

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Death to headaches—glasses fitted by Drs. Lowe and Turner.

Mr. and Mrs. Glasscock left Tuesday for Pendleton where they will stay during the Round-Up.

An umbrella was left at the District Attorney's office last Saturday afternoon.

"Hog" Clark is taking Frank Glasscock's place in the barber shop while the latter is attending the Roundup.

W. W. Smead said, "Don't forget to send me the semi-weekly while I am at the State Fair."

HORSES FOR SALE—5 or 6 head old up. Inquire at Herald Office.

Harve Rush, who came over from Canyon City to be on hand for the fair, left for his home last Tuesday.

Nearly every student at Corvallis and Salem from Morrow County is receiving the semi-weekly. How about your son or daughter?

Have you one or more fresh dairy cows for sale? If so notify the Herald.

Remember that Drs. Lowe and Turner, eye specialists of Portland, will be in Heppner again Sept. 27, 28, 29. Consult them at the Palace Hotel Parlors.

Miss Nellie Cooney who has been visiting Mrs. Frank Monahan in this city during the fair, returned to her home in Condon last Tuesday.

B. K. Searcy went to Condon last Tuesday to get his camping outfit in preparation for a few weeks in the mountains.

The Herald knows of a family which has two good rooms which they will rent to the right parties. If you are looking for good rooms, drop in the Herald office and tell us your wants.

Mrs. Louis Campbell returned to her home in Pendleton on Tuesday after spending a few days during fair week at the Campbell home in Heppner.

A customer wants 10 fresh dairy cows at once. Inquire at The Herald Office.

Carl Kirk, a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Crockett Kirk and who has been staying with them for the past few days, left for the Round-Up last Tuesday. He lives in Eugene.

O. M. Yeager builds good houses, barns and cement cellars.

C. L. Barlow of Ione interviewed the Chancellor of Exchequer of The Herald during the fair and put himself in good standing with our subscription department.

O. M. Yeager furnishes blue prints free when he does your building.

Chester Maddock and Walter Hayes will keep in touch with the happenings of Heppner and Morrow county through the columns of the Herald while attending the U. of O. this season.

For rag rugs and rag carpet weaving and also rugs from old ingrain carpets, see the Heppner weaver just south of the Catholic Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Smith, from Rush, Kansas, left Heppner yesterday morning, homeward bound. They have been visiting the Robert Powell family at Long Creek, Oregon, and Mr. and Mrs. Powell accompanied them as far as Heppner.

Wm. Scrivner has a small safe and two showcases which he will sell cheap. Look at them in the Commercial Club rooms next to his shop.

Chas. Burchell of Lexington was in Heppner during the week and ordered The Herald sent to his wife and daughter who are attending the Normal school at Monmouth. Mrs. Burchell is taking a course in domestic science and Miss Burchell a course in teacher's training.

FOR SALE—16 Poland China shoats, eligible to registry. Also one good Durham cow, a heavy milker. James Bellamy, Castle Rock, Ore.

The City Council met last Monday night and allowed the salary of the four extra police added to the force during the fair. The second reading of the new ordinances concerning the Pest house and driving on the streets were read and with this concluded the Council adjourned.

Yes, most everyone reads the semi-weekly. Everyone that can read.

Chas. Cason of Lone Rock, brother of Walter Cason, was in Heppner to be at his brother's side during the trial. Mr. Cason is an old-timer in the Lone Rock country and has been a Methodist preacher for many years.

French Burroughs, one of the scientific and successful ranchers of lower Rhea Creek, did not forget the Herald while attending the fair and handed us the price of his subscription. We expect to tell more about Mr. Burroughs in these columns at a future date.

Lincoln Bucks for Sale. I have on the way a car of the noted Coffin Brothers' Bucks. Those wishing same would do well to place orders with Jack Hynd, Cecil, Oregon.

OREGON FIRST. C. G. Casebeer, agent, Oregon Life Insurance Company. Best for Oregonians.

V. A. Fitzwald, representing Painless Parker, the Portland dentist, was in our city on Wednesday night and gave his demonstration and talk on the streets. He is going over the state explaining the bill to be voted on this Fall making it possible for any graduate of a dental course to file his diploma with the State and be granted a permit to practice. He has a platform on the rear of his touring car which he uses for his demonstrations.

LOST—A brown mare, 6 years old and weighs about 1200 pounds. Is marked with a star on the forehead and with a brand on the left shoulder C. R., with a Z directly below it. It was last seen about two weeks ago near Parker's Mill. O. E. Wright, of Heppner, is the owner and will give $10 reward for its return.

Don't forget that Drs. Lowe and Turner, the well known eye specialists of Portland will be in Heppner again Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 27, 28 and 29, at the Palace Hotel Parlors. Call and let them show you the new Kryptok double-vision glass which bears no unsightly lines or seams to catch dirt, strain the eyes or come apart. They look like a single pair, yet answer the purpose of two, enabling you to read or to do close work and see distant objects perfectly. Free demonstration and satisfaction guaranteed.

NOTICE. My new Fall and Winter hats will be ready the first week in September. Mrs. D. B. DeLaney, Lexington, Ore.

There are several great men by the name of Stovall. Some of them are baseball men others are in the coffee business. They all rank high in their respective leagues. George H. Stovall plays Class A ball for Kansas City and another George H. Stovall puts in some mighty swats for Clossett and Devers, the men who made Golden West coffee climb into first division in the Coffee League. During the Fair everyone who got anyplace near the pavilion was attracted by the sweet smelling odors issuing from a booth on the south side. There he was, Geo. H. with the coffee cups. Golden West is good coffee. It is not made to sell, necessarily, but we understand that you can buy most any grade to suit your purse, and you can rest assured that whatever you buy is the best at the price and worth the money. All heavy hitters drink Golden West coffee and if you want to get up among the top liners, look to your coffee.

Let O. M. Yeager draw your house, barn and cellar plans.

A complete line of new and up-to-date set rings at Haylor's.

The Herald Editor noticed that Dennis McNamee was about the streets as usual yesterday but he walked with a lighter step and a twinkle larked in his eyes. Upon inquiry, Dr. Allison informed us that the reason for Dennis' apparently happy frame of mind was due to the fact that Mrs. McNamee had presented him with a new 101.1h son yesterday morning.

Walter Cochran of Ione is a new addition to The Herald's mechanical force. Walter was in our employ at the time the Bulletin was published at Ione and after spending the summer in the harvest fields has now resumed work in our employ and will remain with us permanently.

John Kilkenny came back a few days ago from the mountains where he has his sheep feeding.

O. M. Yeager, the carpenter, was in town from his work to spend a day with his family during the Fair.

Carl Rhea, of Echo, was among the passengers on the special train to the Fair from Umatilla County. Carl was formerly a resident of this city and is always glad for a chance to get back to his old stamping grounds.

The funeral of the late Chas. Earhart was held last Tuesday and interment was in the local cemetery.

Nearly every student from Heppner attending an out-of-town school gets the Herald each issue. It goes as often as a letter and carries all the news to the absent one.
