LOCAL.

All communications, as far as possible, should reach us not later than Tuesday night. Please bear this in mind and have communications in on time.—Editor.

Anyone in need of lime, cement, and shingles call and see G F Parker before going elsewhere.

Archer Rice has purchased the Dray business of Watson and Conser and has placed Henry Clark in charge of the reins. The public is sure to obtain good treatment from these men.

J E Cronan returned Thursday from a business trip to Portland.

Archie Cox came in from his Rhea Creek ranch and crated and took home the deer that has been in the yard at the bank all summer. He has several others and will put this one among them. He had dinner with the Proclaimer people and took home our daughter, Glen, to stay a few days and will take her on to Hardman where they will attend the races.

Mrs Ross Campbell of Pendleton will be in Ione with a first class stock of Millinery, on Monday, October 4th and will remain one week.

Miss Simpson returned from Portland Thursday where she has been for the past three months.

Jesse Mason's have moved into the L M Hills house on 3rd street.

We would think this a good time to get in a little ready money and also clean up the ranch of all the old cast iron, rags, copper, rubber and bottles as Mr Swanson is buying all the old junk he can. It will probably be years before you get a chance like this and he will not buy any more after the 9th, so you better get busy.

FOR SALE—Oil barrels (52 gallon) $1. each at the Power House. E E Miller, City Engineer.

There is to be a moving picture show tonight and Saturday night and this will be your last chance for this winter as Mr Engelman is going to take it away.

Mrs E A Race left Thursday for a visit with her parents in Moro.

Mrs Mary Gauger of The Dalles and Mrs Sparks of Pendleton came to Ione Wednesday to visit their sister, Mrs Pettys.

Dick Mc Elligott was in Thursday and says they have had three and a half inches of rain this week.

The Percheron Stallion "Gallas" owned by the Gooseberry company of farmers, died at the farm of Johnson brothers last Friday. This is the second fine animal this company have had die in the past year.

Harro Hendrix had three of his best horses cut in the wire fence last week.

Mr Bropst and wife of Caldwell, Idaho, has been in the city the last few days visiting D C Ely. Mrs Bropst is a sister of Governor Steunenburg of Idaho who was assassinated a few years ago.

They have been visiting in Portland and attending the Seattle fair and returned home this way to meet their old friend Mr Ely. As Mr Bropst is an Odd Fellow of years, standing, the members of that order called upon him, in a body, one of the evenings of his visit here.

Saturday, October 9th, is positively the last day that I will buy any cast iron or junk of any kind. C W Swanson.

All kinds of New Stationery and some dandy Birth-day Postals cards at the CHICK PHARMACY.

Mr Burton, the insurance man, was in town a few days this week. J M Baker left Monday for Portland where he will spend the winter.

J S Henderson, wife and family who have been on the Herb Olden place for the past year, left Wednesday for Oroville, Washington where they will make their home.

John Mc Kenzie, a one time resident of Ione and a heavy property holder here, but who now lives at Scott's Mills, was here last week and started overland for his home with a band of horses he has had here in pasture. Hal Ely went with him.

J P Rhea who has been down here for the past ten days, left for his home in Walla Walla Monday.

T J Carle left for Portland Monday to attend the Funeral Directors Association of Oregon and Washington, also the National convention, which is in session there.

A A Agee, wife and family and Mark and Miss Irene Agee left Tuesday for Ferdinand, Idaho where they expect to stay for some time.

Mrs Kate Lane came down from Heppner Monday on business.

Mrs Jim Barnett and children went to Weston Wednesday for a visit with her mother Mrs Allyn.

Tom Wilson came up from Portland Monday for a few days visit with friends.

George Utt came up from Ocean Park California where he has been for the past year. We understand he is going to stay here and farm his place. He knows a good thing when he sees it.

NOTICE—There will be no electric lights, after Saturday night, October 2nd, for about ten days as the boiler at the engine house is being moved.

Get your lamps ready.

Mrs Cochran of Cottage Grove, mother of Mrs Archer Rice and Mr Rufus Cochran came up Saturday for a week or ten days visit.

A C Pettys made an overland trip to Heppner Saturday and hauled the editor over too.

THE HALL OF FAME.

Count Boni de Castellane was recently publicly snubbed by George J. Gould in the lobby of the West End hotel, in London.

Asa S. Field of Irattleboro, Vt. is one of a family of five children whose ages aggregate 420 years. They are scattered from Vermont to California.

J. W. Beers of West View, Pa., is said to have one of the most valuable shorthand libraries in the world. It includes practically all the systems invented since the year 1700.

The new commander of the national guard of Pennsylvania, Major General John A. Wiley, is a veteran of the civil war and commanded a brigade of Pennsylvania troops in the war with Spain.

Probably no man in central Maine has played the cornet at more dances than George W. Sanford. He is a horseshoer and edge tool maker by trade and has lived in Guilford, since 1880.

Lieutenant Graetz of the Prussian army has started from German East Africa in an attempt to cross that country in an automobile. He carries a machinist, a cook and a native servant.

Harlan I. Smith is making a preliminary archaeological reconnaissance of Wyoming for the American Museum of Natural History. This state is the center of an extensive field unknown archaeologically.

Governor Frear of Hawaii was inaugurated recently. Mott-Smith has qualified as secretary of the territory, A. S. Hartwell as chief justice of the supreme court and Judge Ballau as associate justice.

Judge George A. Carpenter of the Chicago juvenile court declared on the bench the other day that if the hairbrush were used more often—"and not on the head"—many of the cases which now occupy so much of his time would never get into court.

The number of people in Winthrop, Me., who have lived to be more than ninety years cannot be beaten by any other town of its size in New England. Elias Miller, aged ninety-seven; George S. Fairbanks, ninety-two, and Abel Robinson, eighty-six, recently celebrated by taking an automobile ride.

R. S. Barrett, proprietor of the Daily Record of the City of Mexico, has returned to his home from London and has decided to establish in the British metropolis a daily newspaper along the lines of the up to date American dailies. He says he will import reporters trained in American journalism and will use American presses.

Earthquake in the Desert.
 Hans Doring writes of a singular experience in an earthquake while traveling in the desert of Gobi: "I had just dropped off to sleep when I woke up with a feeling of great anxiety, which I could not explain other than that I had a presentiment that some great danger was impending. It was explained soon enough. All of a sudden while I was still wondering whence my sudden fear came I heard a loud noise beneath the ground which sounded as if a subterranean express was approaching. Nearer and nearer it came, and before I could get off the bed on which I had been sleeping the compound and the whole hamlet were shaken by an earthquake. I thought that my last hour had come and expected to see the walls collapse. The rafters of the roof rattled on the beams, and the whole house shook. If the house had been higher it would have collapsed, but the walls, not quite ten feet high, are built of mud, with an elastic framework of wood to carry the roof. It appears that these houses are built to resist earthquakes, their simplicity and elasticity saving them from destruction."

THE WAY HE USED TO DO.

Sometimes when I come in at night
 And take my shoes off at the stair
 I hear my pop turn on the light
 And holler, "William, are you there?"
 And then he says, "You go in bed."
 I knew that stealthy step was you.
 And I asked how, and then he said,
 "'Cause that's the way I used to do."

Sometimes when I come home at six
 O'clock and hurry up my chores
 And get a big armful of sticks
 Of wood and bring it all indoors
 My pop he comes and feels my head
 And says, "You've been in winter."

When I asked how he knew, he said,
 "'Cause that's the way I used to do."

Sometimes before a circus comes,
 When I'm so willing as can be
 To do my chores, and all my chores
 They all take turns at helping me,
 My pop he puts 'em on the head
 And says, "You like a circus too?"
 When I asked how he knew, he said,
 "'Cause that's the way I used to do."

And lots of times when he gets mad
 Enough to whip me and scold me
 He never says another word
 Like I am—well, at last he says
 He wants a whipping, and he says
 He wants to drive, "I can't whip you
 For that, although I should," he says.
 "'Cause that's the way I used to do."
 —W. Fisher in New York Times.
