THE BEST SPRING MEDICINE

Is SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR—don't forget to take it. The Liver gets sluggish during the Winter, just like all nature, and the system becomes choked up by the accumulated waste, which brings on Malaria, Fever and Ague and Rheumatism. You want to wake up your Liver now, but be sure you take SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR to do it. It also regulates the Liver—keeps it properly at work, when your system will be free from poison and the whole body invigorated. You get THE BEST BLOOD when your system is in A1 condition, and that will only be when the Liver is kept active. Try a Liver Remedy once and note the difference. But take only SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR—it is SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR which makes the difference. Take it in powder or in liquid already prepared, or make a tea of the powder, but take SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR. You'll find the RED Z on every package. Look for it.

Cultivated strawberries are retailing in Eugene at 8¢ eta. a box, says the Guard.

Citizens of Cottage Grove have begun active work on the Bohemia wagon road.

Walter Denny, an Ashland boy, expects to be a fireman on the new battleship Oregon.

The Eugene races have been postponed to the week beginning May 23, a week later than the schedule.

Astoria Scandinavians will celebrate on May 16th the 83d anniversary of the union of Norway and Sweden.

The La Grande Bicycling Club has decided to build a bicycle track one-third of a mile in length, to cost $500.

John Roth, of The Dalles has announced that he will run as an independent candidate for sheriff in Wasco county.

J. Conic, of Newberg, has sent East for a quantity of peppermint roots and will experiment with the peppermint plant in Oregon soil.

Rev. William Steel, of Quincy, Mass., who has accepted a call of the First Presbyterian church, of Salem, will be at his post May 24.

Subscriptions are being asked in the upper Rogue river valley for helping improve the road from the summit of the Cascades to Crater lake.

The Water, Light & Power Company of Grants Pass, received last week an 8,000-pound turbine wheel, which gives the company 150 horse power, instead of 60.

A big union picnic of all lodges will be held at Jefferson on June 18 and 19. It is proposed to make this the biggest event of the kind ever held there.

Lane county warrants are now in demand. Local capitalists are paying 1 per cent premium for them. This has happened occasionally for the last three years.

J. R. Cartwright upon examining his hops found them to be literally covered with lice. So much damp weather is given as the cause.—Harrisburg Review.

An effort Thursday to secure the fusion of democrats and populists in Clatsop county failed, and the democrats say they will stand by their ticket says the Astorian.

The city water, at Forest Grove, as soon as it is drawn from a faucet begins to grow white and soon becomes quite chalky in color, but soon becomes clear due to air bubbles in it.

The report of the treasurer of The Dalles shows a total cash balance on hand of $5729.55. Of this amount $2233.85 was received during the month, principally from city taxes.

Salem will soon have a woman attorney-at-law, in the person of Mrs. England. Mrs. England is well along in the course and will probably become a member of the bar within another year.

The trapdoor in an Astoria street car was carelessly left open one day last week, and Mrs. J. P. Swenson, carrying a little child in her arms boarded the car. She stepped into the opening, injuring herself quite severely.

An educational convention will meet in Eugene Friday and Saturday June 19 and 20, under the auspices of the University of Oregon. Superintendent Irwin will act as chairman, and there will be lectures upon and discussions of interesting educational topics.

The Times-Montaineer says the river at The Dalles Wednesday was nearly 15 feet above zero, and that very high water may be expected, because of the lateness of the season, and the amount of snow in the mountains, but there is no fear of anything like the flood of 1884.

Arrangements are being made to repair the Tillamook-Forest Grove telegraph line as soon as the weather will permit and get it ready for business. The line will be moved in some places and made to follow the road at all points, where it can be more easily watched and readily repaired.

H. E. Hawthorn, of The Dalles, who has been separated from his wife for about a year, went to her house Thursday and told her he was going to commit suicide. He then drank from a bottle a dark colored liquid, and became very sick. The drug he had taken was blue vitriol, and merely acted as an emetic.

R. C. Kiger, Benton county's stock inspector, is urging upon sheepraisers the necessity of clipping sheep in order to eradicate scab. There are several bands in Benton yet affected with the scab, and these Mr. Kiger wants dipped a few times immediately after shearing. If this matter is given proper attention now he says the disease can be entirely wiped out.

The Sisters of the Holy Name of Portland were in Astoria Tuesday and completed their purchase of the residence of Judge Taylor, on Franklin Avenue, for a site for a seminary. It is anticipated that work will commence on the school building this summer, and Astoria is assured of another enterprise which will be an active factor in its future development, says the Astorian.

John Stewart will ship a trainload of cattle from Eugene sometime between the first and the middle of June. There are 1000 of the cattle, and they will be shipped to Joseph Ranch, at Northfield, Minn. They are 1, 2 and 3-year-old steers, and the prices paid for them by Mr. Stewart was $8, $13 and $17 per head. The cattle will probably be used in supplying the Northwestern Indian reservation.

Ben Brown, of Burns, Oregon, made the lowest bid in competition with Missouri mules to furnish the government with army mules for the department of the Columbia, says the La Grande Chronicle. He has delivered 30 mules to the Vancouver barracks for inspection, which he feels sure will be accepted. Harney county he says, contains as large herds of fine mules as can be found anywhere.

Salem merchants may or may not care for the patronage of the big Santiam country, but just as long as they remain inactive to the need of railway connections with this vast and growing territory, Albany merchants will continue to chuckle on their good fortune. It is only a few minutes by rail to Albany and the business men of that city are not indifferent to the volume of trade, much of which belongs in Marion county. A little of the right kind of hustling would secure to Salem a direct railroad line into a territory that is growing in richness every day.—Stayton Mail.

Salem will have a gorgeous fete May 15, to celebrate the completion of its new woolen mill. There will be a band concert and speeches by Hon. Claud Gatch, of Salem; Hon. J. K. Weatherford, of Albany; Hon. Charles B. Montague, of Lebanon; I. on. W. L. Toole, of Woodburn; Hon. Thos. Kay, of Salem; Hon. C. B. Moores, of Salem. In the evening there will be a grand society ball, the dancing to take place on the main floor of the building. The event will be under the supervision of several society ladies, and the rooms are to be beautifully decorated.

Umatilla county is to follow Multnomah in making a test of the salary law. Action has been brought which will bring a decision on a direct issue as to whether the sheriff is entitled to draw from the county treasury mileage and fees in excess of the $2500 salary allowed him by law. Suit has been commenced in the circuit court, injunction being prayed for to stop the county court from allowing, and the clerk from issuing scrip for such pay. Charles Brownfield has sued out the injunction.

A Clubbing Offer.

A great many of our readers in Linn county like to take the Weekly Oregonian. We have made arrangements whereby we can furnish it at a reduction from the regular price to those who want both the Express and the Oregonian. The regular price of the Oregonian is $1.50 per year, and of the Express $1.50 when in advance. We will furnish both for $2. per year in advance, a saving of one dollar to the subscriber. The Oregonian gives all the general news of the country once a week, and the Express gives all the local news once a week, which will make a most excellent news service for the moderate sum of $2. per year. Those who are at present subscribers of the Express must pay in all arrears and one year in advance to obtain this special price.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

REFUSED TO FUSE.
 The Populists of Oregon Will Have to Paddle Their Own Canoe.

It is now finally settled that the populists of Oregon, in their effort to elect congressmen in the first and second districts, will have to paddle their own canoe. The proposed deal with the democrats is off, and on the single issue of free silver, Martin Quinn and W. S. Vandenburg, the two populist candidates, must take their chances. It is proposed to give them plenty of assistance. Chairman Taubeneck, of the populist national committee, has sent the best speakers at his command to stump Oregon: General Weaver, of Iowa, and James R. Sovereign, of the Knights of Labor, are thus early in the field. Tonight, says a dispatch from Portland dated May 7, Mortimer Whitehead, of New Jersey, talks for free silver at Gresham, and tomorrow night, J. H. Davis, the "Texas Cyclone" opens up his free silver batteries in Portland, in the interest of the populists. In addition to these, J. H. McDowell, of Tennessee, a well known populist editor, leaves St. Louis today, for Oregon, to aid in carrying this state for populism and free silver. For three days the populist managers in Portland sought to bring the democrats into their procession, and the failure to do so is explained in the following statements:

Mr. F. A. E. Starr, chairman of the democratic state central committee, commenting on the conference held between the populist executive committee and the democrats, said: "No agreement was reached. After a careful consideration of the subject, and the existing differences, it did not seem as if our interests were sufficiently identical to allow a union of forces, and none of the several propositions suggested met with favor. The effort of the free silver democrats and the populists to unite on the nomination of candidates in the two districts of Oregon, has failed, owing to the lack of unanimity of feeling. Judge Waldo was at no time seriously considered by the democrats. He was talked of, but no proposition was ever made looking to his nomination. We could stand nothing like that. The result is that there will be no union between the democrats and populists in Oregon this time. That is definitely and finally settled."

School Land Loans.

The state officials have been making a trip to Eastern Oregon and return, and while in Portland, to a reporter of the Oregonian, the governor said that they had made an extended trip to various points in the state, principally to look into the validity of the many mortgages held by the state for money loaned out of the school fund. The object of the trip was to ascertain by personal examination and interviews with the various attorneys in each county, representing the state's interests, what condition each loan was in. These were loans made under the Penoyer administration and many will be a loss to the state. Some were in good condition, and ordered renewed; on others the mortgages were ordered foreclosed. On the whole and from the guarded words of the governor, it was inferred that these loans were in the main not in a very satisfactory condition. The governor and his party also visited the site for the proposed Eastern Oregon asylum at Union. The property is still in the hands of the parties who sold it the state, and nothing can be done in the matter until the question of the constitutionality of the sale is decided by the court. Governor Lord also took time to pay a visit to the Cascade locks, as far as completed, he was well satisfied with them. Their completion would, he said, be a great boon to the state, as, aside from the advantages as a waterway, the state would be saved the expense of maintaining the portage road, which at present is a heavy burden on the taxpayers.

WHERE MEN ARE CARELESS.

Should Provide for the Future of Those Dependent Upon Them.

Edward W. Bok writes upon "When Men are Thoughtless" in May Ladies' Home Journal, directing attention to "the singular fact that the American man, who is the best and most thoughtful husband in the world, should yet be peculiarly thoughtless as to the future of his wife or children in the event of his death."
 Mr. Bok forcibly contends that the husband should have his affairs in such condition that in the event of death coming to him, his wife and children, or those dependent upon him would not suffer. In this connection he says:
 "I firmly believe that it is the duty of every man to be insured. With insurance policies to be had at such low rates as is at present the case, there is scarcely a man who cannot afford some sort of a policy, no matter how small the amount it may call for. What seems to the man himself in good health as a small amount for an insurance policy, often turns out to be a modest fortune to the woman or children who survive him. I wish, sometimes, that the taking of an insurance policy, on the part of the husband for an amount according to his means, might be made an obligatory part of every marriage ceremony. I know whereof I speak when I say that there are hundreds of women in the homes of this land who are daily carrying with them the fear that their husbands or fathers are neglecting or forgetting to make suitable provision for them as widows or orphans. They shrink from speaking to the men of their homes about the matter. No man can afford to neglect this simple duty which may mean all the difference between happiness and misery to his family. Suitable provision for them he cannot allow himself to 'put off,' for surely it is true that 'in the midst of life we are in death.'"

A Big Cattle Deal.

A ten thousand dollar cattle deal transpired in the south end of the county the first of the week. The purchaser is a Mr. Cornelius, who is a heavy stock dealer of Montana and the sellers are George A. Houck and Sam Ferguson, who have been gathering up cattle in Benton, Lane and Linn counties for several months past. The deal includes between 800 and 900 head of yearlings and two-year-olds, and they are to be shipped on a special train at Junction next week. Mr. Cornelius is in Webfoot buying cattle because he says Oregon cattle turn off better on the Montana ranges than do the Arizona, Texas, and other cattle. In buying these cattle the maximum price paid by Houck and Ferguson to farmers was $13.50 for two-year-olds, and $8.50 for yearlings. The cattle sold to Mr. Cornelius were all steers. Messrs. Houck and Ferguson have left on hand a large lot of cows, calves and heifers, and three and four-year-old steers.—Corvallis Times.
