The best oil grain plow shoe in the market $1.50 Ladies fine Oxford ties $1.15. We are now having men's shirts made here at Lebanon in first-class shop. Much better than the factory made article. At the Racket store.

The farm residence of Mr. E. E. Parrish, near Knox Butte was entirely consumed by fire Tuesday afternoon, together with all the furniture, but a few pieces. The fire started by sparks from the chimney catching in some moss on the roof. Mrs. Parrish was putting up gooseberries and had a hot fire for that purpose. At the time she was picking berries in the yard, and did not notice the fire until it had gained a good headway. The house was insured in the Underwriters for $650 and the furniture and piano in the New Zealand for $900.

Mr. J. C. Saltmarsh's residence on Hamilton creek a few miles from Waterloo, was burned, Thursday of last week. It is not known just how it caught, but it is thought that a spark had fallen from the top of the flue on to the roof, as it was first seen blazing on top of the house, and burned from the top down, without falling in. The house was built about three years ago and cost Mr. Saltmarsh about $1000. It was a total loss; there being no insurance on it. But little of the furniture was saved. The loss comes hard on Mr. Saltmarsh just at this time.

Archie Mouser, a son of L. A. Mouser, met with a serious accident on Tuesday. He had been to Albany; and on his return, he attempted to mount the wagon on the brake, about three miles out from Albany, when he fell and was run over by the wheels. His foot was crushed and broken in a painful manner. The little fellow was brought home, where Drs. Foley and Booth thoroughly cleansed the wound of the sand and dirt that had been ground into it, set the bones and stitched up the cuts. The work was done successfully and is a very creditable piece of surgeon's skill. The boy is resting well.

Mr. E. Muselman's residence, between Lebanon and Sodaville was burned down last Sunday about five o'clock in the afternoon. Mr. Muselman says he does not know how it caught; whether on the roof or up stairs, but supposes that it caught from the kitchen stove flue; as they had just started a fire to get supper. When discovered, the whole top part of the house was in flames, and as there was a brisk wind from the north it was only a short space of time until the building was consumed. But little was saved, as all their clothing and bedding were up stairs. They lost four feather beds, thirteen large feather pillows and all the bed covering except for one bed. They saved one change each of clothing, out of a large wardrobe. They also lost all their jewelry; among which was a $50 diamond ring. Mr. Muselman places his loss at about $2000. He carried $500 insurance; $600 on the house and $200 on the contents. It was insured in the State Insurance company.

WATERLOO RUMORS.

Fourth of July will be celebration in Waterloo by a street parade, band music, speeches, fireworks, and a grand ball. Those who desire a horse race, bring along your work horses. Baseball will be indulged in and a good quite drink can be had by all. Come, and bring your aunt and mother-in-law.

Thirty-eight hands employed at the mill and more coming. The electric light plant has arrived and competent electricians are placing it in position. Business is improving and a grumbler cannot be found; yes we had nearly forgotten the late arrivals who can find no house in town good enough for them to camp in, and they are to poor to build a chicken coop or buy a diseased rooster.

Fred Gross has rented the Anson property and remove the post office thereto. The change will be appreciated by all as the building is roomy, airy and centrally situated. A stock of dry goods will be added in a few days and the "Canadian" can buy himself and give his red ribbon.

CHILDREN'S DAY.

Exercises at the First Presbyterian Church.

The day proved to be one of those lovely periods of glorious sunshine for which the month of June is noted in Oregon.

The program devised and arranged by Dr. Worden of Philadelphia, was one of true christian patriotism, and fidelity to the church of Christ.

In accordance with this spirit, the floral committee of the Y. P. S. of C. E. assisted by some of the other members of the society, decorated the auditorium of the church, most beautifully with large and small flags, bunting and vining festoons. The bouquets of lovely and delicate flowers that everywhere graced the scene and breathed their sweet fragrance on the fresh morning air, with the bright faced and happy children on every hand, made us remember the church of God filled with those who love to gather there, in the very gate of heaven.

The infant class gave a very pretty exercise, each one making a neat little address, then raised upon a wand a golden letter; when the sentence was completed, it said: "Feed My Lambs."

The intermediate classes gave an exercise with flags, consisting of the stars and stripes with the "Banner of the Cross" above them. These were very beautiful exercises and were also well rendered.

The committee on program arrangements did their work well in having the children well represented in the work. The duct by Lelia Westfall and Pauline Adams, was a beautiful piece, and was well rendered; also the recitation by Lillian Beattie was very appropriate and nicely delivered.

Superintendent Dalgleish certainly deserves great credit for the generalship he has manifested in the management of the whole service and we sincerely hope that he will continue the good work of using the young people and children in the service of the church.
