CHARLES A. BARRETT

Athena, Umatilla County, Oregon

Republican Nominee for State Senator 19th Senatorial District, comprising Morrow, Umatilla and Union Counties.

Biographical—Native of the State of Maine. Resident of Umatilla County, Oregon for 42 years. Have held the office of Mayor, Councilman and Chairman of Athena and School Director of the Athena district for many years.

Member of the Oregon Legislative Assembly two terms and Senator for the 19th District one term, now a candidate for re-election.

With the experience already had in legislative matters I believe that I can render valuable service to the people of the District and State. Have for many years been engaged in farming and in the farm implement business and know the requirements of the farmer and business man.

State interests—I favor an amended tax law by which the burden of taxation shall be distributed equitably and the time of tax payments fixed at dates when there is ready money in the country, one-half payable May 1st and one-half Nov. 1st in each year without interest penalty.

I favor such legislation as will assure a lower tax rate and to that end there must be rigid pruning of appropriations and the abandonment or consolidation of public offices and commissions wherever possible.

I favor such amendment to the Corrupt Practices Act as will make it clear, reasonable and effective and give it teeth to punish where its spirit is not observed.

I favor the enactment of such statutes as will insure law enforcement without recourse to martial law.

I also favor the placing of initiative petitions in the hands of the several County Clerks and registration officers of the several precincts and prohibiting the employment of paid circulators. I favor the amendment of the Direct Primary law so that candidates for public office may have the election either to circulate petitions or to pay a reasonable election fee to the County or State as the case may be. The petition is becoming a nuisance to every registered voter.

(Signed)
CHARLES A. BARRETT.

Successful English Waterworks

In its management of the Sheffield waterworks, according to a consular trade report, the municipality has considered it its duty to provide the best service at the lowest possible charge. The system consists of a series of high lying reservoirs which supply entirely by gravitation an extensive area, including a wide range of heights.

The gathering grounds are elevations ranging from 600 to 1,400 feet, where the average rainfall is about forty inches per annum. This water is intercepted and impounded in twelve artificial basins, formed by earthen embankments carried across the natural valleys, drain an area of 2,400 acres and have a total capacity of 3,000,000,000 gallons. From these basins the water is conveyed along a water course and through trunk mains, varying in diameter from fifteen to twenty-four inches, to service reservoirs within the city, some of which are "high level," to feed the higher parts of the district, while others are "low level," to supply the city proper.

From these twelve reservoirs of an aggregate capacity of 3,000,000 gallons between 12,000,000 and 16,000,000 gallons of water per day—nearly one-half of which is for trade and manufacturing purposes—are distributed throughout the city and district by means of 500 miles of pipes varying from six to twenty-four inches in diameter.

The exceptional purity and softness of the water make it pleasant to drink and satisfactory for general household purposes. For manufacturing and engineering purposes it is unrivaled, with the exception that its very purity and softness make it attack the inside of new lead piping. This, however, was overcome by the following simple treatment: In a cement vat chalk and water are thoroughly mixed by means of revolving fans, then the milky liquid discharged into the guide basin, where it mixes freely with the water supply for the town. This apparatus is worked by a three throw hydraulic ram under pressure of water from one of the higher reservoirs at a cost of 2 cents for every 2,500 gallons of water treated.

Such is the system of water supply evolved by the corporation in the twenty-five years that it has been operating. In 1888 the municipality took over the city's water supply and paid $10,122,388 to a previously operating company. Since the transfer $2,137,935 has been spent upon additional works and extensions of mains. The working expenses in 1887 were 18.33 per cent of the income, while those of 1913 were only 17.65 per cent in spite of the fact that wages have increased during the interim by more than 70 per cent. In 1887 the income was $303,831; since then it has increased greatly, amounting in 1913 to $1,113,800.

Memoirs of Napoleon

In Three Volumes

This man caused the last general European war.

His personal memoirs, written by his secretary, Baron De Meneval, are full of the most absorbing incidents, especially in view of the present great European struggle.

Just a hundred years ago, his ambitions bathed the Continent in a sea of blood. France alone, under his leadership, fought Germany, Russia, Austria, Italy, and Great Britain—and won.

Get these Memoirs Free

By special arrangement with the publishers of COLLIER'S, The National Weekly, we are enabled to offer a limited number of these three-volume sets of the Memoirs of Napoleon free with a year's subscription to Collier's and this paper. The offer is strictly limited—to get advantage of it you must act promptly.

Sherlock Holmes Stories Exclusively in Collier's

All the Sherlock Holmes stories published in 1914 will be printed exclusively in Collier's. The "Last Mystery" featured in the November issue will appear next week in the photographic edition of Collier's.

The same fiction writers will appear each week in other story columns.

Make Collier's yours! Encourage and widely spread. Consistent on Congress will continue to be an exclusive feature.

Special Offer to our Readers

Your one home paper and COLLIER'S, The National Weekly, together with the three volumes of Napoleon's Memoirs—all of these you get for the price of Collier's alone, plus 50c to cover the cost of packing and shipping the Memoirs.

Send your order to this office now. If you are unable to subscribe, your subscription will be extended to one year from the date of expiration.
