Rev. W. V. McGee, pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian church at Albany, preached in this city Sunday morning.
Mrs. A. E. Davis went up to Waterloo last Monday, and has taken charge of the branch confectionary store they have opened at that place.
Rev. M. C. Aldridge, of Stayton, was visiting in the city Wednesday and Thursday. He was enroute to Sodaville to assist at the camp meeting.

Next Sunday a new time table will go into effect on the Southern Pacific main line. It is reported that this change will make the afternoon train at this place about 30 minutes later.
The new buckboard that was put up by Mr. Body and Mayer Bros., for Messrs. Westfall & Umbrey, to be used on the Sweet Home stage line, is completed and will be put on the road in a few days.
G. H. Coshaw, assignee of the estate of E. N. Thompson received orders from the court Tuesday to close the store, and receive no money or dispose of no goods, until further orders from the court.—Brownsville Times.
T. B. Kay, representing the Salem woolen mills, bought about 24,000 pounds of wool from growers in Ashland precinct on Monday, at a price ranging from eight to eight and a quarter cents per pound.—Ashland Tidings.
Mrs. H. Y. Kirkpatrick and little daughter and son, Miss Kathrine and Master Hugh, and Miss Fannie Griggs left last Tuesday morning for Portland, where they will visit Mrs. Kirkpatrick's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Ralston, a couple of weeks.
George E. Chamberlain was appointed by the county court as administrator of the estate of Jemina Ralston, deceased, valued at $2000. The heirs are J. M. Ralston, C. H. Ralston, Eliza Roland, Harry Roland, Catherine Hamilton and Montgomery and Ethel Bond.—Oregonian.
Miss Mary Stewart Cundiff, of Albany, well known throughout the valley as an elocutionist of rare ability, will give a recital in Lebanon the second week in July under the auspices of the Y. P. S. C. E. of the Cumberland Presbyterian church. This promises to be a rare literary treat.
Mrs. G. W. Cruson and Miss D. Saltmarsh returned home yesterday from Oregon City, where they were attending the W. R. C. convention. Mrs. Cruson was honored with the election of junior vice-president for the ensuing year. Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Hyde are expected home to day. Mrs. Cruson reported a delightful trip and a good meeting.
Last Monday, Mr. W. Smith, from across the river, came before Justice Lovelee and plead guilty to the charge of disturbing the meeting at Fern Ridge, on June 9. There had been no charge sworn out against him, but he knew he had done wrong, and came up like a man before the justice and paid his fine.

Hiram Baker buys all kinds of furs.
Mayer & Kimbrough wants you produce.
Old papers for sale here at five cents per dozen.
Chandler does his own work and works cheap.
Miss Dumond is selling millinery at hard time prices.
Mr. Burtenshaw is troubled with a carbuncle on his left hand.
If you want to buy property call on or write Peterson & Andrews.
You can get 8 loaves of bread at Mayer & Kimbrough for 25 cts.
J. F. Hyde returned home Wednesday from the G. A. R. encampment at Oregon City.
Pugh & Munsey want your produce and will pay you the highest price paid.
Miss Libbie Carothers has gone to Dayton, Washington, to spend her summer vacation.
Pugh & Munsey are always ahead on fresh groceries at prices as low as the lowest.
When you want to buy a suit of clothing you will save money by getting it at Bach's.
All knowing themselves indebted to me will please call and settle at once.
M. A. MILLER.

Pugh & Munsey have just received a large invoice of ladies' children's and men's shoes. See them and you will buy them.
After June 1, Miss Dumond will sell all millinery goods at cost. Stock perfectly new and the latest, call and be convinced.
C. Neilson's gang of carpenters finished the two stock yard pens last Saturday at this place. The S. P. company have built them on the new plan, and they are good ones.
Mrs. John Read presented this office last Monday evening with a very choice and elegant bouquet, composed of roses and heliotrope. Thank you, Mrs. Read.
Master Charlie Beattie found a music holder the day after the fraternal picnic that belong to some of the bands. The owner can have same by describing property, telling where it was supposed to be lost, and paying for this notice.
I will have some Cotswold sheep; both sexes, in Lebanon, Friday, June 21, which I will offer for sale. I would like for all sheep men to call and see this fine breed of sheep. I will also have a few fox hounds for sale. W. G. Brown.
The new electric light plant at Waterloo will have a capacity of 400 incandescent lights. The mill will require 100 lights, the others will be used in the city. Among other things the camp meeting ground will be lighted. Waterloo is the smallest city in the state using electric lights.
Hats, hats, hats, when in need of a hat don't fail to look at those in the Racket store, straw hats 5c, 20c, and 25c. Wool hats 30c, 45c, and 50c. Cowboy hats 75c, and $1.50. Fur hats $1, $1.25 and first grade $1.75. New chollies, fine figured lawn and dress veiling at prices away below competition. Great bargains in white dress goods from 5c up. Outing flannel, 29 yds. for $1. Baby's lace caps 25c, 25c, and 35 cents.

Dr. Booth, assisted by Dr. Gibson, tapped the left lung of Harry Watkins of Sweet Home, last week, and took out a gallon of serum fluid. The operation was performed without the loss of any blood. The operation was successful and the patient is now rapidly improving. Dr. Booth is a great favorite in that vicinity for his skill and kind attention to rich and poor alike.
Rev. N. J. Bryans and wife, the evangelists, pitched their tabernacle in the eastern part of the city across the canal, opposite "Brick" Hardin's residence, where they have commenced a series of revival meetings. It will be remembered that Bryans and his wife conducted a similar meeting here about two years ago; at which time many were converted. Their friends are glad to see them back again, and hope that much good may result from their labors.
Attorney S. M. Garland and Prof. J. B. Marks on Monday last visited Independence, Monmouth and Dallas, on their wheels and returned on Tuesday, after a pleasant trip. Mr. Garland went to attend to some law business at Dallas, and Mr. Marks accompanied him for pleasure. They report that the towns visited to not compare with Lebanon in general appearance. They averaged eight miles an hour without any inconvenience.
Ed Kellenberger has sold his butcher business, including most of the shop fixtures, all of his beef cattle, new wagon, etc., to Messrs. J. Buhl, and M. Welsner; also leased his slaughter pen for two years. Messrs. Buhl & Welsner had charge of this shop for a year not long ago, besides both having worked there, off and on, for a number of years; and it is unnecessary for us to add that they will keep the reputation up to the high standard it now has; or say they are first-class butchers and know the business.

L. L. Mullt is visiting friends in Salem.
Sherman Wallace was at Knox Butte Sunday.
Miss Blanch Warner is clerking in Hiram Baker's store.
"Smashers prices." See new goods at W. E. Chandlers.
Smith has just added fifty new books to his circulating library.
We are informed that there is to be a wedding at Waterloo Sunday.
George Rice represents some of the best insurance companies in the world.
A large number of our citizens attended the Brownsville picnic yesterday.
Hop men, have a talk with W. E. Chandler. Work and prices guaranteed.
George Rice writes all kinds of insurance, and solicits a share of your patronage.
Wanted at the Lebanon art gallery, hay, oats or wheat, in exchange for photographs.
Messrs. C. A. Harden and son, Attorney W. M. Brown and J. Sharp left yesterday for a week's outing at Fish Lake.
Mrs. J. S. Courtney expects to return to her home at McCoy today. Miss Hattie Swan will accompany her home.

Carpets, carpets, carpets. Matting, matting, matting. Buy of the Albany Furniture Co. Baltimore Block. Albany, Oregon.
These hard times we want to save all we can, but of course we have to eat, still you will save money by getting your groceries at S. P. Bach's.
The little boy's coat that Ed Guy found between Lebanon and Sodaville some weeks ago, is here still unclaimed. We wish the owner would call and get it.
Fourth of July will be celebration in Waterloo by a street parade, band music, speeches, fireworks, and a grand ball. Those who desire a horse race, can bring their work horses. Baseball will be indulged in.
Commencement exercises at the Corvallis agricultural college begin tomorrow. State Superintendent Irwin preaches the baccalaureate sermon next Sunday. Hon. H. B. Miller delivers the address to the graduating class Wednesday.
Moss Walker and Ebert Thompson drove to Sodaville last Tuesday evening with four of Lebanon's charming young ladies and treated them to the soda-water. They were Misses Lela Westfall, Pauline Adams, Pet Smith and Minnie Thompson.
The music department of the Academy will give a free public recital tomorrow (Saturday) evening. This will be the last exercise of the present term and will no doubt be one of the best. All who are interested in, and enjoy good music, will do well to hear it.
An exchange says a swindler is abroad in the land, offering a box containing thirty-six pieces of soap for $1, and he gives a prize of a rubber door mat with initials of the purchaser upon it. He delivers the soap, which is a fraud, and promises to deliver the mat as soon as it is manufactured with the owner's name on, collects the dollar, and vanishes to be seen no more.

C. H. Vehrs, proprietor of the Sodaville creamery, shipped out of Lebanon this week about 1000 pounds of butter. He has been shipping nearly that amount every week, for some time. The butter from the Sodaville creamery is first-class, and is giving good satisfaction. Mr. Vehrs pays out considerable money among the farmers in his neighborhood, a fact that is appreciated by all of them.
While on one of his customary drunks last Saturday evening, A. F. Stowe, the lawyer, was in the saloon of Williams Bros., in Albany, where he was ejected by Henry Williams. He sought to get even by throwing stones at the building, when he was whipped in a very live manner by Mr. Williams, and his face looked as if he had been in an engagement. Marshal Lee was near by and arrested Williams, who appeared before Recorder Henton and paid a fine of $5 and costs.
The large barn of Worth Huston, between Tangent and this city was entirely consumed by fire last Saturday night. At the time there was only one horse in the barn and it was gotten out with one or two other things. Nearly all of the contents, consisting of hay, hocks, harnesses, feed machinery, etc., were turned. The loss is about $2,000, on which there was insurance in the Sun of London, for $900 on the barn and $350 on the contents.
In last week's Brownsville Times, some one signing himself "Subscriber" writes G. M. Westfall up, for charging him fifty cents for feeding his horse on the day of the fraternal picnic. Any one that knows any thing, and has been around any at all, knows it is the custom on gale days and the Fourth of July to charge that price. It is a low, sneaking, cowardly act, for a man to attack another one, as "Subscriber" did Mr. Westfall, under a non de plumn. Why didn't you sign your name like a man?

IN MEMORY.

Minerva Follis was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gore. She was born December 13, 1851, just north of Lebanon on what is known as the Gore farm, which was her home during her school years and until she was married to Mr. Follis, her now bereaved husband, July 19, 1872 in the twenty-first year of her age. Since her marriage, she and her husband have always had their home in Lebanon. Having always lived in the immediate vicinity where she was born, she was well known to the people generally.
About nine years ago she professed religion while attending a revival meeting at the Academy and at once united with the M. E. church. As a woman, she was quiet and unassuming, but ever ready to wait on the sick and minister to the bereaved. To the church in all departments she was greatly attached and was always in her place at every service. She was for years a teacher in the Sunday school in which capacity she was an example of faithfulness. Her class all loved her and are much saddened to know she will no more meet with them in the Sunday school. She was equally faithful in her attendance upon the other services of the church, such as public preaching, prayer and classmeeting, and the devotional meetings of the league. Christ was to her a savior, salvation an experience, and as a result she was much interested in the church and faithful to attend upon the ministry of the word.
Her affliction for the last few years was an ever increasing assurance of rapidly approaching death unless prevented by surgical skill. At last the crisis came when by a surgical operation there was a small chance for living, but without it, none. The one chance for life was seized upon and the operation performed, but the malady had run so far that it baffled every effort and defied all skill. She died last Saturday evening the 15th inst., and her funeral services were conducted by the pastor at M. E. church at one o'clock last Monday, which were attended by a very large congregation; most of whom followed her remains to their resting place in the Masonic cemetery.
Flowers in great abundance of all kinds, and worked into many beautiful designs, were presented as a feeble token of the esteem which the contributors had for the deceased.
Mrs. Follis was an honest and earnest christian woman whose departure is sadly felt by the neighbors, the church and the many friends who knew and honored her.
Her death was that of the righteous because she lived such a life.
