"You've GOT To Earn MORE"

It isn't a question alone of whether you want a better salary—it's a hard condition of life that you must face to protect yourself and those dependent upon you.

You can't stand still—if you don't want to go backward, you must go forward—that is, you've got to earn more.

Earning more means holding a better position—indeed, independence, happiness, and a chance to provide for the future.

Thousands upon thousands who once held low, poorly paid positions now earn high salaries as a result of letting the INTERNATIONAL CORRESPONDENCE SCHOOLS show them how to accomplish the change. During last year about 4,000 students voluntarily reported increases in salary amounting to over two million dollars! Every month an average of 300 men voluntarily report to us advancement in position and earnings. Why not make YOUR start this month?

HOW TO DO IT

Simply mark on the coupon the position you wish to secure, then tear out and mail the coupon to the International Correspondence Schools. This puts you under no obligation whatever but allows our experts to adapt a Course to your individual needs and circumstances.

You've got to earn more money. The I. C. S. will help you. Will you take the start today?

Odd Bits

Allentown, Pa.—Paul and Fred Goldsmith of Commick, L. I., took refuge in a barn during a storm. The lightning struck a pillar against which Paul was leaning, ran down it and ripped the man's shirt entirely from his body. Paul's body was scorched but Fred was knocked unconscious.

Lake City, Fla.—Georgia Garner, 9-years-old, coughed up a small metal doll which she had swallowed three years ago.

Topeka, Kans.—A. C. Bartell, police court reporter, had a tip that some persons had buried beer in their back yard. He obtained a grave digger's spade and stealthily entered the yard. After much labor in what appeared to be a newly made grave, he dug-up three chickens which the people that day had buried.

Wakarusa, Ind.—When Coroner Dr. Walkinshaw performed an autopsy on a young woman following her mysterious death, he found that her left lung was no larger than a lemon; that her right lung was one-half normal size; that her heart was about one-half normal size and that her liver was many times larger than it should have been, extending to her fourth rib and up into her shoulder. The woman was 21 years old, and died of poisoning of the intestines.

Middletown, N. Y.—To celebrate their eighty-sixth birthday Mrs. J. C. Barret of Edmonston, and Mrs. Nathan V. Band of Leonardville will be rocked in the presence of their guests in the old cradle in which they were rocked when babies. They claim to be the oldest twins in the state.

Temple, Tex.—Cutting roses in her garden, Mrs. Ed. G. Talley heard her baby cry in the house. She started to run indoors, tripped over a lawn mower and fell. The scissors in her hand pierced her heart killing her instantly.

Crane, Mo.—W. H. Hilton, 65 years old, has a peculiar affliction which prevents his speaking to persons near him. He can talk to animals or persons at a distance.

Philadelphia, Pa.—Sitting on the doorstep of her home, Mrs. Maddelena Balsina heard her baby utter a cry above her. She looked up to see the child in a window on the third floor lose its balance and fall. The mother sprang under the window in time to catch the child. Neither was injured, beyond a slight cut on the baby's lip.

SYSTEM IN CITY BUILDING.

Same Principles Apply as in Commercial Development.

An important session of the convention of the American Civic Association was recently held at Washington and was devoted to city planning, with John Nolan of Cambridge, Mass., vice president of the association, presiding in introducing the subject, he said: "The subject allotted for this session is 'City Planning,' which needs in this association very little explanation because it strikes at the root of so many of our civic problems. I think that it is true that all successful enterprises of magnitude have been planned enterprises. They have not come about by chance. In city planning we recognize that millions of dollars in money and many things more precious than money have been wasted because of a lack of plan. Our streets, our parks, our recreation spaces, our houses and homes give ample evidence of all this. The first step, it would seem, toward the solution of our social and industrial problems is a comprehensive plan. We need transportation plans to solve our transportation problems; we need a zone plan to district our cities, to give stability to land values and to protect districts; we need an industrial district in order to give efficiency to industry, and we need a plan for homes for the workers because without a plan there is not the slightest prospect that they will be properly housed. Commercial efficiency rests upon rapid and cheap transportation of merchandise, upon the proper location of water and rail terminals and facilities, upon distributing routes and upon contented people in good homes with playgrounds."

In union there is strength is a saying as old as it is true. It doesn't pay to be isolated and solitary. It is bad for business and it is ruinous to any healthy growth of life. Be neighborly. Don't sponge upon each other but be kindly and helpful. We cannot live upon bread alone. The brotherhood of humanity is a noble thought to cherish, and just as noble to practically live.

How about a Journal subscription this winter? We can serve you well.

There should be no friction in our little city. There should be a mental interest in the prosperity of our people. When we see indifference to the well being of its citizens, we see a town all wise men shun. Success and failure are each a part of life and often those who have made the hardest fight are vanquished in the race.

For the past week the Journal office has been hearing a great number of complaints—because we had six pages last week. Heart failure seemed to be the root of the evil. One fellow wrote and said that we were showing too much "pep" and that if we kept it up we would have half of the citizens in the county scared to death. Yes and he said that there are few eastern Oregon papers that have any thing on the Journal for "pep." This is another argument that Journal ads get results.

TOWNS FOR WAR VICTIMS.

Belgian Refugees in Holland Are Housed in Structures of New Design.

A new Belgian town in Gelderland about five minutes' walk from the picturesque village of Nunspeet, has arisen as if by magic. It has more inhabitants than any other in the Veluwe, the well wooded, hilly heathland of the province of Gelderland. The town is one of the cities of refuge for the Belgian fugitives that are being or have been constructed in various parts of Holland, and this particular place is made ready for a population of 18,000. A large tract of heather grown soil has been fenced in with barbed wire, and within this in closure has been built a town of wooden buildings, a town in three parts, each separated from the others by long wide stretches of heather.

The wooden sheds have double walls to exclude cold and are covered with plates of a newly invented material that is impervious to the wet. Each building can shelter 250 persons, who sleep in little rooms designed for five persons each. The buildings are heated by huge stoves.

Meals are served in great common dining rooms for 1,000 persons each, with long tables and benches along side. These dining sheds stand close to the kitchen, where ten big stoves are kept going all day for cooking. No separate cooking is allowed in the living and sleeping buildings and no smoking either—all for fear of a possible fire, which might have most disastrous consequences in this town of timber. The town is electrically lighted.

Another large refuge town for 10,000 people is being built at Ede, also in Gelderland, and other camps are to be made in other healthful localities for it has been found absolutely necessary to evacuate the first fugitive camps, those in north Brabant, Zeeland and Limburg.

In a kind of way the Belgians in these refuge towns govern themselves although the burgomaster is appointed by the Dutch government. Under him stand the several parish priests who know their flocks, having led with them to Holland. The priests choose trustworthy men to keep order in the various sections and to be spokesmen for the people if they have anything to request. Every day the burgomaster makes the rounds of his town himself, and any one that wishes may speak to him personally.

FLY CARRIED FIVE MILLION GERMS.

A RECENT experiment with 415 flies that had not been specially exposed showed them to be a germ carryall of from 1,250,000 to 5,000,000 germs each. When a fly "washes its hands" it means that it is just shaking off some thousands of germs. A fly no different from its fellows was caught in a sterilized net and immersed in a bottle of sterilized water. When the previously pure water was examined it was found that the creature had left more than 5,000,000 germs in its bath water.

Take the Hint. A worried young lady hastened the departure of a tedious caller by remarking as she looked out of the window, "I think we are going to have a beautiful sunrise."

Milton's Retort. John Milton was not a wit, yet he is reported to have made a crushing reply to a question from Charles II. "Do you not think," said the king, "that your blindness is a judgment on you for having written in justification of my father's murder?" "Sir," replied the poet, "it is true I have lost my eyesight, but if all the calamitous providences are to be regarded as divine judgments your majesty should remember that your father lost his head."
