Any lady that can get to Soda-ville with a well filled basket will be entitled to membership and be given a royal welcome. Will start at 9 a. m. At the Pastor's Association held on Monday, it was decided to hold a mass meeting of all the churches on next Sunday evening, July 11, at the M. E. church. In regular order this meeting would have been held at the Baptist church but on account of Rev. Lamar's absence on that day, it was deemed impractical to hold it there. Last Monday the large engine at the paper mill was started up for the first time. This engine of 125 horse power, was put in three years ago, to be used in case the water failed to furnish sufficient power at any time. But Monday was the first time it had to be used, the river being low, the water-power was not sufficient to run the mill. Jos. Klum, of Waterloo, was arrested Saturday and taken before Justice Powell in the afternoon on the charge of killing China pheasants. He was fined $25 and costs, $37.50 in all, which was paid. It is reported that he sold them to Waterloo campers. It is a dangerous business to kill this kind of game, as the time is not up and the country is full of game watchers. Mr. E. Goan died Wednesday night at eleven o'clock. The deceased was born in Summerset county, Penn., Jan. 8, 1835, and has lived here for many years, where his many fine qualities had made for him a host of friends. He leaves four children and his widow. His funeral will be held at the residence this afternoon at two o'clock. The burial will take place at the Masonic cemetery. In the county clerk's office of Marion county Saturday, a hop contract between R. L. Swarts and Phil Neis & Co. was filed and recorded. The former agrees to deliver to the latter 200,000 pounds of his coming hop crop, the price to be paid therefore being fixed at ten cents. Mr. Swarts is to receive an advance of five cents per pound as picking money. The hops must be delivered by October 10. Ruff Hiatt and Ed Kellenberger returned from Quartzville Wednesday evening, where they had been a few days. Ruff says it is the finest mountain country he ever saw and a good road all the way. They came back with W. B. Lowler, superintendent of the Quartzville mines. Mr. Lawler says they intend spending $200,000 on the mines this summer opening them up. All the improvements are good and permanent and the prospects are good for a large growth this fall. Albany has the most lawyers it has ever had, and can make a showing in this respect that will compare with any city in Oregon for a like population. The list of those engaged in the business in this city is as follows, alphabetically arranged: Bilyeu, Blackburn, Bryant, Carl, Cannon, Dalrymple, Day, Elkins, Fliun, Galbraith, Hewitt, Hackleman, Kelley, Montanye, Newport, Powell, Somers, Stowe, Watson, Weatherford, Whitney, Wright, Wyatt and Young.—Ex. The Eugene Register says that "Whiskers has decided to quit foot racing—he's joined a thrashing crew and will earn the necessary wherewithal with which to purchase the wants of the inner man by the sweat of his brow." Though Mr. Trine has won a good many foot races the decision is a good one. The business is a mighty poor one to make a living at. To make foot racing a success a man has to go under assumed names and resort to all kinds of subterfuges. Mr. Trine though has probably always run on square.—Ex. Mr. William Miller died suddenly at the home of his son-in-law, W. C. Winkley last Monday evening. Mr. Miller had just arrived in Lebanon that morning on a visit to his daughter and late in the afternoon was taken suddenly ill. Dr. Foley was called and pronounced it heart trouble; gave some medicine and left him feeling much better; but in a few hours he had another spell and died before the doctor reached his bedside. The remains were shipped back to his home in Creswell, Lane county, on Tuesday for burial. He was a brother of Hon. I. D. Miller of this county. The Salem concert party were inadvertently put to much annoyance Wednesday evening. Our ordinances require a license for such entertainments, but the concert manager thought the rent for the hall included license fee. In the midst of the program the entertainment was stopped by the marshal and the manager put under cash bonds to appear before the Recorder. When the facts were made known, the manager was released upon payment of the license. It is an easy matter for the marshal to notify all such persons of the license law and thus save much annoyance to respectable people.

Dr. Leroy Lewis, of Dayton, Oregon, has decided to locate in our city and practice his profession, dentistry. The doctor is a graduate of the American College of Dental Surgery of Chicago, and comes here well recommended. His office is upstairs in Mrs. F. M. Millers store building. The Dayton Herald says: "Dr. Leroy Lewis will take his departure next week for Lebanon, Linn county, where he will locate in the practice of dentistry. We congratulate the residence of that thriving little city and vicinity in having one who is so thoroughly master of his profession as is Dr. Lewis, located in their city." The postal laws of the United States provide that postmasters are strictly forbidden to place or permit to be placed upon the walls, or otherwise for public exhibition, within the postoffice or lobby thereto, or on any of the postoffice premises, business cards, circulars, placards, handbills, or advertisements of private business; and, also, pictures, cartoons, placards, handbills or other documents or advertisements of a political character. All such notices are promptly removed when found in the lobby to the offices. The public should take notice of this fact. The proper place to advertise is in the local newspapers.—Democrat. Last Saturday evening a supper consisting of all the edibles imaginable, was given by Mr. Lindsay, the genial and popular landlord of the City Hotel, in honor of Dr. S. Dudley who departed last Monday morning for Silverton, thence to Weston, and eventually to California, the land of sunshine and flowers. Dr. Dudley resided at Lebanon for twelve years, during which time he acquired a large practice in his profession and made numerous friends, who to say the least, will miss his manly form, smiling countenance, and sage counsel. As was truthfully said by one among the many speakers of Saturday evening, the doctor left this city without an enemy. All join with us in wishing success to crown all his efforts in the future. Those present were: M. A. Miller, C. H. Ralston, Charles A. Smith, George W. Rice, M. Westfall, W. H. Booth, Jack Ralston, Patsy Martio, Johnny McGowan, Jack Monnigan, Frank Miller, W. J. Guy, S. P. Bach, Frank Skipworth, Joel Meyer and William Elkins. Seeking Recreation. Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Gile, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Dickey, Miss Mina Huebel, Miss Lona White, Miss Oskle Matthews, Messrs. Luke L. Lynn, J. M. Woodruff and Walter Jenks, comprising the Salem ladies' quartette and the Arion male quartette, left yesterday for Clear lake, where they will enjoy two or three weeks in fishing and hunting and mountain climbing. They went via Mehama, thence to Lebanon and Waterloo, where they will give concert. This is a musical organization of high class and the several audiences will be highly pleased.—Salem Statesman. The above ladies and gentlemen gave their entertainment, as advertised, last Wednesday evening to an appreciative but small audience, at the opera house in this city. It was as good a musical entertainment as has been in Lebanon for some time. If they should decide to favor us with another on their return, they will be greeted with a full house, and receive all due courtesy. Letter List. Following is the list of letters remaining unclaimed for in the Lebanon postoffice for the month ending July 30, 1896: Mrs. Sallie Blaylock, Chas T Broum, Col B S Bigbee, John M Cook, J L Gilbert, 2 S L Goan, L A Hindman, Geo Howe, L B Knox, Mrs William Lee, D W Milker, Mrs E McKesson, Pev.
