Wm. Slavins was examined on last Friday before an Albany justice on the charge of stealing a watch, and was sent to the grand jury. There is some dispute between Slavins and B. S. Mills, the prosecuting witness, as to the ownership of watch. It is probably not a case of theft. Slavins claimed Mills owed him something in a settlement and took the watch without leave for payment. Bail was furnished.

The Harrisburg Review in writing up Samuel Nixon's trip to England and back concludes the write-up by saying: He made the trip back to New York safely and without any unusual event. From there he went to Philadelphia for a visit with two sisters whom he had not seen for forty-two years. He visited with them for a week and then went to Indianapolis, Ind., where he got possession of Mrs. Ida Bennett's little boy and brought him safely to her. The peculiar circumstances of Mrs. Bennett's husband, I. A. Bennett, absconding with their children and going into hiding with them for the sole purpose of distressing her, and the clue which Mr. Nixon successfully followed to the rescue of this one (the other having died) go to make a case in which our people take great interest. We all rejoice with her in the restoration of her beloved child.

LETTER FROM D. D. SHAW.

Says Work is Plentiful in Anaconda and Wages Good.

The following letter was received in this city by Dr. J. A. Lamberson this week from D. D. Shaw:

DR. J. A. LAMBERSON, Lebanon, Or.

DEAR SIR:—

I have been thinking every day that I had ought to write to you but there were several things I wanted to find out before I wrote. I had to stay in Portland several days before I got a chance to get out on a stock train and that took me to Haver, a place about 350 miles northeast of here. My fare from there here was $15.70. I could have got a job in Butte but it is in a mine about 1200 feet deep and as hot as h— itself. I came here and went to work the next day. I found Doll Boalar working in a Soup House washing dishes but he had to quit on account of the union, and Patsy Martin has not worked but two days since he has been here. I counted 34 men on one freight train beating their way out of here this afternoon. Clark Kimbrough came here and the first thing he saw the crap and faro games. Such men as him and these political talkers had better stay in Oregon where things are a little more tame.

A man can get work here if he is the right kind of stuff and not afraid of anything. Of course I am only getting $2.50 a day now and it costs me $5 a week for board. I could go to work in the smelters tomorrow at $3 a day but I don't like the place it is to dirty for a man when he has no place to clean up. But I have got the promise of a job on the water works when they start up at $6 per day, but they are having some trouble about the right of way for the water as the miners are kicking above here.

Now I will try and tell you something about this town. It is about 27 miles southwest of Butte in a little valley surrounded by mountains and contains about 12000 people. It is principally owned by one man by the name of Dalley. He owns the smelters, the railroad, the foundry, the lumber and brick yards in fact every thing. He owns the principal copper mines in Butte. There are no mines here that amount to anything except a few silver and placer mines up the creek. He runs the ore up here in regular ore cars. His smelters here alone cost about fifty million dollars. There are about 150 or 160 saloons here and they all do a big business, and gaming tables running every where, and lots of drunks. I wish some of those Lebanon scrappers were here all they would have to do would be to mention it and they could find all they wanted.

D. D. SHAW,

Anaconda, Mont.

That Indignation Meeting.

It was held at Salem Saturday afternoon. R. R. Ryan presided. Speeches were made by D. E. Swanik, J. K. Sears, E. H. Hofer, editor of Salem Journal, who did not vote for Tongue, on account of his position on the money question, who called attention to the peculiar manner in which all the mistakes, with one or two exceptions were in favor of tongue, stating that when men are hunting for something they generally find it; Geo. Allee, Dr. Embree, Geo. Dimmick, G. P. Caldwell. The following resolution was introduced:

"Resolved, That we, the people of this congressional district in mass meeting assembled, hereby denounce the attempt to officially declare Thos. H. Tongue the duly elected congressman from this district to be unjust, unlawful, dishonest and fraudulent and against the wishes of the legal voters as expressed at the polls."

But upon better judgment it was dropped and the following passed:

"Resolved, That we, the people of this congressional district in mass meeting assembled, hereby protest against the issuance of a certificate of election to Thomas H. Tongue until a recount of the vote has been had."

The following committee was appointed to have charge of the matters expressed in the resolution: Messrs. K. L. Hubbard, J. P. Robertson, J. K. Sears, W. S. U'Ren, B. F. Ramp and George Olds.

For Adultery.

Saturday an adultery case was heard in Justice Baker's court in Cottage Grove. The parties implicated are James Leatherman and Mrs. Anna Reed. Three years ago this couple became acquainted at North Yamhill and the woman deserted her husband and at last caught them and caused their arrest at Cottage Grove and the preliminary examination as before stated. They have a child 18 months old claimed by the husband to belong to Leatherman and his (Reed's) wife. They were brought here Saturday evening and lodged in the county jail. The husband Reed duly celebrated the incarceration of the couple.—Eugene Guard.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. The offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circular and testimonials. Address: F. J.
