BULLETIN BULLETS

Why not have Sundry mail service?

Faith, hope and work constitute a trinity that will keep us young.

Men talk as much as women but they generally get pay for it.

A smile is the minted gold of good nature, and it brings in other kinds of minted gold.

Success should be grasped with clean hands. Otherwise it will become so smudged and dirty as to lose its lustre.

Kindness is a good thing whether it brings a return or not. It oils the bearings of life and makes the wheels run smoothly.

ROOSTER INJURES BOY.

One Eye Picked Out as He Tried to Protect Sister.

South Norwalk, Conn.—Mabel, the four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Griener Lent of this place, was knocked down by a rooster, and her brother Victor, one year her senior, who went to her rescue, had one eye picked out and the other one seriously injured.

Mabel had gone to collect eggs in the henry when the rooster, a large Plymouth Rock, pounced on her and bore her to the ground. The rooster's spurs penetrated her arms and legs, and she cried out in pain. Had she not held her arm over her face she might have fared the same as did her brother.

Her screams brought Victor to her side. He attempted to fight the rooster, only to be knocked down and seriously injured. The children's parents hurried to the scene. The father chopped off the head of the rooster and threw him in the river.

Physicians hope to save Victor's right eye, but the left is gone entirely.

MAN MAY HAVE BEAUTY.

Board of Arbitration Gives Damages For Loss of It.

Danville, Ill.—A board of arbitration in the case of a machinist, Charles Chick, against the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad, under the compensation law, has decided that a man can possess beauty and obtain damages for loss of it.

Chick was struck in the eye by a piece of steel last September when at work. The pupil was destroyed, and he asked damages for loss of time, for the handicap by reason of loss of the eye and loss of beauty.

The railway company claimed that a man does not possess such a thing as beauty, but the board decided Chick's appearance had been damaged $200 and that he suffered $500 more in damages to his eye and in loss of time.

The board was comprised of five attorneys named by the court and was headed by Arthur Hall, famous University of Illinois football coach.

THE SANDS O' DEE.

"Oh, Mary, go and call the cattle home,
And call the cattle home,
And call the cattle home,
Across the sands o' Dee!"
The western wind was wild and dank w' fonn,
And all alone went she.

The creeping tide came up along the sand,
And o'er and o'er the sand,
And round and round the sand
As far as eye could see.
The blinding mist came down and hid the land,
And never home came she.

"Oh, it is weed or fish or floating hair—
A tress o' golden hair,
A drowned maiden's hair—
Above the nets at sea?
Was never salmon yet that shone so fair
Among the stakes on Dee?"

They rowed her in across the rolling foam—
The cruel, crawling foam,
The cruel, hungry foam—
To her grave beside the sea,
But still the boatmen hear her call the cattle home
Across the sands o' Dee.
—Charles Kingsley.

WHEN PITCHER BROWN WAS NOT RECOGNIZED.

Recently a Cincinnati friend and admirer of Mordcau Brown entertained the three fingered pitcher at one of the fashionable country clubs in the vicinity of the Ohio city. Said friend introduced the miner to a great baseball fan, and they took lunch together on the veranda.

This fan failed to connect Brown up with the famous pitcher and during the course of the conversation asked him if he liked baseball.

"I certainly do," smiled Brown. "So do I," enthusiastically. "I just love to get out and play whenever I can. Do you ever play?"

"Occasionally."

"What position do you prefer?"

"Oh, pitching, I guess."

During this time Brown had his right hand on the table in full view, showing his world renowned three fingers.

The last remark was too much for the man who had brought Brown out to the club. He couldn't help introducing Mordcau to the fan again.

It is said the expression which spread over his map was wonderful to see when he wised up.

COVELESKIE COMING BACK.

Once Famous "Giant Killer" Will Be Given Another Trial.

Coveleskie, who a few years ago attracted attention to himself by beating the New York Giants out of a pennant by winning three games out of five from them in a crucial series, but who since that time failed on every major league chance he was given, is to return to the major league ranks ere long.

Coveleskie is now a member of the Chattanooga club of the Southern league, where he is pitching remarkable ball. He is wanted by both Detroit and St. Louis, and the latter club appears to stand the best chance to acquire his services, because it has some sort of an agreement with the Southern league club whereby players are to figure in a trade.

Coveleskie may make good in this company, but he will have to improve a whole lot before this is possible, for the only time he ever showed anything was the fall he made it possible for the Phillies to stop the Giants from winning a pennant. And it was because of this performance that he won the nickname of "Giant Killer."

Number Thirteen Doesn't Sother Him.

Robert Coleman, the Pirates' young catcher, made his big league debut Friday, the 13th. There are thirteen letters in his full name, and he had thirteen chances in his initial game.

BASEBALL IN SMALL METER.

No. the first name of Pitcher Gregg of the Clevelanders isn't Yean. It is Ryanus—Yean for short.

Young Joe Boehling not only leads the American league pitchers in games won, but also heads the team in batting with a mark of .333.

Pitcher Hube Evans, who has just been recalled by the Naps from the New Orleans club, has been the property of the Clevelanders for three years.

Johnny Lavan, the former Michigan shortstop, took the best fielding candidate for Bobby Wallace's old position that the St. Louis Browns have had in some time.

Joe Bell, captain and star outfielder of the University of Michigan team, who has signed with the St. Louis Browns, hit .425 in the college games of the season.

LOCAL ITEMS

Miss Nellie Leyman of Cincinnati is visiting at Gorton's.

There will be four fine reels at the picture show tonight.

B. C. Miller was in town from Cecil last Saturday transacting business.

Miss Dalles Perkins arrived this evening to visit her father E. T. Perkins.

Mrs. Rose Fear and daughter who have been visiting at C. B. McNabb's returned to Portland today.

Miss Dona McMillan of Lexington is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Wilnot.

A 6-lb girl made her appearance at the Lewis Brown home in Ione last Thursday night.

W. H. Cronk has ordered a standard Burroughs adding machine for his office at the Tumalum Lumber Co.

Bob Sperry was at home over Sunday from Morgan where he is working in the Balfour, Guthrie warehouse.

Ben Morgan, who is buying grain for M. H. Houser, has his office opposite the hotel in one of Frank Holmes' buildings.

Miss Audrey Woolery left Sunday to join her sister, Miss Velmalisa, and a party from Portland for an outing at Mt. Hood.

Robert Capen has purchased Geo. Franks' interest in the Independent Dray line and has consolidated the dray business with "Shorty" Calkins.

Frank Christensen has charge of the drugstore while Chick's is away. Frank arrived here several days ago and has been busy shaking hands with his old friends.

E. R. Lundell made an auto trip to Walla Walla to attend to business matters, returning last evening. Between here and Pendleton he averaged 20 miles an hour.

Joe Beezely and Claude Taylor were up to Walla Walla last week and returned home Sunday. We understand the attraction up there was a couple of suffragettes.

J. W. Beckett, a former county commissioner whose home is now in Portland, is visiting his sons on the ranch south of Ione during harvest. He drove in town after harvest hands in his auto last Friday.

Fred Ritchie bought the small frame building, formerly on the corner lot east of the Baptist church, and has moved it to his lot just east of the Congregational parsonage, where he is now living.

Geo. Hale, who is working for W. D. Newlon on the well drill near Lexington, came to Ione yesterday to have the doctor look after his hand. Blood poison has set in where he had worked a blisiter on his hand. It is not serious.

A. B. Robertson, former agent for the Balfour, Guthrie, Co., at Arlington, now located at Conjon, drove over to Ione Sunday in his machine to consult J. E. Swanson on business matters. He was accompanied by Jas. Walker.

Dick Turpin of Portland, arrived here Sunday to visit his old friend W. H. Cronk, and look over the city with the view of locating here. Mr. Turpin is a barber by trade and worked for Mr. Cronk when the latter was in tonsorial business at Grand Valley.

Ike Howard returned from Portland last Thursday evening and the rest of the family arrived Saturday. While below, he bought a car load of two-year-old Jersey and Holstein heifers and shipped them to Ione. They came from California where the hot weather has destroyed the pasture.

LOW SPEECH.

You know we condemn lowness of speech, and justly so, for the gift of speech is peculiar to a man and a boon which God granted to him, that he may be distinguished from the rest of living creatures. This gift, therefore, which God gave us in order to enable us to perfect ourselves, to learn and to teach, must not be employed in doing that which is for us most degrading and disgraceful. We must not imitate the songs and tales of ignorant and lascivious people. It may be suitable to them, but it is not for those who are told. "And ye shall be unto me a kingdom of priests and a holy nation" (Ex. xix. 6).—Matthews.
