PURELY VEGETABLE.

The Cheapest, Purest and Best Family Medicine in the World!
AN EFFECTUAL SPECIFIC for all diseases of the Liver, Stomach and Spleen.
Regulate the Liver and prevent CHILLS AND FEVER, MALARIA, OUB FEVER, BOWEL COMPLAINTS, REST-LESSNESS, JAUNDICE AND NAUSEA.

BAD BREATH!
Nothing is so unpleasant, nothing so common as bad breath, and in nearly every case it comes from the stomach, and can be so easily corrected if you will take SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR. Do not neglect to secure a remedy for this repulsive disorder. It will also improve your appetite, complexion and general health.

PILES!
How many suffer torture day after day, making life a burden and robbing existence of all pleasure, owing to the secret suffering from Piles. Yet relief is ready to the hand of almost anyone who will use systematically the remedy that has permanently cured thousands. SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR is no drastic, violent purge, but a gentle assistant to nature.

CONSTIPATION
SHOULD not be regarded as a trifling ailment—in fact, nature demands the utmost regularity of the bowels, and any deviation from this demand paves the way often to serious danger. It is quite as necessary to remove impure accumulations from the bowels as it is to eat or sleep, and no health can be expected where a constive habit of body prevails.

SICK HEADACHE!
This distressing affliction occurs most frequently. The disturbance of the stomach, arising from the imperfectly digested contents, causes a severe pain in the head, accompanied with disagreeable nausea, and this constitutes what is popularly known as Sick Headache, for the relief of which TAKE SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR.

Wheat harvesting will begin in Sherman county, August 3.

The publication of the Gold Hill Miner has been suspended, and that paper has been merged with the South Oregon Monitor, at Medford.

John Wesley Barkley, 21 years of age, has disappeared from his home in Grant county, and his mother fears that he has been foully dealt with.

Campers are putting in an appearance in Curry county, and deer-skinners are already at work throughout the hills, says the Wedderburn Gazette.

The county court of Douglas county has posted notices of defects of the bridge across the South Umpqua river in Roseburg, thus condemning the bridge.

J. H. Smithson, of The Dalles, sold his wool a few days ago for 64 cents a pound, realizing $2,000, which he put in an Ellensburg bank. The next day the bank broke.

The sale of a valuable Eagle valley farm was consummated in La Grande Monday, for a consideration of $4,000. Thomas Pierce was the seller, and E. A. Stephens, of La Grande, the purchaser.

The contract for building a Catholic church and parsonage at the Siletz has been awarded to S. G. McFadden, of Corvallis. The contractor expects to complete the new building by September.

A jury in Justice McMahan's court, in Lane county, after acquitting the defendant in an assault and battery case Wednesday, recommended that the costs be taxed to the prosecuting witness.

Frank Fritch, of Grant's Pass accidentally sent a rifle ball through his right forearm last Monday, while putting the gun into a wagon near Kerby. The bones of the arm were not seriously injured.

It is probable that the next meeting of the State Teachers' Association will be held at Newport, August 18, 19 and 20. Superintendent Irwin has gone there to ascertain what accommodations may be had.

The trustees of the Eugene divinity school have bought five lots in Henderson's addition, in Eugene, just west of the university campus. The land is intended to be used for the divinity school buildings.

William Palmer's children met a panther in the woods, close to the family residence, on South Coos river, last week. The animal was in the brush, near an old logging road, and made no attempt to attack the children.

Mrs. W. H. Casebeer, of Roseburg, observing an extraordinary growth of oak leaves, a few days ago, when out in the country, gathered a few leaves and measured them. They measured 1 1/2 inches long by 9 inches wide.

Some wretch, from whom the law has no terrors, last Tuesday appropriated himself to a set of harness belonging to Judge Fullerton, F. W. Dillard's cart and J. W. Lander's horse, and with them left Roseburg well equipped for traveling.

The corps of United States geological surveyors that will work in Southwestern Oregon this summer has arrived in Coos and is at work. They will this season make a survey of the Sixes river mining belt, and make a thorough investigation thereof.

They have a peculiar freak at the farm of D. B. Kingery, near McMinnville. It is a chicken with four legs—the two natural ones, one coming out under a wing and one coming out at the back. The chicken is as spry and healthy as any of its companions.

H. W. Ross, a newspaper man, has purchased from E. P. Thorp, of Cottage Grove, the Leader. Mr. Thorp will probably turn his attention to farming, fruit and hog raising, having served to his utmost satisfaction all the time he wishes behind the desk and cases.

Sherman and Gilliam counties will be asked to build a free bridge across the John Day, at the wreck of the old Leonard franchise. Wool teams ford the John Day at the wreck, but it is risky business. An emigrant lost a horse in fording the day after the wreck.

Honeyman, DeHart & Glenn, contractors for the railroad line to Goble, have already let a number of subcontracts for the clearing of the right of way, etc., and will commence work at Rainier. Between 700 and 1000 men will be employed on the work, says the Astorian.

Reports from Sherman county are to the effect that wheat is suffering from the continued hot weather, and farmers do not expect the average yield of the county will be more than 12 1/2 bushels to the acre. A month ago they expected the average yield would be 25 bushels.

Postmaster L. Van Winkle, of Weston, has been compelled by the post-office department to put up the $400 taken from the Weston postoffice while Mr. Van Winkle was in the mountains and George Reynolds was acting as his deputy. Mr. Van Winkle will attempt to have the case reconsidered by the department.

One day last week, while Hull Johnson was cleaning out the medical spring on his place west of Lafayette, he found an elk's horn imbedded in the mud. Although the horn had probably been there for 50 or 60 years, it is in a perfect state of preservation. The horn is a single spike, and about two feet long, and it was found about two feet under the surface.

J. J. White, a prominent pioneer resident of Brownsville, died yesterday afternoon, July 18, 1896. His death was sudden. He had been out doors the day previous, but yesterday was attacked with terrible pains from cancer of the liver, with which he has been afflicted, and falling into a stupor never regaining consciousness.

Charles G. Millett's loss in goods, through the falling of the John Day bridge, is at least $150, and perhaps much more, says the Fossil Journal, in horses, wagons and harness. Grant estimates his loss at $250. Mr. Grant paid $3 for toll, and thinks he is entitled to $150 of that back, as he was only half way over when the bridge went down.

Grasshoppers are said to be doing considerable damage on Juniper flat, in Wasco county. The hoppers are so numerous on Hampton Kelley's place that he has found necessary to begin cutting his grain at once, and started two mowers and one header in his fields, and will cut a considerable amount of his grain for hay in order to save it from the little marauders.

Miss Hughes, who is teaching the Winona school in Whitman county, had a rather trying experience the other day, says the Garfield Enterprise. Several boys conspired to frighten the teacher. After killing a large snake they coiled it up on the teacher's desk. Going to her desk for something, she laid her hand on it before she saw it. With a scream of fright she ran toward the door, but fell senseless before she reached it, and was unable to resume her duties from the nervous shock.

The big drive of logs for the Goodale Lumber Company, of Coburg, will be started down the McKenzie river next Monday. The drive consists of between 4,000,000 and 5,000,000 feet, and the distance they will have to be run down the river is about 20 miles. During the drive fishing will be spoiled, and fishermen who are planning trips for next week should go above the point where the drive is started.

The fifth annual convention and tournament of the Oregon State Volunteer Firemen's Association will be held in Astoria August 20, 21 and 22, under the auspices of the Astoria fire department. Contests of various kinds will be held under the auspices of the Astoria fire department, including hose racing and contests between hand engines. The rules of the Oregon State Volunteer Firemen's Association will govern all contests.

A Clubbing Offer.

A great many of our readers in Linn county like to take the Weekly Oregonian. We have made arrangements whereby we can furnish it at a reduction from the regular price to those who want both the EXPRESS and the Oregonian. The regular price of the Oregonian is $1.50 per year, and of the EXPRESS $1.50 when in advance. We will furnish both for $2. per year in advance, a saving of one dollar to the subscriber. The Oregonian gives all the general news of the country once a week, and the EXPRESS gives all the local news once a week, which will make a most excellent news service for the moderate sum of $2. per year. Those who are at present subscribers of the EXPRESS must pay in all arrears, and one year in advance to obtain this special price.

Overalls with apron or without, 50c a pair at the Rackle Store. Also have just received a large amount of new calico. Don't fail to see them.

All the new and pretty shapes in hats are to be found at Miss Diamond's. Ladies, call and be convinced. Hard time prices.

THE NEW REMEDIES.

One Case of Consumption they have Apparently Saved.

"I am one of the three cases of consumption on which the new remedies were tried by Dr. Farra, and I am now gaining flesh at the rate of two pounds per day," was the remark of a tall man as he stalked down street with a companion Monday morning. He was F. D. Lamberson, well-known to many of the citizens of Corvallis, and yesterday he left for the mountains, where it is expected the fresh, light air will finally conquer the disease whose progress the physician has not only arrested, but has apparently brought far on the high road to ultimate recovery.

Two of the new consumptive specifics were used in the case of Lamberson, and treatment began on the 27th of April. At that time both lungs were affected, the air in breathing scarcely passing through one of them all, while the other was calculated by his physician to be as far gone as were the lungs of the late Frank Fisher a month before his death. He suffered also with a hard cough, expectorated continually and was subject to night sweats. He was also so weak that he could scarcely walk to and from the doctor's office, and he was losing flesh at an alarming rate.

The first remedy used on him was Aseptolion, the same specific used with beneficial results at first in the cases of the late Dr. Robert Cooper and Frank Fisher. Five and one-half bottles of these injections, daily administered, were used, and although the patient was gradually improving, the treatment was changed to the serum injections, given to the world last year by a St. Louis specialist. The serum, like all serum specifics, is obtained by injection of the tubercular bacilli into a horse, and after the animal has become thoroughly immunized blood is taken from him and from this blood the serum is obtained. Four ounces of the serum were used, with constant improvement apparent, and then the patient was put on a course of creosote and glycerine, which treatment is still in progress.

Lamberson, who now walks about like a strong man, believes he is cured, and has great faith in the new remedies, while his physician hopes that the terrible disease has been subdued, demonstration of which time alone can make. The case is of interest, and for the sake of suffering humanity it is hoped that Lamberson's health may be completely restored and that other cases of consumption may likewise be conquered.—Corvallis Times.

An Old Locomotive.

A locomotive that was a reminder of the old days in the construction of the Oregon Pacific passed over the O. C. and E. from Albany to Yaquina Monday. She was the old engine "Corvallis" and is known to the old timers on the road as "Billy Hoag's engine." She was the first locomotive to go into service on the line, and was purchased by Col. Hogg on his first trip east in the interest of the road, with a portion of the net $35,000 that the people of Corvallis and Benton county donated as a nest egg from which the railroad finally hatched. That was back in the seventies, and it was a long time before construction work of any importance was done on the line. The little locomotive has been sent to the shops at Yaquina to be repaired and fitted out for actual work, and hereto, it is believed hangs a tail. The engine is light and peculiarly adapted for construction, and it is believed that she will have some of that sort of work to do in the near future. What she is to do, however, is the problem. Whether it is only to build a siding or two, or a branch road to Salem or Eugene, or a continuation of the present line to Newport, or whether she is being equipped for use in running a line across the Cascades is not known. Manager Stone is in Portland, where he went to meet Mr. Hammond, who has just returned from the East.—Corvallis Times.

Fatally Scalded.

On last Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Harvey Shelton, of four miles above the Jordan store on Thomas creek, was carrying a pan of scalding water from one room to another for scalding purposes, her little four-year-old daughter run against and overturned the pan the contents of which was spilled all over the child. As might be supposed she was frightfully scalded. Medical aid was secured as soon as possible and everything was done that the skill of the experience could suggest to alleviate her suffering but the sufferings of the little one were relieved by death on Monday.—Seno Press.

The Waterloo Motor.

Hon. Thos. Kay returned yesterday from a visit to Lebanon and Waterloo. When asked about the new motor line he stated that the right of way between those two places has nearly all been secured and the construction would commence in about ten days. Mr. Kay is enthusiastic over the prospects and is satisfied that the money put into it will be paying investment if properly handled, and that in time the line will reach Salem, connecting with steamers plying on the Willamette river. It will open up a fine territory for the business houses of this city, and will be quite a boom to the business interests of Salem.—Statesman.
