallen serolite for a paper weight.

The South Oregon Monitor has appeared at Medford, Charles E. Wolcott, editor.

A new town at the Rogue river's mouth, opposite Gold Beach, is called New Haven.

Central Point horsemen will celebrate Christmas by working off a race a race programme of four events.

The Seattle Post Intelligent has purchased the Telegraph, thus doing away with one paper in that city.

W. H. Dawson, of Salem, is doing thirty days for wife-beating.

Bears are unusually fat and plenty in the Curry county woods this winter. Many are caught in traps.

A combined grist and saw mill is going in on Elk river to meet the needs of Rogue river and Port Orford.

R. D. Hume is notifying his Gold Beach tenants they must pay up or move, otherwise he will prosecute them.

A. J. Shelton, of Jordan, Populist candidate in June for Sheriff of this county, is going to Morrow county to live.

Representative Shurtum, of Umatilla, is preparing a bill forbidding the further sale of narrow-tired wagons.

Eastern Oregon sportsmen are to meet at La Grande December 22d to devise a game law for submission to the legislators.

Baptisms by immersion at Coquille City are conducted in the river opposite the water front to large and admiring Sunday afternoon congregations.

The next bond sale of prominence heretofore is that of the Astoria water commission, set for February 10th.

The bonds are in amount $200,000, and run for thirty years at five per cent.

R. Garrison, who has just turned over the contract for carrying the mail between the depot and postoffice at Eugene to a successor, has performed the service daily since August 1890.

The Tygh ridge cattle have an epidemic among them again. This time they call it the "blind staggers," for want of a more accurate term, and many are dying of it.

The six-months-old baby of J. Q. Hales and wife, of Adams, Umatilla county, died the other night while its parents, lying by it, were asleep.

The left side of the body had turned entirely black from some unknown cause.

Some people, in Mountain valley, Umatilla county, did a good deed in observance of Thanksgiving. The home of W. Ray was destroyed by fire, the loss being $750, and all his neighbors turned out and rebuilt his house.

Some boxes of large mining pipe having recently been used in Eastern Oregon papers, the La Grande Chronicle offers in evidence that used at Camp Carson, on the Grand Ronde, some of which is thirty inches in diameter.

Down on Brushy Bull creek, in Curry county, one day last week, the two Miller boys came upon an old fat bear and killed him. He was surrounded by the remains of four large hogs, freshly killed, and evidently borne by him to his lair.

A hobo on Monday morning's train tried to get out from under the coach while the cars were leaving West Fork. His foot was caught by a wheel and his toes pinched off. He crawled to brake-beam again and rode to Gen-dale where the train hands took him in and brought him to this city. Dr. Kremer cut off the mangled toes. The unfortunate young man stood his agonies like a hero. The state pays the expense.—Grant's Pass Courier.

Mr. Seth McAlister second son of Dr. A. E. McAlister, has been elected to the position of assistant in the department of analytical chemistry at the state university. Mr. McAlister is an exceptionally studious young man and his appointment is very gratifying to his many friends.—Eugene Register.

There are still no clues to the manner in which J. D. Masten, of Union county, met his tragic death in his house recently. He was shot by some one, whether purposely or accidentally may never be known, but it is thought an overburdened conscience will at last bring forth the truth.

There is prospect for lively times on Rogue river during the next year. The Alaska Packers' association have decided to have a cannery in operation in time for next spring's fishing, and it is quite probable Hume will also build a cannery. The Alaska Company will build at the Bagnell ferry, which is considered the best location on the river for a cannery.

B. R. Daniels was arrested at Tillamook last week, at the instigation of A. Arell, charged with violating the fish law. He was taken before Justice Smith, where he pleaded guilty, and was fined fifty dollars. Mr. Daniels was out trolling for salmon, not knowing the law prohibited catching fish in that way in this season. The Headlight plainly says that the prosecution was spite work.

The Port Orford Tribune has meager reports of a duel on a trail along Pistol river, between James Averill and James Starr. They met on the trail it appears and, on account of some old feud, Starr began to shoot. Several shots were exchanged and Starr finally disappeared. This is Averill's story, who went to Gold Beach and gave himself up. Search has been made for Starr, so far without avail.

The Salem Post is making a considerable stir over a young man who was engaged to two young women at the same time. That is nothing. Orville Van Buren Thompson, a man of thirty, of Chicago, it has just been learned was engaged to four young ladies at the same time, using the same diamond ring for each, and besides having a wife and two children. The Salem clerk is most emphatically "not in it."

The Salem Journal notice one of Linn county's senators as follows: Senator Johnson, of Linn county, is in the city for a few days. He is a plain, intelligent Republican from the forks of the Santiam, a native Oregonian and a successful business man. Mr. Johnson is probably the youngest man in the senate, but he is a quiet and determined rustler, of a family that have made an impression upon the history and development of our own state in whatever they have undertaken.

Although notified, the Southern Pacific railroad company failed to appear and show cause why their assessment should not be raised. Therefore the county commissioners court has increased their assessments on the main line of their track in Lane county, 4,005 miles, from $3,500 per mile as assessed, to $4,000. This will increase the total assessable property of the county $20,375. Last year the company paid on the track at the rate of $4,005 per mile.—Eugene Guard.

Garfield Sutton, aged fourteen, and William Huntley, aged sixteen, who were brought here from Drain by Disciplinarian F. N. Bryant, of the State Reform School, are still here and will remain until Mr. Bryant returns from Roseburg, where he went yesterday to look for young Shortell, another runaway. The boys were found near Comstock. Two other escapes, Wilbur Davey and Patsy Mooney, are said to be in Lane county, but no trace of them has been found.—Eugene Guard.

The coroner's jury inquiring into the explosion at the quarry on Coos river last week, by which one man lost his life, found a verdict that the accident was due to the criminal carelessness of Superintendent J. G. West. There have been several accidents of a similar nature due to carelessness at the same quarry, and the verdict and probable lawsuit therefrom will cause those having the work in charge to take greater precautions hereafter for the safety of the men employed.

COUNTY COURT.

County Judge J. N. Duncan and Commissioner J. M. Waters and J. W. Pugh have been for two days transacting the regular monthly business of the county court.

A. J. Jarnagan was appointed justice of the peace for District No. 9.

The services that have been in progress for several weeks under the auspices of the First Presbyterian, Cumberland Presbyterian and Southern Methodist churches are proving a blessing to this community in causing saint and sinner to look more carefully into the word of God and see what is necessary that each do his part in the all important work of bringing all that will come into the favor and services of the Master, No "Sensations" or "New Methods" of procedure have been employed or developed on the ministers at work, but the plain truth of preaching of God's word, and the audiences have always manifested a patient and earnest waiting upon the preaching of the word. Excitement has not been known in the meetings, but much sincere and sober thinking is being done. Dr. Guyne will be here tonight and will continue to preach every night for one week. The Dr. is conceded to be one of the best if not the best preacher upon the Pacific Coast. Be sure and do not fail to hear him every night.

THE OREGON PACIFIC.

Comments Concerning the Approaching Sale—There Will be Bidders.

The Corvallis Times says positive assurance is had that at least one bidder will be on hand at the coming Oregon Pacific sale. This is certainly encouraging news. If any reasonable bid is made at the coming sale, it should be confirmed. Failure to do so will be a serious blow to the road, the creditors and to the state.

The Corvallis Times says: In spite of the fact that the Montana people have signed a contract to build the railroad from Globe to Astoria, they are still swinging around the circle of the Oregon Pacific. Tuesday Mr. E. Stone and D. L. Smith arrived in town and remained until yesterday, when they took the O. P. train for Albany. Smith is a civil engineer, identified with the Bonner and Hammond people, and Mr. Stone is the man who has been over the O. P. several times recently. The first examined surveys, maps, etc., of the general office and the other took accounts of the earnings and expense of the property. Mr. Stone admitted frankly that his people were looking over the property to see what could be done with it, and said that he would be in Corvallis on the 21st, which happens to be the day before the sale. After signing a contract involving the outlay of a couple of millions in the construction of the Astoria road A. B. Hammond, of the Montana syndicate, said to an Oregonian reporter, relative to the Oregon Pacific: "I do not wish to say anything about my intentions in that matter. I consider it a good speculation and whoever purchases it will secure a first class property that cost several millions. The last time it was sold it brought $200,000, but it is hard to say what it will bring at this sale." The close observer of human nature will argue, concerning Mr. Hammond's remarks, that if he had no designs on the O. P., he would have told the reporter in plain English that he didn't want it.

A Cure for Rheumatism.

For rheumatism I have found nothing equal to Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It relieves the pain as soon as applied.
