

Ladies' Long Coats.

I have a lot of long coats made of good wool cloth which I intend to close out. They are old styles, of course, but for many purposes they are better than a mackintosh and will cost you half the money.

They cost the manufacturers $5.00, $10.00 and $15.00. They are offered at $1.50 to $2.50 each

Mr. H. T. Booth, representing the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company, is in our city soliciting.

Are you looking for an engagement or wedding ring? French the Jeweler, Albany, has some handsome ones.

See the elegant crayon at the foot of the stairs, given away with each dozen pictures without extra charge.

N. W. Smith, the druggist, informs us he will have the finest lot of holiday goods ever brought to Lebanon.

Prof. W. W. Allinghaus left yesterday for his home near Coburg, to spend Thanksgiving with his parents.

License has been issued for the marriage of C. D. Osborn and Alta E. Trexler, Peter Long and L. E. Walker.

Messrs. Joel Mayer and John Hope will soon open a skating rink in Lebanon. They have already ordered the skates.

The Rebekah lodge, of this city, will give a reception in their hall next Tuesday evening, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Buhl.

Messrs. Lee Bilyeu and Downing returned Saturday from a deer hunt in the mountains. They report having killed four deer.

Mr. B. M. Burrell brought to Lebanon last week, a fine buck that dressed about 175 lbs. Mr. Burrell has killed a number of deer this fall.

Electric lights will probably be run along Bridge avenue and through the eastern portion of the city, for the convenience of residents in that section.

The K O T M T, at Scio, are going to give a big blow-out in that city tomorrow night. Dr. Lamberson, of this place, is one of the speakers of the evening.

Miss Eda Price, who has been visiting at Waterloo for the past three months, passed through the city Tuesday, on her way to her home in Salem.

Ladies Miss DuMond calls your attention to the new fall millinery. A handsome line has never been brought to Lebanon, and as usual at the lowest prices.

Dr. Booth was called to Sweet Home last Saturday to see Prof. C. F. Bigbee, who was quite ill with pneumonia, but we are glad to report him much better now.

Mr. A. Cadwalader has traded his residence, including his 50 acres of land, near this city, to J. C. P. Mary for 80 acres of land, situated near Corvallis, in Benton county.

The sidewalk leading to the flouring mill has been completed as far as Dr. Chesdale's residence. This is a great convenience to people living in that part of the city.

Remember the A. O. U. W. lecture and entertainment Wednesday evening, Dec. 2. McKnight & Crawford's orchestra and a male quartet, of Albany, will furnish music for the occasion.

Prof. J. B. Marva, principal of the Tanager public school, spent last Saturday and Sunday in our city, visiting friends. There seems to be considerable attraction in Lebanon for Prof. Marks.

Mr. A. M. Wilson brought in three hogs yesterday, which together weighed 825 lbs. These were the heaviest hogs that have been brought to the Lebanon market this year.

However, Weisner & Buhl killed four of their own that weighed more—their weight being 1000 lbs.

Last Thursday night a burglar attempted to enter the residence of I. R. Borum, but a lady friend who was visiting there heard him and screamed so loud that the man skipped at lightening speed.—Democrat. The young lady referred to is Miss Ada Miller, of this city.

The republican club held a meeting Monday night. It is generally reported that the meeting was held for the purpose of centering on some one for the post office at this place, but no agreement was reached. The appointment of Mr. Smith's successor will probably be left to Mr. McKinley.

In order to put the EXPRESS in the homes of many who are not now taking it, we have decided to offer it from now until March 1, 1897, for only 25 cents. If you are not taking the EXPRESS already, take advantage of this offer and subscribe at once, and if you are already a subscriber, send it to some Eastern friend for four months.

The Ladies' Missionary society, of the First Presbyterian church, held their annual Missionary Tea at the home of Mrs. G. W. Abbrich, on last Friday afternoon. There were about twenty-five or thirty ladies present, and after being entertained for several hours with a most interesting program they all had tea together, and a most excellent lunch, it was.

Mr. F. U. Hickok, Southern Pacific agent at this place, informs us that there has been more poultry shipped from Lebanon this week than any previous week since he has been here. There has been over sixty sheep shipped already this week. On Monday a car full as it could be loaded was shipped out. There has been about 500 turkeys sent from here this week, and out of this number, the Bellinger boys, of Waterloo shipped about 250.

Job Bank Settlement.

The Corvallis Times says that after three and one-half years of waiting, creditors of the Job bank are now to learn exactly what per cent they are to receive on the claims they hold against the assignment. Assignee Bryson filed with the court his final report in the case, and the document winds up with a request for authority to be granted the assignee to pay a final dividend of ten and one-half per cent. The assignee has now on hand $22,002.86 in cash, besides certain amounts to be required in paying the expenses of final settlement of the assignment, and this amount is just sufficient to pay the dividend for whose payment authority is sought. This dividend will make the total amount that creditors will receive on their claims, 40 per cent, or forty and one-half cents on the dollar. It falls five and one-half cents short of the fifty per cent, required by law in order to relieve Job Brothers of liability for the debts of the partnership, and it is said that a few creditors have expressed a determination to take judgment.

Pioneer Dead. ROSEBURG, Nov. 23.—Hon. Lafayette Lane, Sr., died at 3.45 p. m. today, at his home in Roseburg. Deceased was born in Indiana in 1842. He was a member of the Oregon legislature, was once commissioner, and was elected to congress in 1874, but was defeated for re-election. He declined the nomination for one of the Greeley electors. He stood very high as a lawyer, being an eloquent speaker.

He leaves a wife and three children, and numerous relatives in Oregon and Washington. His death was the result of a lingering illness of several months duration, and he was confined to his bed most of the time.

From now until January 1, 1897, Boyd will give you a crayon or 16 cabinets all for the price of one dozen.

Our public schools are giving general satisfaction. Lebanon has cause to be proud of her schools—public and private.

Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets move the bowels gently, relieve the cough, cures the feverish condition and headache, making it the best and quickest remedy for Coughs, Colic and LaGrippe. Cures in one day. "No cure, no pay." Price, 25 cents. For sale by N. W. Smith.

Capt. M. W. Hunt returned Tuesday from a two weeks deer hunt east of Lebanon. J. T. Hunt, of Whiteaker, E. A. Downing, of Sublimity, and Lee Bilyeu, of Lebanon, were in the party. Capt. Hunt, who is a native of Oregon, says he never witnessed a more severe storm than while out on this trip.—Salem Journal.

The Electric Light Company is worthy of the generous support of the public. The company has kindly consented to put up several lights free of charge in the rear of our business houses, to better protect them from burglars. Companies and corporations are not generally so obliging and we are glad to give Mr. Hughes and his partner due credit for this public spirit.

Invitations are out announcing the wedding of Miss Annie Lee to Mr. Fred Fortmiller. The ceremony is to be solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, in Junction City, Dec. 3. Miss Lee is the only daughter of Dr. L. N. Lee, who is well and favorably known in this city. Miss Lee is highly accomplished and is one of Junction's most popular young ladies. Mr. Fortmiller is a rising young man of ability, and is now in business in Portland.

Rev. E. A. Ross has begun a revival in Ashland. The Record says: "Though the revival is to be held in the M. E. church, the revivalist is a member of the M. E. church, South. His name is E. A. Ross, and he is a Georgian, with the bell-fire-and-damnation style of the celebrated Sam Jones. His method of attack is to begin on the christian people first, and cook their goose so thoroughly and completely, that when he gets around to the worldly sinners he butchers them up together for a grand roast. After they become convicted of their sins, the battle is really over."

Imprint: Linn county can boast of the youngest school teacher in the state, or perhaps in the United States, in the person of Lester Umphrey, of Foster. He is just 13 years of age and has passed the teachers examination in this county, with a total average of 90, enough to warrant a second grade certificate, but on re-examination, only a third grade certificate could be issued to him. Young Umphrey is a wonder, and is not only advanced in "book learning," but is brilliant in every respect. We predict a bright future for this youngster and would like to see some of our vaunted city kids show down with this "country-bred" boy who has been educated in the rural school houses.

TENNESSEE HAPPENINGS.

BY CESAR. Nov. 21.

SCHOOL REPORT. Miss Annie Blacklaw, teacher: Number of pupils enrolled, 27; average attendance, 19; names of pupils present during the month: Bertha Davis, Lala Davis, Harry Myers, Maud Davis, Callie Davis. Absent but one day during the month: John Wood, Roy Wood, Stella Fronk and David Wood. Names of visitors present: Verna Gentry, May Gentry, Alice Wallace, Hallie Wallace, Viola Allen, Mrs Swink and Miss Tesicle Weddle.

Tonight, as usual, rain fastens its mighty arms around this little neighborhood of scrambling soles, and again, as before, we witness one of the grandest little times this place has ever seen. Why? Because Miss Annie Blacklaw was managing, and, under her most powerful influence and mighty words, the social was one of the finest ever held here. Charles McKnight, the auctioneer, also did his work well. He received more for his baskets than anyone before. The programme was short, consisting of a few songs, speeches and dialogues. The choir sang "Sweet Oregon," and was called back. The dialogue, "The Matrimonial Ad," was fine.

One dollar and fifty-five cents was the highest price paid for a basket, an increase of 35 cents over last year; and 30 cents was the lowest price paid; an increase of 10 cents over last year. Thirteen baskets were sold, $8.75 being received for them, an average of 63 cents, an increase of 9 cents, the average being 54 cents last year. A literary society was temporarily organized after the social was over. A permanent organization will be perfected at the school house next Saturday evening.

Emphatically to Mr. Stayer:—It appears that one, Mr. Stayer, that seems to be proud of his political standing, attacked me through the columns of the EXPRESS, in what might be termed, out of reason. One would think from your looks, Mr. Stayer, that you are well fitted for the newspaper also. In my correspondence I have refrained from writing anything that might mar the feelings of anyone. Stayer speaks of my witty assertions. If he can point to one as windy as some of his I might mention, I will acknowledge it. He has taken a cowardly advantage of one who wishes to insult no one, because he undoubtedly knows who I am, and knows that I do not know him. Now, Mr. Stayer, if you wish to blow your rotten republican slang up against the untarnished principles of the true Bryan democracy, give me an equal show and I think your empty brain-pan will necessarily be thoroughly scoured each week for quotations from your party leaders. I am not a poet—an accomplishment which Stayer is the lucky possessor of—and I will therefore not agree to adorn the columns of this paper with my lustive eloquence in that way.

Academy Notes. Vacation Thursday and Friday. Messrs. Elkins and Sheridan and Mr. George Randle were our last visitors.

Messrs. Roy Miller and George Ross entered the commercial department last week. Roy entered the senior class of this department.

Miss Rice has rented an organ for the music department. She will soon receive a new organ from the Wiley B. Allen music company.

The students of the academy, assisted by Miss Addie Cook, will play "Finnegan's Fortune" during the latter part of December. This is an American Irish play in 3 acts.

The Platonian Literary Society was organized two weeks ago by the students. The first regular meeting was held last Friday evening, at which time several new members were received, and a very interesting program was delivered. This society will hold invitation meetings every month. Anyone may become a member of this society on receiving a vote of all constitutional members. First invitation meeting, Friday evening, December 4.

SPECIAL. The city election will be held Monday week, the 7th of December. There are many names mentioned for the marshaling. Among them we find the present incumbent, Phil Ritter, A. Umphrey, J. E. Dell, Wm. Retherford, Frank Dodge and John Carl. For recorder, the present incumbent, W. M. Brown and Geo. Rice. For mayor and councilmen, there seems to be no names prominently mentioned. Any of the gentlemen mentioned would make good officers. A meeting will be held, at which time a ticket will be nominated. Very likely a second ticket will be in the field. The city needs good men for its offices and none but good and capable men should be chosen.

There's no clay, flour, starch or other worthless filling in Hoe Cake and no free alkali to burn the hands.

Fall Season, 1896.

Some people wonder how we can sell such good merchandise for such little prices. Others wonder why we do so. The how and the why matter little, so the fact remains. We'll say this, however, this business has grown to its present proportions by doing just one thing,—selling good articles at low prices. We are still doing this. If you are not now our customer come and see us and be convinced.

Railroad for Lebanon.

The Santiam bridge, on the old narrow gauge railroad, has been a great cost to the company. The recent high water carried it away, as well as high waters will continue to do. This is the fourth time it has been washed away. There is no suitable site in that neighborhood for a bridge. The company would save many thousands of dollars by extending its track up the Santiam towards Lebanon and cross the river where there is a sure foundation. We understand that a surveying party has been looking over a new route. The road could easily be brought through Lebanon and would be a great advantage to the city as well as a great saving to the company. The EXPRESS would urge upon our public spirited men the advisability of making an effort to have the company bring its track near the city. Let the matter be considered by our people and a meeting be called to push matters, if it is decided we want the road. Now is the time to act.

To the Farmers.

An effort will be made to start a first-class creamery at this place. The farmers in the neighborhood are requested to communicate with Mr. J. S. Hughes, at the Electric Light Company's office, within the next ten days, the number of cows they will keep for the purpose of supplying the creamery with milk. This is an important matter to the farmers and the public in general.
