Marks, to San Rafael where her son-in-law, Rev. Eccleston, formerly of Lebanon, will graduate from the seminary, and where, it is reported, her daughter, Winnie, will be married.

Mr. Ned Carleton has been elected secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Albany. Ned is a Lebanon boy and his many friends here congratulate him. The Y. M. C. A. in Albany is an important institution and the secretaryship is a position that calls for intelligence and energy and these characteristics are indeed factors in Ned's make-up.

If the local columns of the EXPRESS are a little short of news this week our readers will please excuse it as this has been house-cleaning week at our ranch and we have been put on half-ration, had to sleep on the floor, take care of a couple of cross babies, an irritated wife to contend with, attend to political affairs, besides a dozen other things we won't mention, but we think we will pull through and the EXPRESS be out on time next week, and we hope, have more news in it.

Death has entered in our pathway and darkened another home. Miss Josie E. Charlton died at her home four miles south of Seio, April 12, 1896, of quick consumption. She was the beloved daughter of A. H. and Louise J. Charlton, who have the sympathy of the community in their great loss. She was taken sick about six weeks ago with la grippe. Everything in medical aid was done for her. Drs. Foley and Maston attended her. She was just entering in the prime of happy life being 18 years, 10 months, and 18 days at the time of her death. She will be missed by her many friends for she was loved by all who knew her.

DROWNED AT BROWNSVILLE.

Chester Curtis, a 7 Year Old Boy is Swept Out of Sight.

Last Sunday, about 5 P. M., Chester Curtis, a 7-year-old son of James Curtis, formerly of Harrisburg, but now of this place, fell off a bank into the Calapooia river, about one-fourth mile above Brownsville. He floated on the surface of the water for about 250 yards with the swift current, until he came to a drift in the river, where he was drawn below the surface, and has never been seen since, though search was made at once and is now being prosecuted. Several boys of Curtis' age were with him, but were powerless to render aid, as the river here is quite swift and high water is prevailing. The outcries of the boys however, brought several men to the scene, while one, O. C. Chesney, who had to run quite a long distance, rushed into the river, and got within twenty feet of the boy just as the boy reached the drift and was drawn under. Had he been a few moments earlier, he would have saved the lad.

Contemplated Removal to Albany.

J. C. Goodale, of the Coburg sawmill is contemplating removing his plant to Albany. Mr. Goodale is now in Portland to consult with Mr. A. B. Hammond, of the O. C. & E. Company, in regard to freight rates, and if satisfactory rates can be obtained for shipping saw logs and the products of the mill over that company's line the change will be made. If Mr. Goodale decides to change his location to Albany, the plant will be moved some time this summer. The company now has quite a lot of logs on hand which will be sawed into lumber first. If the move is made the Goodale lumber yard in this city will be discontinued. Mr. Goodale's object in moving his mill to Albany is to get a more central location for his trade and to secure cheaper rates. There is no means of holding logs in the river at Albany and Mr. Goodale expects to have his logs transported to the mill by means of the O. C. & E.'s line of railway, which extends up into the Cascade mountains east of Albany. If this project is carried out it will shut off a large portion of the logging on the Mohawk and the McKenzie, in this county. The removal of the sawmill from Coburg to Linn county will be a loss which Eugene and Lane county can ill afford. The annual expenditures of the company, besides money paid out for freight shipments, is about $25,000. The major part of this sum comes to this city, while Coburg receives a good portion of it.—Guard.

County Division Scheme.

There is a move on foot in the vicinity of Buena Vista to have a slice of Polk county cut off and annexed to Benton. The people who reside about Buena Vista state that in order to get to the county seat, Dallas, they are obliged to go in a round-about way, that takes time and makes the expense much greater than if they could take the boat and run direct to Corvallis, Dallas, and the people thereabouts are anxious for this to be done. The reason is that Independence is striving to take the county seat from Dallas. The Corvallis Times says that as the Buena Vista people would like to "do" Independence, they fall in nicely with Dallas. If they succeed in bringing the thing to a successful termination at the next meeting of the legislature, Dallas will be left with the balance of power, and the people of Buena Vista will have what they desire. Benton also would be the richer by having acquired an addition of good farming land.

THE POPULIST RALLY.

The populists had an enthusiastic meeting Tuesday night at the Band hall, presided over by D. W. Hardin. Mr. Geo. Barton, the nominee for county judge, made an interesting and lively talk. He is quite a good speaker. He is a man of about 40 years, cleanly shaven and tastefully dressed as shown by his appearance. In fact, at first glance, he impresses you with the idea that he is a shrewd, bright stock-broker rather than a farmer. His speech indicated many hours of diligent search over county records and his array of figures, if they are correct, show a very great and needless expenditure of money. He gives the county administration some hard licks, in a gentlemanly manner, and says he will swear to the correctness of his figures. We took many of them down and will give them to the public when our space permits, not as our figures but as the figures of the populist candidates. If the figures are wrong, we will gladly publish the corrected statements. Mr. Barton has not a very high opinion of lawyers, but thinks he is lawyer enough to preside over the county court, attend to the probate of wills and hand out equal justice to all.

Mr. J. F. Smith, the candidate for legislature, followed Mr. Barton and gave an interesting talk in accordance with the line of argument laid down by him. Weaver, in his last Albany speech, he predicted the immediate collapse of the democratic party in national affairs, and the vigorous growth and early victory of the populist party, which would ere long sweep the country. He wanted all free silver men to come to his party, as their only salvation. He proved, to his own satisfaction, the utter worthlessness of both the republican and democratic parties. In state politics, he scored the last legislature and indignantly denied that the populists had any hand in its extravagance. He said that Mr. Somers, the republican nominee, had charged the populist members with equal responsibility for all these crimes and misdemeanors. He admitted that Somers was right as far as he went, but said that Somers was either ignorant himself, or was trying to deceive the people, and, in fact, the speaker was suffering for the chance to meet Mr. Somers on the stump and "call him down."

Mr. Somers, some time ago, presented figures showing the populist members had voted practically for greater appropriations than the republicans, on Mr. Smith claimed that, while this was true, only one populist voted for the general appropriation bill, which he claimed, had all these "steals" in it, and that this unregenerate fellow was a lawyer and hence nothing better could be expected of him. He claimed the republican nominees wanted to vote for Dolph for senator. He gave Senator Dawson a link or two, but complimented Senator Johnson. Mr. Smith is a school teacher by profession, and is a man of much intelligence and a ready and interesting talker. We had a pleasant call from these gentlemen and were entertained with their bright and brilliant talk. They intend to make a thorough canvass and enlighten the people on the shortcomings of the old parties.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one drugged disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J.
