Miss Blanch Warner is filling Asa Baker's position in his father's store while he is in the mountains. Miss Eva Scott, of Albany, is in the city the guest of her cousins, Misses Lula and Lelia Westfall. Mrs. H. Wilkinson, of Albany, is in the city a few days, the guest of Miss Anna Dumond and her mother. W. E. Chandler has the contract to put in a fruit dryer for Mr. Stewart as soon as the building is completed. The bicycle track here is not much used now as the boys are putting in their days at various kinds of work. Newport is making great preparations to entertain the editors who hold their association there next Saturday. Peterson & O'Neill, proprietors of the excelsior factory shipped a car load of excelsior to Seattle last Tuesday. The adjourned term of circuit court presided over by Judge Hewitt, commenced its session Monday at Albany. We want wheat, oats, hay, wood etc., from our delinquent subscribers, at the EXPRESS office, but money if you have it. Miss Lena Neibert of Stayton is in the city visiting relatives and friends. Miss Neibert is a sister of Joseph and George Buhl. Rev. A. M. Williams filled Rev. McGee's pulpit in the Cumberland Presbyterian church at Albany last Sunday evening. W. O. Trine, formerly of this city, and W. M. Ray, of Woodburn, are to run a foot race in Albany, July 27, for $500 a side. Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Griggs drove out from Albany last Sunday and visited relatives in this city, returning Monday to their home. All persons knowing themselves indebted to me will please call by July 30, and settle up as I am going away and need my money. Mrs. George Rice. Jack Baiston is clerking in Read, Peacock & Co.'s store, in this city, in the absence of Mrs. Chandler, who is up in the mountains for a few weeks. Misses Anna Dumond and Ola Smith drove to Albany last Friday to witness the races and visit with friends. They returned Saturday, after a day. Married on July 13, 1895 at the residence of P. J. Plaster, an uncle of the bride's, in this city, Mr. Frank McMeekin and Miss Emma Scott, of Harriestown, by Justice Loveles. Mrs. A. W. Grubb and little son, Willie, left last Monday for their home at Winslow, Arizona, after a short visit with friends in this city. Mrs. Grubb is running a hotel at Winslow. Ed Aldrich and Misses Maud Aldrich, Lelia Westfall and Midge Marks left Wednesday morning for the mountains. They intend to stop a while at Upper Soda and then go on up to Fish Lake. Frank O'Neill has a force of men at work with teams and scrapers, building a grade for a switch from the railroad to the paper mill. He intends to have a part of it put in right away—if not all. Postmaster Charles Smith, and Depot Agent Fred U. Hickok, went to Albany last Monday evening and attended the working of the third degree in the K. of P. lodge at that city. They had a good time. Numerous teams are constantly passing through the city, going to the mountains. Soda Springs and Fish Lake have many visitors who spend a pleasant vacation around these health giving mountain resorts.

These hard times we want to save all we can, but of course we have to eat, still you will save money by getting your groceries at S. P. Bach & Buhl's. Ladies if you are thinking of getting a pair of shoes or a new dress next week, you will want to know where to get the best for the least money. Mr. Baker always carries the best. LACE, LACE, lace. Just received a new and large supply of dress lace—coarse and fine—linen lace. Ladies shoes, coarse and fine; also, outing flannels and shirts at such prices that competition is not in it, at the Racket store. Asa Baker and J. B. Marks left Monday morning for Fish Lake on their bicycles. Reports came back that Asa rode through in a day, but that J. B. broke one of his pedals near Lower Soda, and had to stop over a day at that place. A man who acted very much as if he was crazy, visited the city last week, and caused several people to be a little frightened. He ate two hearty suppers at the hotel and went to bed several times in one night. He left the next morning. The recital given last Friday evening at the opera house by Miss Cundiff of Albany, was pronounced by all who heard it, as first class. Miss Cundiff is certainly a natural born elocutionist and impersonator. She was encored on all but one. Should she ever return to Lebanon, she will be greeted with a full house. Wednesday morning at five o'clock from the residence of Mrs. G. W. Warner, Misses Caille and Besale Warner, Hattie and Addie Simpson, Mattie Nixon and Mable Carson left for a two or three week's outing and a general jolly time, in the mountains near Lower Soda. Mr. McCurdy took them and their camping outfit up.

Mr. D. Andrews closed a deal yesterday for the Lebanon warehouse and has already taken charge of it. Mr. Andrews traded his brick building for it. He is a good man and we are glad to see him get it. The farmers will certainly be safe in dealing with him. The young people of the M. E. church held a lawn party last Saturday evening, which was a very pleasant affair, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Elkins. The Lebanon band furnished some excellent music, and everybody passed a pleasant hour in social conversation. The young ladies know how to make an evening pass pleasantly. The ice cream, cake and lemonade was delicious. The advance in leather has obliged manufacturers to make a corresponding advance in the price of shoes, with probably, the only exception of W. L. Douglas, who, notwithstanding the high price of leather, will continue at the old prices, and give a better shoe than ever before. The recent additions to his already large factory, makes his plant the largest in the world devoted to manufacturing an exclusive line of shoes. Mrs. Isaac Bruce died at her home Mount Tabor, East Portland, Wednesday, July 17, with heart trouble. Mrs. Bruce formerly lived near this city. Her husband was county treasurer of this county for two terms. Her maiden name was Manda Kelso, being a sister of Joseph Kelso, of this city. Her remains were brought up from Portland last evening and taken to the residence of J. G. Reed, and will be buried today in the Klum cemetery near Waterloo. Deputy Marshall Sinnott, who takes Humphrey's place while the latter is sick, re-arrested "Doc" Davenport this morning at his home, near this city, and took him to Albany. When Davenport was acquitted of the "Fresh Counterfeiting," he was re-arrested on suspicion of being implicated with the Jennings boys, but was released by Judge Bellinger without the formality of a bond. It seems that the authorities don't want Davenport to enjoy his summer vacation, without some assurance of his putting in an appearance next fall at the United States court, so a thousand dollar bond is required and he will languish in jail until the bond is given. The people of Montana may not have the culture of Bostonians, but they know how to appreciate a noble deed. The story comes, that there was a very cruel man, who beat his wife and his mule, alike, tying his wife to a staple in the wall, and biting his mule with barbed wire. The mule showed his appreciation of his new bit by kicking the man to death. When the neighbors took the body home, they found the wife chained to the house. The good people of Montana are collecting a fund sufficient to keep the mule in idleness and comfort the rest of his life, in consideration of his meritorious conduct in kicking his cruel master to death. Col. Jeff Meyers was up Tuesday. He stated to us that the state fair managers have concluded to offer a premium of $250 for the best exhibit by any county, barring Marion, at the fair, of grain, grasses, fruits, vegetables and minerals. This premium Linn county can easily win, if she will get a move on. Our county court and commissioners could well afford to take the matter in hand and collect the necessary material for the exhibit. Mr. Meyers informed us that the exhibit is to be taken care of so that it will become permanent and properly labeled, would be of lasting benefit. By all means let Linn county compete for and win the prize.—Solo Press.

The Ladies' Picnic. The ladies of Lebanon decided a few days ago to have a picnic at Waterloo, and no men should be present. Wednesday was the day, and early in the morning, teams began to start for the nestling little village in the foot hills, by the roaring Santiam. The picnic was given in honor of Mrs. C. H. Balfour, of Portland, who is here on a visit. From all reports, they certainly had a fine time; but we never saw a more lonely set of married men in our life, than here in Lebanon, and especially at dinner time. We know two men, who sent the marshal after their wives, and on questioning the ladies about why they had to be sent after, they said: "We were having such a good time, we forgot to come home." Some of the ladies make their brags that they never had such a fine time before, and claim it was because no men were present; but we have been informed (on the quite) that they talked about the men all day and wished they were there; vowing never to go off again without them. Another lady remarked to us that it was a regular "old hen convention." In the afternoon the ladies organized what they call "The Ladies Progressive Club," the object of which is to hold similar picnics every few weeks, but we know several men, here in Lebanon, whose aim will be to oppose the the "Progressive Club." From all reports, we learn that a delightful day was spent; all returning home late in the afternoon, after a day's rest from toiling house work. The ladies return many thanks to Mr. Thomas Kay for the kindness in showing them through the Waterloo Woolen Mills and etc. Those present were Mesdames Reed, Smith, Bach, Buhl, Purvis, Pugh, J. J. and T. J. Swan, Hyde, Bilyeu, Kirk, Baker, Roberts, Loveles, Foley, Aldrich, Montague, Bettie, Hansard, Garland, Ralston, Kirkpatrick, R. C. Miller, M. A. Miller, F. M.
