Yet relief is ready to the hand of almost any one who will use systematically the remedy that has permanently cured thousands. SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR is no drastic, violent purge, but a gentle assistant to nature.

There is plenty of wool and also plenty of buyers in The Dalles, but no sales are being made. Buyers appear to be holding back and wool-raisers are also slow to accept any offers that have thus far been made.

The bill of exceptions in the matter of the appeal of Kelsey Porter, who killed the Hache family, in Union county, on New Year's day, has been presented to Judge Elkins for approval.

Last week the Goodale logging crew commenced scaling and rolling logs into the McKenzie for the season's run at Coburg. The drive will consist of between 4,000,000 and 5,000,000 feet. It is not known just when the run will be commenced.

Billy, Hills and partner arrived in Eugene Tuesday from big prairie with a pack of furs, the result of a season's hunt in that vicinity. They sold over $50 worth of skins, besides having seven black bear skins, which are worth from $5 to $10 apiece.

Sherman county sheep are again being herded on the hills in the upper part of Hood River valley. Fifteen thousand head are reported at the forks of the Neal creek, completely wiping out the last bit of range for the stock belonging to the farmers on the east side, says the Glacier.

Huntington this year has taken on a boom in the cattle and stock shipping line, says the Herald. In the past week 166 carloads of cattle, nearly 5000 head, have been shipped from the stock yards, and 110 more cars have been ordered for the use of shippers.

The old blockhouse at the Cascades is fast disappearing, and will soon be only a memory, says The Dalles Chronicle. Captain Waud took occasion recently to save a relic of it before it is completely destroyed.

Thomas Thompson, deputy state veterinarian, has killed 267 horses on the range in Umatilla county, which were afflicted with mange, and he will kill more unless owners take steps to prevent them from coming in contact with other animals and also cure them of the disease.

The hop harvest in this section will be very limited this season compared with former years, as many of the yards have been either plowed up or are being used for pasture, says the North Yamhill Record. A few yards, however, are being worked, but will be harvested only on condition that the price of hops will justify it.

The Hood River Glacier says that there is a heavy loss of berries this year because pickers refuse to pick on Sundays, growers not yet having discovered how to keep their berries from ripening on Sunday. For the reason they are always ready for work seven days in the week, they are preferred to white people.

The work of putting in the new machinery for an increase in the capacity of the Corvallis flouring mills is nearly completed, and the latter part of this week or the first of next the addition to the plant will go into operation. It consists of a new flour grinder and a new set of rollers, and will make the total capacity of the mill about 200 barrels per day.

Otis Taylor was summoned to appear before Justice Abe Clark, at Alsea Valley, in Benton county, Wednesday, to answer to the charge of bigamy. Taylor is a resident of Alsea, and was married last June to the woman who makes the complaint. They have been having some domestic difficulty, and she now claims that he had an undivorced wife living when he married her.

Superintendent Cooper, in charge of the construction work on the wagon road from Cottage Grove to the Bohemia mines, reports that only one mile of work remains to be done before the snow will be struck. The snow is from five to ten feet deep, and will delay the completion of the road at least a month. An average of 60 men have so far been kept constantly employed. If the conditions permitted, the road could be completed within three weeks.

Miss Cannon, a young lady who was working for George Mespie, at The Dalles, while picking strawberries last week, was bitten by a rattlesnake. The snake struck her in the hand, the fangs entering in two places. As quickly as possible her wrist was bound to prevent circulation of the poison, and she was made to drink about a quart of whiskey. A physician was then summoned, who administered the proper medical antidotes, and cauterized the wound. The young lady is all right now.

The Eugene Guard says that a gentleman who resides near Eugene reports that the crows in his neighborhood have a feasting place on his premises, and that at this point there is an accumulation of thousands of eggshells which have been carried there by his crowship. In Linn county the crows have been so destructive upon the eggs of China pheasants that an Albany firm has offered a reward of 10 cents for every crow presented, dead or alive at its place of business.

A hop contract, in which Mark S. Skiff and Luke D. Smith are parties of the first part, and Elasa & Prita, of Cincinnati, of the second part, was filed with the county recorder of Marion county, the other day. For each of the years 1896, 1897 and 1898, Skiff & Smith are to furnish the Cincinnati firm 10,000 pounds of hops, for which they are to be paid 75 cents per pound for the first year's crop, and 85 cents for each of the remaining years. An advance of 4 cents is to be made annually at picking time, and the product is to be delivered at Gervais not later than October 15.

A $550 monument has been ordered and is being made at Walla Walla for Katie Kehm Smith, the young secularist lecturer, who died at John Day, and was buried at Haystack last summer. The monument is the statue of a woman, 5 feet 4 inches tall, holding aloft the torch of liberty. With the pedestal, the height of the monument will be about 12 feet. The people of Haystack, irrespective of creed, have subscribed for the monument, which will be unveiled at Haystack some time the coming fall.

Running a Placer Mine.

The annual clean-up has been finished at the Hampton mine on Grave creek, and the result shows $100,000 in virgin gold. This was obtained from only three of the 100 acres of ground owned by the company. If the yield of the entire property is about the same per acre, it ought to produce over $3,000,000. But the said $100,000 must be offset by heavy expenses. Last year a $50,000 ditch was built, and the year previous another costing a large sum, and for two of the claims $40,000 was paid. On the average 16 men are employed, night and day shifts, who are paid $2 per day without board. Grave creek has been a great producer for years, and many millions lie yet hidden in its bars.—Roseburg Plaindealer.

THE GAME LAW.

Fishermen Should Note the Provisions of the Oregon Fish Law.

As the fishing season is now well on and as many are ignorant of the provisions of the game law relative to trout fishing and the open season for catching and selling them, we publish the following sections of the game law relative to fish:

Sec. 14. Every person who shall within the state of Oregon, during the months of November, December, January, February and March of any year, catch kill or have in possession, sell or offer for sale any mountain, lake or brook trout caught from any fresh water, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Every person who shall, within the state of Oregon, take or attempt to take, or catch with any seine, weir, net, or other device than hook and line, any mountain or brook trout after the passage of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Sec. 22. It shall be unlawful for any person at any time, to place or use in any of the streams or rivers of this state, any drugs, charms or powders or to use any giant blasting or gun powder or other explosive material, for the purpose of catching, killing or destroying fish; and it shall be unlawful for any person or persons to place in any fresh water streams, lake or pond, any lime or deleterious substance with intent to injure fish or any drug, or any medicated bait, with intent to poison or catch fish; and any person offending against the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

Sec. 23. Any person or persons now owning or maintaining, or who shall hereafter construct or maintain any dam or other obstruction across any stream in this state which any food fish are want to ascend, without providing a suitable fishway or ladder for the fish to pass over such obstruction, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

Sec. 24. It shall not be lawful for the proprietor of any saw mill in this state or any employe therein or any person to cast saw dust, planer shavings or other lumber waste made by any lumbering manufacturing concern, or suffer or permit such saw dust, shavings or other lumber waste to be thrown or discharged in any manner into the waters of this state or the Columbia river, or to deposit the same where high water will take the same into the waters of the state or the Columbia river, and any person or persons violating any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

The Grand Jury's Report.

We, the grand jury of Linn county, for the June term, 1896, respectfully report that we have disposed of all business brought before us, that we have made an examination of the county jail and court house and buildings; also the different offices. We find the officers in charge courteous and obliging. We find the offices of the clerk and recorder too small and inconvenient for the business of the county. The vault is overcrowded to the material damage of the county records. We would there recommend that the honorable county court take steps to improve the same. For the kind and courteous treatment extended us by the officers of the court and county we express our thanks and respectfully ask to be discharged. Signed by D. H. Ambrose, foreman, Peter Ruetner, W. H. Ingram, W. F. Hammer, J. T. Follis, John H. Rhinehart and James Freeman.

What True Friendship Means.

Between friends there must be close sympathy, and one must be able to give to the other what she lacks, but even between those friends who are nearest and dearest it is not necessary to lay bare one's heart. Such confidence is too apt to be greeted with a curious satisfaction, and even from a friend this gratification makes one feel as if one's bruises had been touched with vitriol. A real friend asks no questions. She takes the best that comes, the best that is in you, the best that you care to offer her, and demands nothing more. She has long ago learned, being wise, that to all of us there comes a time when nothing should be said; it is true there is a time when something should be said, but there is never a time when everything should be said. There is very often a silence between two women friends that means rest, and she is unwise who breaks that silence.—Ruth Ashmore in July Ladies' Home Journal.

About Hops.

Mr. E. C. Herren, a hop man of Salem, estimates that the crop of Oregon this year will be about 45,000 bales, the Washington output at about 30,000 and the California over 50,000 bales. The English crop promises well, but late reports from there show that vermin has appeared on the vines, but no apprehension is felt on that score, as every grower in that country owns his own washing machine (sprayer). The prospects are that choice hops will bring enough in the Willamette valley this year to pay expenses of picking and preparing them for the market, but lower grades will be a loss to growers, if picked. Mr. Herren is making contracts with growers for the 1896 crop at six cents per pound for good hops, and he thinks if the growers will produce a good article and secure the price named above, then there is no reason why they cannot keep their yards alive until the market can recover from the slump which it doubtless will in a few years. Some loss are reported, but upon examination, they are found to be only in neglected fields where the vines run to the ground.
