The newly elected county officials have taken charge of their respective offices. Lebanon people will be particularly concerned with the new county clerk, a citizen of this place; and hope that Mr. Montague will make a model official. The people at large will watch closely the conduct of all the new officers. The populist are solemnly pledged to the strictest economy. The lopping off of a few minor expenses here and there will not satisfy the people who have been led to believe that great savings would be made. Economy must be rigid, continuous and in all places alike. "Useless deputies," "high salaried clerks" and "outrageous bills," against which the populists vowed vengeance must cease. Remembering their campaign speeches of hard times and close economy, it would seem pretty cheeky for the populist officials to draw even their legal salaries. It would be impossible to conceive how they could ask the county to pay deputy hire. Let the officials remember to practice their motto of special privileges to none etc. etc.

The June number of the Pacific Northwest has an interesting "write up" of Linn county. It has several handsome engravings of points of interest in Albany, and gives statistics of all the cities, towns and villages, pretty much, near Lebanon. It has no mention of Lebanon at all, but tells all about Plainview. Albany gets the big slice. The fellow who wrote the article should come out to Lebanon and see a place where people are prosperous, contented and happy; where failures are practically unknown; where the finest paper is made in the state; where beautiful and delicious fruits abound; where the best flower of the county is made; where the only excelsior works in the county are working full handed and thousand of cords of wood are consumed annually; where the best equipped electric light and water company is located. In a word, let this benighted scribe come to Lebanon and see the only livetown in the country.

If the people of Lebanon want the motor line from here to Waterloo now is the time to act. This matter should not be treated as a joke, as some have been trying to do, but we would come out squarely on one side or the other, and if we want it say what we will do and put it down. We know times are hard but we should show our willingness. Some say that this man Wilkins don't amount to anything and could not build anything. Mr. Wilkins does not claim to be doing this himself but says he represents capitalists. Hon. Thos. Kay says he believes Wilkins is all right and has subscribed $4,000 to the enterprise himself alone and will do more if necessary. All of the Waterloo people have come to the front liberally. Some of the Sodaville people have kicked out of the traces but the most are coming back. Now the question is what will Lebanon do.

It is very possible that a senatorial deadlock will deprive Oregon of any legislation next year. The republicans will have about sixty members and the majority of the remaining thirty will be populist. The republican strength will be about equally divided, and unless they can get together it will be impossible to elect. Verily it begins to look as though the halls of the senate will be depopulated through inability of legislatures to elect. It, however, will have the good effect of hastening the time when senators will be elected by the people.—Wasco News.

The democrat national convention at Chicago is an interesting body of men. The silver party is in a strong majority and elected Geo. W. Daniel as temporary chairman, and Senator White as president.

ment chairman. The platform is strong for silver. No nominations have been made for president. The indications are for Bland and Boise, Senator Teller's chances are very slim. Many populist leaders have been present and show great interest in the proceedings. M. A. Miller, of this place, is on the platform committee.

The longest bridge in the world is the Lion Bridge, near Sengung, in China. It extends five and a quarter miles over an area of the Yellow Sea, and is supported by 300 huge stone arches. The roadway is 70 feet above the water, and is enclosed in an iron network. A marble lion, 21 feet long, rests on the crown of each pillar. The bridge was built at the command of the Emperor Keing Long.

The Oregonian told its readers a year ago that the silver craze had run its race and that it was a dead issue. The corps seems to give that paper and its associates considerable trouble just now and from indications is likely to continue to do so until after the election, when the Oregonian will have again to mourn another lost cause.

The June election in Oregon should be abolished, but to do so it will be necessary to change our old moss covered constitution. There is no sound reason for keeping the election in June. There are many for changing it to November. Every presidential year Oregon has the trouble and expense of two elections, where one would serve all purposes as well.—More Observer.

A NOTED physician says that instead of colds coming from atmosphere changes, as people generally suppose, they generally originate by breathing impure air. Ninety nine per cent of what are termed colds are nothing more or less than the poisoning of the mucous membrane by bad air.

An Ohio man who is well advanced in years recently had his funeral sermon preached in the presence of 800 people, and then allowed the congregation to file by and take a tearful departure and snake his hand for the last time.

TEXAS democracy will not present a unit front at the Chicago convention as it has done heretofore. There will be two platforms and two delegations, one for silver and Teller and the other for gold and Cleveland.—Mail.

Characteristics of European Cities.
An observer, says a correspondent of the Leeds Mercury, has just drawn up a little table in which he arranges the principal cities and towns of the world according to a classification which has at least the merit of novelty. Each town is considered from the point of view of the trades which are carried on in it. According to these statistics in Paris there reside the most tailors, upholsterers, bonnet makers, barbers, advocates and men of letters, men or women. In London we find the most cal and carriage proprietors, engineers, printers, booksellers and—though now people would scarcely credit it—cock. In Amsterdam we find the most dealers and money-lenders; Brussels is celebrated as the place where the largest number of boys smoke; it is in Naples that we find the most street porters; we see the largest number of beer-drinkers in Berlin; Florence possesses the most flower-sellers, and Lisbon is celebrated as containing the most bailiffs.

How We Get Canadian Coins.
Post office regulations against accepting foreign coins are disregarded along the Canadian border, where the Canadian twenty-five-cent piece has a wide and free circulation on this side the line and is accepted without hesitation by postmasters. They accept even Canadian bank notes, and there seems to prevail a thorough international comity as to money. Postmasters and merchants are astonished when visitors from regions further south hesitate at accepting Canadian money in change.

Did It All.
A story of Scotch honesty comes from Dundee. A small boy had taken the prize for an exceptionally well-drawn map. After the examination the teacher, a little doubtful, asked the lad:
"Who helped you with this map, James?"
"Nobody, sir."
"Come, now, tell me the truth. Didn't your brother help you?"
"No, sir; he did it all."—Milwaukee Wisconsin.

BOILED CIDER APPLE SAUCE.—Into a gallon of sweet new cider, which has been reduced one-half by boiling, drop quartered apples with sufficient sugar to sweeten them. Let them boil slowly till tender, taking care that the apples do not scorch or break in pieces. Good Mouth-keeping.

H. Glenn, of the Dalles, and Honeyman & DeHart, of Portland, have closed the contract with the Astoria Railroad Co. for building 47 miles of road from Gobel to within 10 miles of Astoria. This contract is for clearing, grading, tunneling, riprapping and doing the rock work on the entire length of the road, the work to be completed June 1, 1897. Mr. Glenn left this morning for Astoria to begin operations, which will be under his immediate supervision. He estimates that it will require the labor of from 600 to 700 men to perform the work in the specified time. The contract covers the expenditure of several million of dollars, and we trust will result in placing a goodly amount on the profit side of Mr. Glenn's balance sheet.—The Dalles T. M.

Why Because

Do people buy Hood's Sarsaparilla in preference to any other,—in fact almost to the exclusion of all others?
They know from actual use that Hood's is the best, i. e., it cures when others fail. Hood's Sarsaparilla is still made under the personal supervision of the educated pharmacist who originated it.
The question of best is just as positively decided in favor of Hood's as the question of comparative sales.
Another thing: Every advertisement of Hood's Sarsaparilla is true, is honest.
