

THE Boot and Shoe
Department

Has some exceptionally good values.....
It has the best Ladies' Heavy Shoe, all leather, for $1.50, ever offered.....
A great many know from experience that it has a Dress Shoe for Ladies, for $1.50, that is not excelled.....
There has just been placed there a new stock of Heavy Shoes for Men for outdoor work; better goods than ever for the money.....

S. E. Young's,
ALBANY, OR.

Expressions.

Drummers are very scarce these days.
Born, to the wife of Frank Winkley, on Nov. 9, a son.
Mrs. Ella Jackson goes this week to Anaconda, Montana.
Groceries—quality excellent—prices low—at Bach & Buhl's.
Wm. Klepper left Tuesday for Berry, to work in a saw-mill.
Teachers examination is being conducted in Albany this week.
New subscriptions for the Weekly Oregonian taken at this office.
This paper from now until March 1, 1897, for only 25 cents, to new subscribers.
Wash your white clothing with Soap Foam, and they will never turn yellow.
The finest line of dress patterns in the city is to be found at the Backet store.
Highest market price paid at the Lebanon Art Gallery for all kinds of produce.
Farmers have got a good deal of fall grain sown, in spite of the bad weather.
The Santiam river was higher at this place last Sunday than it has been for five years.
Wanted.—One ton of baled or loose hay. Cost paid on delivery. Enquire at this office.
Any one desiring rubber stamps or stencils of any kind can get them at the S. P. Co.'s depot.
You can buy a nice, large arm, hand carved rocker of the Albany Furniture Company for $2.65.
Joe Berry, of Sweet Home, was in the city Monday. He sold a band of fine sheep to Joe Smith.
Miss Diamond is selling millinery cheaper than ever before. Call and see the hats and prices.
Don't let the cat lick the dishes, but make nice soft soap with Soap Foam. Directions on each package.
Craw, Gean left Tuesday for Mt. Idaho, Idaho, and will make it his home if he likes the country.
Mrs. T. J. Stiles, who has been visiting relatives in Lebanon, returned to her home in Albany Tuesday.
A great deal of water has fallen within the last few days, which raised the river to a considerable extent.
Are you looking for an engagement or wedding ring? French the Jeweler, Albany, has some handsome ones.
You will want something to read during the winter. Subscribe for the EXPRESS for four months, only 25 cents.
It is said there are 12 or 15 persons who will apply for the postoffice at this place, as soon as McKinley is inaugurated.
With the prosperity that the republicans have promised, and no diphtheria in town, we ought to have good times once more.
David H. Harris, who was sent to the asylum from Waterloo two or three months ago, died in that institution on Nov. 5th.
B. B. Bodwell left today for Montezano, Wash. He intends to make that place his home and will go into business there soon.
The Ladies Aid Society of the M. E. church, will give a Dinner Thanksgiving day. Everybody invited. A good dinner promised.
I hereby announce myself as a candidate before the conventions to assemble, for City Marshal.

FRANK DODGE.

Ladies, Miss DuMond calls your attention to the new fall millinery. A handsomer line has never been brought to Lebanon, and as usual at the lowest prices.
Messrs. G. W. Cheadle, W. H. Worrell, E. M. Bosler and John Bosler have rented the Cotton store building, and intend to open up a bowling alley soon.

A. Hackleman passed through Lebanon Wednesday with a band of horses that he had just brought across the mountains. He reports a great deal of snow in the mountains.
The bridge across the slough this side of Sanderson's bridge was washed away by high water Monday. It was a bridge about 70 feet long and the damage will be several hundred dollars.
Coyotes are making their presence known across the river. A petition is being circulated asking the county court to raise the bounty to $5. This is a good idea and we hope the authorities will heed the petition.
The republicans of Corvallis will ratify next Saturday, and the Albany republicans will ratify one week from then, Nov. 21. The Corvallis people are arranging for a barbecue in the afternoon, on their ratification day.
The Roseburg Plaiddealer reports that Mr. Gordon, of Looking Glass, Douglas county, in striking a well for artesian water struck genuine petroleum oil at the depth of 107 feet. It was found beneath a strata of blue slate.
The Lebanon boys who left here some time ago for Arizona had their pictures taken at Grants Pass. They had their mustaches and whiskers shaved off, which somewhat changed their appearance. They have thus far had a good trip.
A class of fifteen or twenty of Miss Ward's pupils spent the evening with their teacher, at the home of Geo. Bohl, on Wednesday evening. They gave her a complete surprise, and the evening was most pleasantly spent in lively games, eating lunch, etc.
Frank Thompson left Tuesday for Berry, to resume work in the saw-mill at that place. Mr. Thompson informs us he will be an applicant for the postoffice here as soon as the republicans come into power. Mr. Thompson is a cripple and certainly needs it, and we believe would make a good postmaster.
John Morgan and wife, who started across the mountains last week, got caught in the snow and had to leave the wagon at Lower Sals. Mrs. Morgan returned to Sweet Home with Mr. A. Hackleman, who was coming this way with a band of horses, and John took his team and went on across alone.
The supreme court has handed down its third decision in the branch asylum case, and this time affirmed the judgment of the lower court in restraining the state treasurer from honoring the $25,000 warrant issued in payment of a site purchased for the location of the proposed asylum building in Eastern Oregon. The Eastern Oregon branch asylum is thus knocked out for good.
Since we have made the reduction of 25c. for four months, we have added about one hundred new names to our subscription list. Last Saturday we got about twenty-five new names. Many have come in and subscribed without being solicited. We feel grateful to our friends for their support. The offer is still open, and we would be glad to get 500 on this proposition.
Prof. F. M. Mitchell, who is well and favorably known in this vicinity, is in Lebanon canvassing for the Chautauqua Kindergarten Drawing Board and Writing Desk, which is the most ingenious and practical invention ever devised for the instruction, education and amusement of the young folks. Leading educators have said it is worth two years' schooling to any child between the ages of nine and fifteen years, aside from the enjoyment and amusement the little ones derive from its use, and is something of which they never grow weary.
At a call meeting of the city council last Tuesday night the following were appointed judges and clerks for the coming city election: C. W. Stokes, J. G. Boyles and W. E. Harden, judges; W. C. Peterson and A. Gotchee, clerks. The recorder was notified to give the necessary notices of election. The recorder was also instructed to issue a bowling alley license to Messrs. Geo. W. Cheadle, W. H. Worrell, E. M. Bosler and J. H. Easler, for three months for the sum of five dollars, said alley to be kept closed on Sunday's and so to appear on the license.
The republicans had quite a ratification in this city last Monday night. A platform for the speakers was erected on the square, and an electric light swung over it. Several loads of barrels were hauled to the square during the day, for a bonfire. A parade was formed at the old schoolhouse and marched to the square, where speeches were made by Dr. Lamerson, Attorney Brown, A. A. Kes, Hiram Baker and T. J. Swan. The procession was headed by the drum corps, torchlight was carried, and the customary banners were in evidence. Some of the banners were well displayed, in particular was one portraying a large red apple representing Oregon. A large crowd was present notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather. Aivil shooting and explosion of giant powder enlivened the occasion. The best of feeling prevailed and consequently it was an orderly crowd, and all seemed to have a good time.

Stabbing Affray at Eugene.
The Eugene Guard publishes an account of a stabbing affray at that place, as follows:
A. G. Mathews, a well known citizen and one of the owners of the Eugene Roller Mills, and J. D. Craig, a barber, engaged in a combat at the side door of the Hoffman house, on Ninth street, between 8 and 9 o'clock Monday night which resulted in Mathews being cut within an inch of his life.
The fight grew out of an old quarrel. Just one week ago Monday night Mathews entered Craig & Vincent's shop to get a shave. Craig's chair was empty first and he offered to shave Mathews, but the latter declined, saying he would wait for Vincent and remarking that Craig had shaved him once before and cut his face. Craig denied the statement and a dispute ensued. Mathews called Craig a liar and the latter returned the compliment with a bottle of hair oil, barely missing Mathews' head. The bottle spent its force against the wall and bystanders prevented the quarrel from terminating with more serious results. Sunday night was the first time that the two men met after the quarrel of a week ago. An intense hatred must have existed between them and when they came together trouble was sure to ensue. Craig was just in the act of entering the side door of the hotel when Mathews came along. Maddened by the sight of his enemy Mathews was seized with an uncontrollable desire to get revenge. Lunging forward he struck Craig a heavy blow with his clinched fist. Both men are large and powerful. Craig was staggered by the blow and the two men grappled. Craig was forced backward off the sidewalk and fell in the muddy street with Mathews on top of him. When first struck, Craig had his hand in his pocket. When he withdrew it he must have drawn out a small penknife, and which he opened in some manner with his right hand began slashing Mathews' left side. Mathews had on a heavy overcoat, which protected him some and probably saved his life. The keen edge of the knife blade penetrated the clothing of his left arm in three different places and laid one long gash open to the bone. Another cut laid open Mathews' upper lip. The cut that came so near doing the deadly work was on Mathews' left side just under the arm. The knife blade pierced through the heavy overcoat, the side pocket of his coat, his vest and underclothing and clear through to the lung.
Policeman Pratt was near when the fight began and with others as quickly as possible separated the two men, otherwise Mathews would never have escaped a live.
School Library.
The teachers at the academy building, Mr. Allingham and Miss Ward, with the enthusiastic assistance of pupils, patrons and friends, have arranged for a library for their pupils. Their plan being this: A bookcase was provided and those who felt inclined invited to loan books to the library for the year, and in turn loaning them out to the pupils for periods of two weeks each, the teachers keeping accurate records of all books loaned.
The teachers feel this to be a very important work and one which will in its results amply repay all trouble bestowed upon it. The plan strikes us as being very practical and simple and one which obviates the outlay of any money and at the same time places good literature in the hands of all the pupils and thus cultivates a taste for reading good books and at the same time will tend to keep the children off the street and out of evil company.
While all books are not suited for all ages, the wide range of ages in these two rooms (from 9 to 15) admits of great latitude in the list of books. The teachers aiming, however, to accept none which are not instructive or elevating in their tendencies, and standing ready at all times to assist the pupils in the choice of books.
The library now contains seventy-five volumes and several more volumes have been promised, but not as yet brought in.
The teachers feel very grateful for this manifestation of the spirit of co-operation and confidence in the school. Anyone who has not contributed, but who feel like contributing to this good cause are assured that their contributions will be very acceptable.
We had the pleasure of visiting Lacombe last Friday, and were greatly surprised by the improvements in that neighborhood that have been made within the past four years. Where large timber stood five years ago the ground is now in cultivation, and good farmhouses have been built. Houses are painted, and good barns and well kept places are found in that neighborhood. Nearly all the residents are intelligent and well informed people. J. C. Hardin, proprietor of the Lacombe store, and also postmaster, carries a good assortment of general merchandise and handles a large amount of country produce.
Ripans Tabules cure dyspepsia.

TENNESSEE HAPPENINGS.
BY CESAR.
Nov. 7, 1896.
There is talk of having a literary start here soon.
James Blacklaw has finished his residence and will move into it soon.
Oscar Davis went visiting last Sunday to the lower part of Tennessee. We wish you good success, Oscar.
The election news was received with down-cast looks by the demo-populists at this place, who were looking for Bryan's election.
In a recent issue of the EXPRESS I notice another person has appeared in politics. A "Stayer" he calls himself. This "Stayer" seems to be well acquainted with my name and politics. As for my politics, I beg to inform "Stayer" that, in the words of that great statesman, David B. Hill, "I am a democrat," always was and always will be. I am on to Mr. "Stayer."
We are informed at the very hour of this writing that there will be a basket social held at the school house Saturday, November 21. Everyone should be present, for a fine time is expected. Ladies, bring your baskets filled with good things to eat, and gents, bring your pocket-books filled with gold to buy them with, for McKinley is now elected and confidence is restored, you can spend money without any fear of losing it. See?
Several loyal democrats and populists of this place, who are from the state of Tennessee, after seeing the bulletin which announced McKinley's majority in that state decided in a body to change their birthplace from that state to Nebraska, or form a confederacy and go to Tennessee and kill all the "niggers" who voted for McKinley, but they were happily interrupted in their plans when the news came that Bryan had carried their native state.
On the 25th of November there will be a shooting match at the residence of "David B." Wood. The way the match will be conducted is as follows: With rifle.—Each man will throw in so much apiece to pay for one turkey, and each will get one shot. If there are 10 boys it will probably be 10 cents and if there are 20 boys it will be 5 cents. This is the advantage in having a considerable number of boys, 40 yards off-hand; 60 yards with rest. With shot gun.—The same as above stated, except it will be 40 yards distance, and nothing more, or less. Come one and all. A good chance, boys.
Has a New Arm.
Hallie Wilkins has a new arm. Hallie is the nine-year-old boy who, on the 13th of last April fell from a new bicycle in the streets of East Portland, and suffered the loss of his right forearm by having it run over by a street car. The wheels of the car cut his arm completely off and as a result of the amputation that followed, only a four-inch stump of the arm he was born with remains below the right elbow.
The new arm and hand is an artificial one, manufactured in St. Paul, Minnesota. It is made of rawhide, that has been so treated by chemical process that in appearance it answers as well, perhaps, as anything man can make to take the place of the arm the boy lost. The whole thing weighs less than a pound, and with it he can handle a spoon, fork, tooth brush or pencil. He can walk to school with his two hands in his pockets, or ride a bicycle, or do almost anything that he could before he lost his other arm. —Corvallis Times.
Epworth League.
The services at the M. E. church were conducted by the Epworth League, on last Sunday evening.
There was a splendid program rendered, consisting of music, papers on various religious subjects, recitations, and a very interesting address by the pastor, Rev. C. G. Harmon. Rev. Harmon reviewed and pointed out the work of the Epworth League. He showed in a terse and lucid manner its advantages to the church. He also spoke highly of the older members of the church, who have done so much to build up this sacred institution, but tried to impress it upon the minds of the members of the league, that these christian heroes and heroines would soon pass away, and that the young members of the church would have to take the places made vacant by these good men and women.
With all, it was an interesting and profitable service, and was enjoyed by the large congregation present.
CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—The Tribune prints a list of 275 mills and factories which resumed business since November 3, giving employment to 155,405 men.
Save the Wrappers.
They are worth a cent apiece if taken from Hoe Cake soap.
Don't Forget
That Hoe Cake soap wrappers are worth a cent apiece in valuable presents.

Fall Season, 1896.
Some people wonder how we can sell such good merchandise for such little prices. Others wonder why we do so. The how and the why matter little, so the fact remains. We'll say this, however, this business has grown to its present proportions by doing just one thing,—selling good articles at low prices. We are still doing this. If you are not now our customer come and see us and be convinced.
Read, Peacock & Co.
Lebanon, Oregon.
Osborne Mowers, Binders and Hay Rakes.
Extras for Osborne and Deering Machines.
Hopkins Bros.
Albany, Oregon.
Search for the Robbers Given Up.
The Corvallis Times says that Mr. A. H. Kroeschel was in that city to confer with the sheriff. He reported no trace at all of the robbers, who have undoubtedly made a successful escape. That paper says:
Some people took the view that Kroeschel's story was a fake, and that he had not been robbed, but Sheriff Rickard takes a different view of the matter. Eighty yards from the spot where Kroeschel declares the robbery to have taken place, the morocco pocket book in which Kroeschel carried the gold was found, and leading to the spot tracks that tallied exactly with the description given of the size of those robbers were discovered. On the dilapidated rail fence, where Kroeschel says the men were sitting as he approached, shavings were found where the men had whittled as they waited for their victim. All of which corroborates the story of robbery as Kroeschel told it shortly after it happened, both to the Times man and the sheriff.
Sheriff Rickard has given up the hunt for the robbers. The approach of the regular term of the circuit court and the manifold duties that the court business brings to the sheriff's office, together with the collection of delinquent taxes now in progress, makes it impossible for him to devote further time in the search for the men who so easily pocketed a thousand in gold that belonged to another.
M. F. McConnell, defaulting K. of P. keeper of records and seals, has gone to the penitentiary for three years. The Telegram says: "McConnell's downfall, which was quite a sensation in this city, was brought about by whisky and cards. When arraigned and asked if he had anything to say, McConnell said that he had no defense to make of his conduct. Sentence was then pronounced. It is believed that the Oregon K. of P. lodges have lost altogether something like $3,000 through McConnell's speculations."
It's in town. It's the best; Won't burn or roughen the skin; Won't "yellow your clothes;" You will be agreeably surprised. Sorry you didn't know it sooner. Thompson's Soap Foam large packages.
Ripans Tabules: pleasant laxative.
All who need new shoes look over the stock for sale by Read, Peacock & Co.
When in Waterloo call on the City Drug Store for fine perfumery, drugs, etc.
We will take any kind of feed that is good for ye editor, or his cow, on subscription.
Special sale at Read, Peacock & Co.'s of all summer goods Lawns, Dimities, India muslins.
Send the EXPRESS to your friends in the East for the next four months; only 25 cents.
Chatties 25 yards for $1. Now is the time to buy a cool wrapper at Read, Peacock & Co.'s