Dr. Cheade and wife returned from Portland Wednesday evening. They moved into their new residence on Main street, yesterday.
Miss Lalla Purdy who has been spending a few weeks in this city left for her home in Corvallis, Monday.
Miss Purdy made a number of warm friends here.
Miss Ethel Bixby, who has been spending a few weeks with the family of her uncle, Rev. J. H. Beattie, left Wednesday morning for her home in Oregon City.
Rev. H. P. Webb, for three years pastor of the M. E. church of Albany, and quite well and favorably known at this place, died in Willsburg, Oregon, August 25.
Mr. J. B. Smith brought us a sample this week of some very fine plums of the Golden Drip variety, raised at his home on Bridge avenue. They measured seven and a quarter inches in circumference.
G. F. Knowles, proprietor of the Racket store, has rented the Montague store room by the postoffice, where he will move his goods, and has rented R. C. Miller's residence, on Main street where he will move his family.
Mr. Isaac Dickinson, of Bridgewater, S. Dakota, an old friend of G. F. Knowles arrived in the city last week. He was so favorably impressed with this valley, that he decided to locate, and has leased A. Umphrey's ranch for the coming year.
Mr. E. Keebler brought us in a bushel of the finest peaches last Saturday we ever saw; southern Oregon and California not excepted. For taste and flavor, they could not be beat. Mr. Keebler is one of the most prosperous farmers in the county.
The horsemen and others of Albany are arranging for three days races at the fair grounds, September 12, 13 and 14. This will be just before the state fair, and the fast horses assembled at Portland and Salem will be there. It promises to an interesting meeting.
The barn on the Unger place near Sweet Home was burned about the first of the month. Unger had a policy in the Liverpool, London & Globe Insurance company for $500. A check was received yesterday by Mr. Unger for $457.50, the amount agreed upon in settlement. The promptness of the company is gratifying to Mr. Unger, who will find $457.50 quite a good thing in this time.

Roads are dusty.
Hop picking begins Monday.
Go to Hiram Baker for your wall paper.
For pure linseed oil, call on M. A. Miller.
Mr. Ansgorie's new house is nearly completed.

A fire was discovered on the roof of one of Mr. Montague's buildings yesterday. The alarm was given and the boys responded, but a few buckets of water soon extinguished the flames. The damage was small.
Bishop Wilson of the M. E. Church South, from Baltimore, on his way to attend the annual conference at Oakland, preached to a large audience in the church of that denomination here Tuesday evening. As the Democrat remarked in regard to his sermon in Albany Sunday, "he did not talk about bicycles, but preached a plain, practical sermon."
Threshing in this vicinity is almost at an end, and several of the crews are already laying up their machines. The harvest in all has been the best we have ever witnessed in Oregon. Hay hauling and grain hauling now occupy the farmers' time. The large yield and fair prices indicated give a new impetus to rustic toil, and all things of the farm and road betoken better times.
The entertainment, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," given at the Opera house by local talent, under the direction of Will C. Aylsworth last Saturday evening was meritorious in every respect, and reflects credit on the talent of the city and its popular management. A fair house was well pleased, and in answer to the general wish, the entertainment will be repeated this Friday evening. We bespeak a good house.
J. C. Blythe brought a specimen of his hope to this office yesterday which beat any in size, that we have ever saw; measuring four and a quarter inches in length; well filled and solid. We notice some of our exchanges bragging over three inch hops, but four and a quarter inch hops is something everybody has not heard of before. Mr. Blythe has a fine young yard which promises a good yield this year. He will commence picking tomorrow.

The dry weather is injuring the potato crop.
Mr. Heeter Bland and family contemplate a weeks visit to the ocean.
Albert Drum, of Colorado, and brother, are guests at the St. Charles.
Ed Kellenberger, Vein Budget, J. B. Thompson and Will Pervis drove to Brownsville Wednesday evening.
Mr. Bush, Salem's great banker, was in the city Saturday. He had been to Waterloo with his daughter.

Money to loan. A limited amount of money to loan on good farm security. Call upon or write to S. N. Steele & Co., Albany, Oregon.
Rev. W. S. Molloy and wife, of this city, and Mr. Doughton, of Spicer, are attending conference of the M. E. Church South at Oakland, this week.
Harry Wilson has applied for a patent on a hop press of his own invention that will eclipse anything now in use. He went to Albany on Wednesday's local for the purpose of making patterns for use in casting the iron portions of his press. He expects to have one of these machines ready for work some time this week.—Harrisburg Review.
Saturday afternoon about thirty ladies gathered at the residence of Dr. Booth, and with Mrs. John Reed at the head, armed with a whip, started in a body to the residence of Mrs. F. M. Miller and took possession, it being her fiftieth birthday. After an hour spent in social conversation, all departed wishing their host many happy returns of the day.
Mr. Tom Atteridge and Mr. Tom Hazen were brought before Justice Lovelee on Wednesday and pleaded guilty to failing to properly bury a dead horse that had been left near Mr. John Roberts place. It seems that there was no intention of violating the law and the parties were released with a small fine, agreeing to at once bury the animal. Mr. Roberts' house was badly scented by the carcass.
Charles Harmon, of Roseburg, a brother of A. Harmon, formerly of Albany, has a patent for an improved stove oven. The patent is for a rotary bottom to the oven so arranged that the cook can, by the turn of a thumb screw on the outside turn a loaf, pie or roast in the oven without taking them out as in the old way. Also if the bottom of the oven becomes too hot, the cook can by the turn of a thumb screw elevate the loaf so as to prevent burning or scorching.—Ex.
The order of Independent Foresters founded in Newark, N. J., in 1874, and claiming to be the best fraternal benefit society in the world, is forming a court in Lebanon. All wishing to take advantage of cheap rates should send in their names immediately to Dr. H. L. Parish, of this city; or C. G. Burkhardt, of Albany. The order has 5,000 members in California, and large courts in Portland and Salem. Wm. Sanderson, Supt., Portland, Or.
The trusts are beginning to bail. The whisky trust has been ordered sold by courts. The cordage trust is broken up and now we are making war upon the thread trust. From now on we will sell first grade six cord thread for 4c a spool, seven for 25c. Three cord, two for 5c. At the Racket store. We also have overalls for 45, 50 and 65c. Engineer's overalls 45, 65 and 90. Men's Jean pants 80c. Ladies' shoes from $1.10 to $2.75. Men's wool hats 30 to 80c. Fur hats $1 to $1.75. Cowboy hats 75c and $1.50.
Several young people in this vicinity are preparing to enter school this fall throughout the state. As before quite a few from Lebanon will attend the Albany college. This popular faculty deserve credit for placing the institution, of which Llan county is justly proud as her leading institution of learning, on a firm college basis. The course in many respects is on a par with eastern institutions. The conservatory of music, recently organized under Prof. Z. W. Parvin, assisted by Misses Hela Gilbert and Maggie Alderson, will be the best equipped conservatory in Oregon.
The evangelistic meetings conducted by Rev. E. R. Ross of the M. E. church South in this city closed last Sunday evening. For two weeks, this bright consecrated man has preached twice a day to fair audiences. There is a power with him that has never been manifest in any other evangelist who has visited and preached here. He gave long discourses in his own peculiar tongue and style and with a power that held his audience bound to his theme with eagerness to hear every word. While the results of this meeting do not look large to the visible world, we will guarantee that there has been good accomplished by this series of meetings. Rev. Ross has made many warm and sincere friends among the citizens of this community, and the members of all the churches; he will receive a true and royal welcome from these people if ever he finds time to again sojourn in our city. He left Monday for Crabtree where he will spend a week, then go to Corvallis. He will work during the coming winter in Oregon.
