STATE AND COAST.

Clipped from our Exchanges Throughout the West.

A. L. Strove expects to put in an electric light plant in Stayton soon.

Six hundred head of cattle were shipped from Ontario last week, by Mr. Yeast, a Multnomah county stockman.

The bill to appropriate $10,000 to represent Nevada at the Nebraska exposition was killed in the legislature.

The proposed ordinance prohibiting the selling of pools on horse races at San Jose, Calif., was defeated in the council.

Growers around Gervais are setting hop poles and purchasing twine. The prices for supplies are higher this year than last season.

John Wallace brought a load of hay into La Grande last week, with four horses. The hay weighed 2200 pounds, and the wagon and mud 2560 pounds.

The little son of Mrs. Wade, of Newberg, disappeared about the time a band of gypsies left that town, and nothing has since been seen of the boy.

A would-be burglar, while attempting to break into J. W. Withrow's saloon, in Eugene, last Thursday night, was frightened away by Night-watchman Croner.

The new fish wheel being put in by Charles Stone a few miles below The Dalles, when completed, will be the largest wheel on the river. It is 12 feet wide and 80 feet deep.

Pasadena, Calif., is getting much satisfaction out of the news that a car of oranges was recently shipped from that place to Jacksonville, Florida, where it was sold at good prices.

Mayor Taylor, of Astoria, has signed the ordinance making it a misdemeanor to expectorate on sidewalks, floors of public buildings, or on streets. The penalty is a fine of from $2 to $10.

The Bandon Herald says that a whale forty feet in length came ashore on the beach at Sand Beach last week. The residents of that vicinity tried out 500 gallons of oil and secured a lot of whalebone.

San Francisco business and workmen are clamoring for work to commence on the postoffice building to be built there, and have sent resolutions to the secretary of the treasury requesting immediate action.

A. Thornburg, of Greenville, Washington county, had $210 in a canvas sack snatched the other day, out of which he paid a small bill, returning the sack to his pocket as he supposed, but it must have slipped the pocket and slipped between his overalls and pantaloons, for when he went to his room at the hotel his money was gone. His diligent search since has not been rewarded.

During the fore part of last week Pendleton was overrun with bobos. No fewer than 16 were lodged in the city jail Wednesday on the charge of vagrancy. Most of these were freed Thursday on the condition that they leave the city that day. City Marshal Van Orsdall dogged their movements during daylight, and Nightwatchman Russell saw that a number of them got out on the evening train.

Geo. E. McKenzie, the expert accountant appointed by Judge Fullerton, to go through the books of Lincoln county, is now busily engaged at his task. He says that his instructions from the court are to go through the books and accounts of the sheriff, clerk and treasurer, checking up the same, and find out how much money has been received by these officers, and what disposition has been made of it.

A five-year-old son of Mr. Herman, who lives on the Cloninger place north of Hillsboro, received a northwest wound last week. The lad had an armful of kindling wood which he was carrying into the house. One of the sticks which struck under the chin, and penetrated behind the jawbone as far as the root of his tongue. A doctor dressed the wound and at latest advice the boy was doing well.

On Wagner creek, in Jackson county, a dog, the favorite pet of a family, got into a fight with a panther the other day, and the outlook was not bright for the dog. Mrs. J. P. Cotton, Mrs. A. B. Kerby and Mrs. Kerby's 12-year-old son sided with the dog, and with stones and clubs, joined in the fight, and succeeded in killing the panther and saving the family pet's life. The panther measured 7 1/2 feet in length, and was not more than 100 yards from the house when the dog first attacked it.

A Mail Carrier's Experience.

(From Albany Herald, Mar. 12.)

The snowstorm, which has continued in fitful gusts over Oregon for the past few days, amounted to a heavy snowfall in the mountains, piling up drifts to enormous depths.

Gerald Heath, who carries the mail and runs a pack train from Gates to the Lawler mines at Quartzville, had an experience in the storm which he would not care to repeat. On Monday he left Quartzville for Gates with a pack train of seven horses used in taking supplies to the mines. He also had the mail from Anidlem which is the name of the postoffice at Quartzville. But little snow comparatively had fallen at the mines, but when he reached the summit he found that a furious snowstorm had been raging and the trail was almost impassable.

To turn back, however, was almost as dangerous as to proceed. So he continued forward. He managed to reach the half way cabin and spent the night there. The next day the storm continued with unabated vigor, and the trail was buried in places under 15 to 20 feet of snow. He found it would be impossible to take his pack horses further, and after much hard work he succeeded in getting them to a sheltered place in a ravine, where they could live. He then made a pair of snowshoes and started for Gates.

In the meantime the people at that place had become alarmed for their safety and two parties had started on snowshoes to search for him. Yesterday morning they met him on the trail, and returned with him to Gates. He was nearly exhausted, having spent three nights in the storm in the mountains with scant provisions. The mail carrier is a man of remarkable nerve and endurance, who has had a life-long experience in the mountains in all sorts of weather, and is familiar with the use of snowshoes, otherwise he would certainly have perished, as several others have done in a blinding snowstorm in that lonely mountain pass.

As soon as the storm abates the horses will be brought out.

The Santiam Mines.

There is every indication of greater activity than ever in the Santiam mining district when spring opens. The Albany Mining and Milling Co., composed of business men of this city who have expended some $30,000 or $40,000 in developing their properties in the Quartzville district, have consummated a deal with W. F. Robertson and others, of Portland, whereby they have contracted, leased and bonded to the Portland company, their mines including seven claims, a ten stamp quartz mill, saw mill, engine and mining machinery complete and ready for work. The sum of $1000 was paid on the contract yesterday. The Portland company has, by the terms of the contract, one year in which to complete the purchase. They also agree to pay the Albany company $1 per ton for all ore worked. The total price to be paid for the mines has not been divulged.

A force of men will be put to work at once placing the machinery, which has been idle for a year or more, in readiness for operation, and about April 1st it is announced active work will be resumed in these mines.—Albany Herald.

A Counterfeiter Caught.

On Monday, February 15th, Harold Marquisee, of Utica, N. Y., was arrested in Syracuse, N. Y., on a warrant sworn out by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., charging him with forgery. On the 15th of December Marquisee visited a photo-engraver in Syracuse, saying he was the representative of the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., and arranged for the making of a full set of plates for the direction sheets, labels, etc., of the famous Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. News of this reached the home office, and no time was lost in arranging for his arrest when he should return for the plates. He returned on the 15th, and was accordingly arrested and placed in jail in Syracuse to await examination.

This arrest proved to be an important one. In addition to various plunder, such as medical books, typewriters, rugs, etc., found in Marquisee's trunk when arrested, the police also found counterfeit coin both in the trunk and on his person; and in a search of his apartments at Utica found a complete outfit for counterfeiting, consisting of crucibles, bellows, nickel, lead, bismuth, antimony, a small blacksmith forge, a charcoal furnace, and several plaster-of-paris molds. The United States marshals want him just as soon as the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. are through with him, and, no doubt, he will be sentenced for a long period.

In selecting Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for his counterfeiting operations, he showed his knowledge of the proprietary medicine business; for these pills are in such great demand that they are easily sold at any drug store in the United States. His scheme was to work the country druggists and sell his imitations at a discount of from 2 per cent to 5 per cent, explaining the reduced price by the fact that he had picked them up in small lots and at a discount from dealers who were overstocked. By working fast and making long jumps, he would have secured many hundreds of dollars in a short time. The proprietors of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are most fortunate to have caught the rogue, before he had fairly started, and to have thus kept these spurious goods out of the market.
