A LAWN PARTY.

Miss Agnes Pennington entertained last Saturday at their home on second street. The yard was lighted with chinese lanterns and the soft glow made the lawn beautiful. The evening was spent in playing games and music and Mrs. Pennington, with her well known skill, had prepared refreshments of the class that make people glad they are alive. Among those present were; Misses Cason, Opal Cochran, Mae Wattenberg, Erna Akers, Edith Voss, Letha Halvorsen and Agnes Pennington and Messrs Watson, Clisholm, Robert Sperry, Everett King, Ed and Roy Fuller, Ball, Shaver and Burrough

AN EXCITING TIME.

Last Saturday afternoon the deer in the lot next door to the Bank caused considerable of a hubbub for a time. Little Delmar Waters had daily seen the deer from the fence but having a little spare time away from mother and father concluded he would make a call and get better acquainted with the pretty creature. Mrs. Walker, aunt of Delmar and whom he had been visiting, missed him and on going out to look for his whereabouts, discovered him lying down and the deer standing directly over him. She called Gerald Rice, a small boy of ten years old, and sent him in to bring the little fellow away. Gerald in approaching, picked up a stick. As he reached the deer it ran at and struck him with its head and as he fell to the ground it began pawing him savagely, his screams called the town and Mr. Ed Moore jumped over the fence and drove the deer off. Gerald has some very painful bruises but little Delmar was unhurt. Both boys are satisfied to have the fence between them and the wild, but pretty animal.

AN IMPRESSIVE SCENE.

Last Sunday afternoon Rev Crawford of the Christian church of Heppner, here in Ione administered the rite of baptism on Mrs. Frank Engelman and her little daughter, Ruby. The place selected was on Willow creek just back of the old Hagne wood home and the sides of the stream were lined with people of all classes of thought who had assembled to worship with those of the Christian faith. In pure white dresses they, who were to accept the faith, went down to the water midst the singing of that old and well known hymn, "Blest be the tie that binds", and all hearts were touched at the earnest acceptance of Christ's injunction of the necessity of baptism to enter into living the life of the christian.

A LETTER FROM REV. BROWN.

Madras, Crook Co. Ore.
to the Editor of the Ione Proclaimer
er sirs, I see a sketch published in your paper to the extent that my daughter Evelyn was married to George Calkins in May and that he came to Madras to meet his wife. Now I openly say a black lie never was published and farther if their is not correction made for the same I will enter suit at once, my daughter is to young even if I were willing she is only 15 years old, so therefore it is a scandal as well as a reproach on my family so I wate a reply.
Rev J D Brown
the father of Evelyn Brown
As we were fearful, our language was too feeble to suit the Reverend gentleman, we have printed his letter exactly as he sent it and know he will be pleased—Editor.
