LOCAL.

"All communications, as far as possible, should reach us not later than Tuesday night. Please bear this in mind and have communications in on time."—Editor.

H M Olden of Eightmile was in town last Thursday and paid the Proclaimer office a very pleasant visit.

Mr and Mrs W R Phillips of Colville Washington, with their children are visiting Mr and Mrs Chas D Ely for a few weeks. Mrs Chas Ely made her home with them after coming west until Charley concluded to take her to his own home.

Notice—Ben Buschke of Ione wishes to notify parties on the Northside who have stock running at large that if they don't keep their out of his grain he will take them up and bring them to Ione to the livery stable where the owner will have to pay charges.

Miss Agnes Pennington brought the Proclaimer the finest basket nasturtiums we have seen in many a day.

Mr C Read, while heading the other day, remarked that the grain was too thin, so he put in his thumb and cut it off. It is getting better now and he thinks he will not meddle with the quantity of wheat again when heading.

Harry Akers came in from Chehalis Washington, Monday and will remain here thru harvest.

Anyone in need of lime, cement, and shingles call and see G F Parker before going elsewhere.

A T King received a letter from his son J W, who lives at Union, Union county, and who is working for a Mormon sugar beet company, his wife also being employed in charge of the boarding house, telling of some bad luck. The house burned down last Friday and nothing was saved. As the furniture all belonged to Mr King he is feeling the loss heavily.

J H Harbke of Portland, was in Ione on business the first of the week.

Chicken dinner with all the "fixin'" at the Hotel Sunday.

Miss Audrey Woolery made a business trip to Heppner Tuesday.

D C Ely has charge of the office at the Hotel Ione during the absence of his daughter Mamie who is with her brother Hal thru harvest. D C did not take kindly to baching.

Misses Audrey and Velmaleta Woolery will leave Monday for a trip to Seattle to the Fair, returning will spend two weeks in Portland and Corvallis and will reach Ione August first as Mrs Knappenberg will go to the mountains with the family during the heat.

The Proclaimer people are in receipt of a letter from Mrs Shambart whose husband has taken a homestead at Progress, New Mexico, telling that they are nicely settled but longing for rain fall.

Archie Cox passed thru Ione Monday evening on his return trip to Sumpter where he was looking after their sheep who are grazing there.

Don't cook dinner at home Sunday. Go to the hotel and enjoy a good dinner, without the trouble of cooking it.

Mrs Loren Hale is the proud possessor of a cow and young calf.

Ira Morgan, son of M R Morgan, is home from school at the O A C at Corvallis.

Ed Miller, the city engineer, is out harvesting and the power house is in charge of Frank Akers. Everything seems to be moving along all right and Frank is busy fixing up lights and water pipes, so Ione is to be congratulated that they have him as a citizen to come to the front when needed.

Lost; one yearling jersey steer, with a wire on neck; spiked horns, light color, animal in good condition. Finder will be given by seeing R. W. Cochran.

Bernard Mc Devitt was in Ione Saturday doing some shopping and was in the Proclaimer office arranging for the publication of his final proof.

Mrs R S Wilcox came from Portland Friday and will superintend the cooking for the men employed in running Mr Wilcox's combine.

Mrs Hymer came from Portland Friday, where she has been visiting for the past month.

Suits cleaned and pressed for $1 extra pants 40c and ladies skirt $1.50 at the barber shop. Ralph Hymer Prop. Also get your shoes shined.

We think the harvest will be better than reported as Halvorsen and Mason have sold ten header and Paul Balsiger has also been busy supplying the market.

Rev Bradstreet and wife and Mr Corson and son spent a day last week with Mrs E J Andrews and had ice cream and all farm delicacies at their fine ranch on Rhea creek.

The Hotel is putting up as fine food as can be found out side of Portland. If you want a good dinner, go there and get it. You will be pleased.

Harvest bands have been coming into Ione on the evening train, quite numerous for several days past. They have been met at the depot and hired immediately upon their arrival and yet more are needed. It would be well if we had a chance at the thousands of starving people the Socialist speaker told of at Walker's last the other evening.

Mr and Mrs Dohy are out buggy riding these nice evenings and it seems nice to see him about again.

S I Stratton is building a new fence about his grounds.

John Klitz has returned from his trip in Portland.

From the looks of things Mrs Balsiger will have lots of raspberries this winter as she got four crates last week.

T H Littlehales, a real estate man from Forest Grove, who owns some land here, was up Tuesday and while here paid the Proclaimer a nice visit.

Curt Rhea, wife and baby were shopping in Ione Tuesday. They also met grandpa, J P upon his arrival from Walla Walla

Mat Halvorsen went over to the warehouse the other day to get a can of oil and picked up one with a hole in it. He landed at the store with the oil running to his shoes and a fine light pair of trousers ruined. Much sympathy was expressed for him by the boys.

Mrs Currin son and daughter came from Corvallis Tuesday and went out to Williams and Mathison's threshing camp where she will cook for the harvesters.

J E Cronan, President of the Ione Bank, who has been in Portland for the past month, returned Tuesday.

J P Rhea came over from Walla Walla last Tuesday, to get something good to eat.

Willard Blake's boys have some young crows and are trying to teach them to talk.

Walter Puyear has enough green onions to feed the whole county. He is shipping them to Heppner, The Dalles and other points.

Opal Cochran is assisting Mr Perkins in the post office.

C J Currin came in from Corvallis Tuesday and will remain thru harvest.

Ione Proclaimer and Portland Journal - $2.

Wager of Battle.

In 1817 one Richard Thornton, called to the bar of the king's bench charged with the murder of Mary Askeford, in open court threw down his glove and defied his accuser, whereupon there was a pretty do. Wager of battle. It was supposed, had died a natural death in the dark ages, but Lord Ellenborough, after much consultation, of precedents held that it was still the law of England and ordered a field to be prepared. Thornton's accuser thereupon declining combat, the prisoner was discharged. Next year parliament passed an act abolishing this privilege of appeal to the strong right arm.

Picking on Him.

A first grade boy brought perfect spelling papers home for several weeks and then suddenly began to miss five and six out of ten.
 "How's this, son?" asked his father.
 "Teacher's fault," replied the boy.
 "How is it the teacher's fault?"
 "She moved the little boy that sat next to me."—Lippincott's.
