

CLOUDBURST IN DRY FORK

Auctioneer
Farm Machinery, Livestock
Merchandise

I will hold a Public Sale, in Ione on JUNE 21, 1913, so bring in anything you have for sale.

E. E. MILLER

THE IONE HOTEL

Caters to the trade of everybody wishing first class accommodations at very reasonable prices. Our tables supplied with the finest the market affords. Commercial trade given special attention. We employ white help exclusively.

Special Family Dinner Every Sunday 50c plate

M. B. HAINES, Prop. West Main Street

ICE CREAM PARLOR AND CONFECTIONERY

Famous "HAZELWOOD" Ice Cream Served at our New Parlors, First Door East of the Ione Hotel, Every Day.....

Special Tables for the Ladies

Billiard and Pool Tables at old stand. A Respectable Place at Which to Spend a Pleasant Hour.

WM. RICE, PROPRIETOR

List your property with

R. N. Hymer

General Real Estate Dealer, IONE, OREGON

I have a large list of property in many other states. See me before you leave. I may have just what you want.

Money to Loan on First Mortgages

BLACKSMITHING

General Repair Work

Horseshoeing--Tire Setting

Automobile Repair Work

All Work JOHN H. WILT Guaranteed

Bank of Ione

Transacting a general banking business. Deposits received subject to sight draft or check. Collections handled and proceeds promptly remitted. Foreign drafts issued at reasonable rates.

Interest Paid on Time Deposits

We offer all accommodations consistent with sound banking. The funds of this bank are handled in a conservative manner and are safely invested.

Officers:

J. E. CRONAN, Pres. T. J. MAHONEY, Vice-Pres.
 J. D. CRONAN, Cashier

WORST IN THE HISTORY OF THAT SECTION

Water Claimed to be Deeper Than at Heppner Flood--Fruit and Alfalfa on Rock Creek All Gone--Grain Damage Heavy.

Gooseberry, June 9, (Special to The Bulletin)--The biggest cloudburst in the history of this section fell in Dry Fork last Saturday. The losses were very heavy and those who know say that there was more water than at Heppner when that awful disaster occurred in 1903. The water in Dry Fork was 20 feet deep Saturday. The following are some of the losses known at this writing.

C. A. Lovgren, pumping plant, threshing machinery, 300 chickens and 450 acres of grain.

A. E. Dalzell, barn, 1 colt, buggy, wagon, grain and hay and 200 acres of grain.

Fred Akers, all of his grain. R. A. Farrens, a horse, killed by lightning.

Newt King, 12 pigs, 250 chickens and most of his grain.

J. E. Frazier, 300 chickens and most of his grain.

R. M. Akers, 250 chickens and about 100 acres of grain.

N. M. Johnson, 160 acres of grain.

Verne Jackson, a colt, all his grain and numerous other things.

A. A. Stewart and Lee Scrivner, 400 acres of grain.

Frank Golden, $3000 worth of hogs, implements and improvements.

W. A. Wilkin, 100 acres grain.

Burton & Wilson, pumping machine, all their implements, 9 hogs, all their grain and alfalfa.

A. L. Hudson, pump house and other damage.

The steel bridge above Flett's on Rock Creek was taken out, also Flett's house and many other houses on the creek. All the alfalfa and most of the fruit on Rock Creek is gone.

The roads are washed out and most of them are impassible.

R. H. Zinter of Gooseberry was in Saturday to meet his sister who came from Spokane.

J. C. Devin and J. A. Williams of Jordan Fork transacted business in Ione Saturday.

G. R. White of Lexington was here Saturday after harvest extras.

Mrs. Frank Engleman and Ruby are spending the week in Portland.

Miss Merle Williams is a Portland visitor this week.

Heppner, Ore., May 23, 1913 To whom it may concern: During the past year, Dr. Herbert W. Copeland, eyesight specialist, has fitted 5 pairs of glasses for myself and family and all have given entire satisfaction. Dr. Copeland is skillful, careful and reliable and I take pleasure in recommending him to anyone needing the services of an eyesight specialist. (Signed) L. H. Briggs

EMERSON'S FAILING MEMORY.

He Was Conscious of It, but His Amiability Never Wavered.

I had as a fellow guest a man who had long been intimate with Emerson and whom the poet was very glad to see. Talking with me after tea in the library, Emerson said:

"I want to tell you about a friend in Germany. His name I cannot remember," and he moved to and fro uneasily in his effort to recall it. "This friend with whom we have taken tea tonight, whose name also I cannot remember"--here again came a distressed look at the failure of his faculty--"I cannot remember his name either, but he can tell you of this German friend whose name I have also forgotten."

It was a sorrow to see the breaking down of a great spirit and his agitation as he was conscious of his waning power. And yet, so far as I could see, it was only the memory that was going. The intellectual strength was still apparent and the amiability of his spirit was perhaps even more manifest than in the years when he was in the full possession of himself.

This came out in little things. He was overzealous at the table lest the hospitality should come short, troubled about the supply of butter and applesauce, and soon after I saw him on his knees on the hearth taking care that the fire should catch the wood to above the evening coals that was gathering in the room.--From "The Last Leaf," by J. K. Hooper.

UNCONSCIOUS OF FAME.

Grote, the Famous Historian, Was a Man of Great Simplicity.

George Grote, the famous author of the "History of Greece," long the standard on that subject, was a man of great simplicity and was wholly unconscious of his own celebrity. Several anecdotes illustrative of this fact are given in "Some Famous Women of Wit and Beauty," one of whom is Mrs.

Grote. While Mr. Grote was walking in the park he would perhaps notice that one or two persons looked at him with some attention. He would at once turn to his wife in alarm.

"Have I got any dirt on my face, Harriet? Is there anything the matter with my hat?" and he would clutch his headgear with both hands. "Why are those people looking at me?"

Mrs. Grote's proud answer was, "Because you are George Grote, that's all!"

Once when he was on a visit to Cambridge Grote wished to see the professor of natural history, but was told that the professor was so busy dissecting something that he could not be interrupted, "strong magnifying power, powerful light, shirt sleeves up, cannot be bothered with anybody." The modest historian would have retired, but his wife persisted that it was Mr. Grote who wished to see the professor.

"What?" he cried. "Mr. Grote? Give me my coat. I must wash my hands." In a minute he had transformed himself and would not let them go for two hours.

Tom Carle

FUNERAL Director and Embalmer. IONE, OREGON

Harness and Saddlery

Complete line of Harness, Saddles, Whips, Gloves. All kinds of Strap Work done on short notice. Harness and Shoe Repairing given special attention.

:: BURGER & HIGGS ::

C. B. SPERRY

General Blacksmithing and Repair Work

Horseshoeing a Specialty

WORK DONE PROMPTLY

See "BIZ" at the

"Shamrock" Saloon

For all kinds of fancy Wines, Liquors and Cigars

Fresh Beer, bottle or draught

Make my place your headquarters when in Ione.

Frank Engleman, Proprietor

McCORMICK MOWERS

Rakes and Stacking Outfits

Do not take chances on having your old machine break down and have to let your hay spoil and men stand idle while you are making repairs. Give me your orders for cutting machinery and repairs NOW and you can be ready without delay.

Look over your Mowers, Headers and Combined Harvesters and make out your lists at once and save phone and express charges. Letters and freight charges are lots cheaper and save you time.

BERT MASON