It is estimated that the damage to fruit in the east by the frosts last week will aggregate $5,000,000.

The report of a rupture between Japan and Russia regarding the occupation of Corea are not confirmed.

FIFTEEN persons whose property suffered damage in the railroad strike at Chicago, have sued the city to recover.

THERE will be a terrible shaking up of political lines in '96 over the financial question, and it will come none too soon for the good of the people.

THE San Francisco Bulletin says that more than 3,000,000 bushels of wheat stored in the late Senator Fair's warehouses at Port Costa for the past two years will be thrown on the market.

A KANSAS man has discovered that brandy can be made from wet elm saw-dust, and a discouraged prohibitionist asks what chance the good cause will have when a man can get worth with a rip saw and get drunk on a fence rail.

ACCORDING to the Salem Post, the late legislature employed seven door-keepers and assistant door-keepers in the house, and five sergeant-at-arms and assistants in the senate, at least nine more than was any need or even excuse for.

NO YOUNG man can make a success in life unless he works. He can not loaf around the street corners, shops, stores and saloons. He must do some honest work, or before he is aware of the fact he will become a chronic loafer, despised by all with whom he may come in contact. Do something, no matter how small, and you will eventually find yourself climbing the ladder.

It now transpires that a number of bills, supposed to have been passed at the last session of the Washington legislature, have mysteriously disappeared before they became laws. Several bills devised to bring about greater economical administration of public affairs have been found to be destroyed or stolen. The hoodlums seem bound to rule or ruin in Washington, as well as in Oregon.

Bradstreet's reports show a big increase in clearances over the whole United States for one week over the corresponding one of last year. It is to be noticed though that the increase has not yet struck this coast, which rather shows a decrease, that of Portland being twenty-one per cent, Seattle 21.8 per cent, San Francisco 1.1 per cent. The largest increase is that of New York, over 50 per cent. Spokane shows an increase of 22 per cent and Tacoma of 20.

THE Indian agent at the Siletz has received official notice from the Indian department at Washington stating that the department had recognized the action of the county court in appointing a Justice of the Peace and creating road districts at the Siletz, and authorizing the agent to abolish the Indian courts, as these are now citizens. The Indians have all been allotted their lands, and there remains to be opened to settlers 84,000 acres.

THERE is a rumor afloat that on May 24, Queen Victoria's seventy-sixth birthday, her most gracious majesty will formally abdicate, and after that the Prince of Wales will reign as King Edward VIII. It is learned that the queen expressed her desire to abdicate at a meeting not long ago, at which the Prince of Wales, Lord Roseberry and at least two members of the cabinet were present. If her majesty surrenders the crown on that day she will have reigned fifty-eight years, the longest reign of any monarch of the present century.

ELIJAH BROWN, who says he escaped from the Kansas penitentiary where he was sent for twelve years, called on the Associated Press correspondent Tuesday at Seattle and said he wanted to go back and serve his sentence. Brown says he has been living an honest life since his escape, and becoming converted at a Salvation Army meeting Saturday night determined to tell his story.

A word of encouragement at a critical moment in a life sometimes changes a whole career. One can never tell when the precise moment is at hand, and a stinging repartee and a careless, unkind slur may turn a struggling soul back and ruin a brilliant future at the moment when a generous word would inspire a confidence which might lead to fortune. Really, it is the little words that discourage, the careless words, the words dropped without thought. One can never know the responsibility he or she has for the success or failure of a life through a single word.—Ex.

THE following interesting statistics have been collected from the annual address of the president of the Rebekah branch of the Oregon Odd Fellows, Mrs. Margaret E. Lellogg: There have been fifteen new lodges instituted and one reinstated during the past year, making a total of fifty-nine lodges with a membership of 3,036 in Oregon. Total membership in the jurisdiction of the Sovereign Grand Lodge, 252,649, of which 108,732 are sisters at last report. At the same rate of increase the Grand Sire assumes that there are 115,000 grand women united in the fraternal work of Odd Fellowship, within the jurisdiction of the United States at this time.

THE farmers that build their own grainaries save storage, insurance, and the risk of grain being stolen. At the present many must store as the roads are in such a condition that the winter hauling can not be thought of. But the people are taking more interest in good roads, and building them on a more scientific principle. When the main road arteries are built farmers can save largely on the charges against their grain and other products. This is the season for working roads. Every citizen should take a personal interest in the question, and work to the best advantage. If he does not the supervisor should take a hand in the matter.

THE merchant wishes that your clothes would wear out; the doctor that you would get sick; the baker, butcher and grocer that your supplies were exhausted; the hotel-keeper that night would come on and catch you from home; the jeweler, that you would break your watch or clock; the coal mine owner, that the weather was cold enough to freeze the whiskers on a cat; the blacksmith that your wagon or plow would get broken; the town marshal and police judge that some one would get drunk and tear up the peace; the lawyer, that some man would try to get a divorce from his wife; the undertaker, that some one would die; and the editor that some one would pay up his subscription.

CHILI has decided to utilize both metals when it resumes specie payments on June 1. The president is authorized to coin $10,000,000 in silver per annum for three years, but silver will not be a legal tender above $50, except to the government, where it is received as gold. For two reasons this information is interesting. It indicates the possession of considerable financial wisdom by the Chilean government, and it promises to contribute to the relief of the world's glutted silver market. While Chili can find at home all the silver she shall need for coinage purposes, her withdrawal of $80,000,000 worth of bullion from the universal melt will help the producers of the metal in other countries.—Telegram.

Waterloo vs. Spiritualism.

EDITOR EXPRESS:—

We arrived in Waterloo Sunday the 12th inst. and followed the crowd who appeared to have an object point in view, arrived at Yew park at eleven o'clock. Here we were truly surprised to find a band of so-called spiritualists who were assembled to worship in their peculiar manner.

The coming woman, we took it to be, addressed the multitude for some time but what the subject or object was, we did not learn. Later on a lady read a poem, (so called,) of her own composition. We heard a few stanzas and fled, but curiosity caused us to return for the afternoon meeting that occurred at 1:30. Then a gentleman who claimed, or we understood so at least, to be under the influence of Old Sitting Bull, sawed the air to a mixture of Latin jargon and murdered English for a few minutes, after which the conglomerate mass was dissected by a female spirit for our edification. Said female was adorned with a "Totem" that looked not unlike a child's bib after said child had been dining on stewed huckleberries. Then came more incarnations, and a lady claimed to see children and old men in the audience, and this we believe true, as the children at least were painfully apparent. After this the worship came to an end.

Truly America is a home for all classes, and we firmly believe a branch asylum should be instituted here at Waterloo. We are but a stranger here, but if like performances continue we will remain here forever, as it is better than a circus, and comes cheaper.

Another fair spirit was seen on the streets a few nights since rigged out in male attire, and from the choice language used, possessed of an evil spirit. Such actions, to say the least are against the law of the land, and we believe said spirit belongs to the same class as those Sweet Home spirits who passed Santiam Sunday at milking time.

We have wandered from our text but will make no excuse.

Decoration Day.

Headquarters John F. Miller Post No. 24, G. A. R. department of Oregon. LEBANON, Or., May 29, 1895. GENERAL ORDERS No. 1.

Memorial Day is fast approaching. The day set apart by the matchless John A. Logan in which to honor our comrades who died that the nation might live. Other days may have their memories of great events, of stirring scenes, of life or death, of joy or sorrow, but to us this day is more blessed, more sacred than any other. Around it clusters all the glorious memories of the past; of valor, of heroism, of suffering, of self-sacrifice, and heroic endeavor, and of final triumph at last. To us above all others, does this day belong. We freely share it with all the good, the true, the loyal in the land; and ask them all to join with us in paying our tribute of honor and love to our comrades, who have passed over the silent river, and whose spirits are testing today on the old camp ground. Generally it has been the observance of Memorial Day by John F. Miller Post; it is hoped that it will be still more generally observed in the future. A general invitation is extended to all to join with us on the 30th day of May in the decoration services.

Attention Comrades, you will meet at G. A. R. hall, Sunday, May 29, at 10:30 a. m., and march in a body to the M. E. church, where the Memorial sermon will be delivered by the pastor of that church. To the ladies of the W. R. C., and Sons of Veterans, you are cordially invited to meet with us at G. A. R. hall and march with the post to the church and attend Memorial services. The post and the W. R. C. and S. of V., and the public in general, will meet at G. A. R. hall on Thursday, May 30, at 9:30 a. m., with Col. C. B. Montague, officer of the day. Line of march will be formed on Main street, near the hall and march to the Masonic cemetery where the decoration services will be held and an address will be delivered by Rev. J. H. Battle. By order of S. A. RANDLE.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known in the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and gives the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address:
