PROMINENT PEOPLE OF MORROW COUNTY

Facts Forced From Familiar Faces

By E. G. H.

PROMINENT PEOPLE.

As a race we have never had enough fruit. Most of our diseases are a result from over-eating and the eating of heavy, hard-to-digest foods. Meats and greasy foods may be good but the less we eat of them the better we are. Indigestion is a modern ailment with which the ancient was unacquainted. Fruit of all kinds, especially apples, tends to modify the desire for unwholesome food and increase the flow of bile, and their plentiful use will add to our happiness and length of days, by eliminating the dregs of much pessimistic philosophy. We need more apples.

Soil, sunshine, water and brains combined will produce more apples. At least this is the experience of one of our well known readers, Mr. L. A. Doble, who lives in the town of Irrigon. Sometime ago we called on Mr. Doble at his ranch and found him boxing apples for the market. He has a 25-acre patch of apples, "with alfalfa growing between the rows and hogs on top." Nothing is lost and in the problem of eliminating waste and taking up the economic slack, Mr. Doble has it down to a point where a crack out of the box is almost impossible.

The Doble land is gently sloping and what is termed excellent land to irrigate. On it is a neat, unpretentious home, the barnyard contains a barn for the cows, chickens and hogs and a place for the sorting and boxing of apples. Apples constitute the main crop to which they devote their attention. There are over 1500 trees on the place, 1100 of these being of the Delicious variety in which Mr. Doble has great faith as the ideal apple for this locality. The day we happened there he had gathered Winesaps, Spitzenbergs, Orenco and Yellow Newtons. These apples were large, well formed and of the type displayed by Irrigon at the Morrow County Fair and later by Morrow County at the State Fair and which were one of the main point winners which placed Morrow County in first place in County displays.

Mr. Doble told us that he shipped about 300 boxes this year and sold to local consumers 100 more. These apples sell for one dollar per box. Needless to say, they didn't pinch themselves, but have sufficient for their own use.

The Dobles raise other things than apples. We counted forty or fifty hogs on the place and aside from their small initial cost, the price they bring in the market is a tidy little sum and mostly on the profit side of the ledger. In the yard were four cows and two or three calves. Feed for the cows is raised on the land between the rows of trees and the dairy products which four cows can produce in a twelvemonth will total well up in three figures. Chickens and eggs raised for the market bring in a steady revenue and always find a ready sale.

There is a glamour in doing things on a big scale, something fascinating and compelling in the operation. And so it is with farming. To farm 2000 acres of land is no small undertaking and for one man to do the job with hired assistance is something which there is still considerable doubt as to its practicability. A prominent lady of Ione recently said, "We tried to farm 2000 acres of land but it would be in better keeping with the facts to say that we merely scratched the ground." She has a firm grasp on farm facts and observation carries out the statement that large tracts are not profitable, in other words, tackle something your own size.

To us it seems that to farm right implies a farm such as our friends the Dobles are found to possess. Here is a family cultivating 25 acres of land, supplying all of the necessities of life, enjoying good health, dependent upon no one and creating a surplus to add to the world's stock of useful commodities. Theirs is true living and to live well is man's main business and we have a lurking idea that the Creator had this in mind when man was designed and who in his goodness made this possible for all to enjoy.

"JUSTICE, SOMETHING WE HEAR MUCH ABOUT, BUT SEE SO LITTLE OF."

IS THIS JUSTICE?

To the Citizens of Heppner and Morrow County:

On Thursday, September 17, 1914, myself and my wife had rooms in the rooming house in connection with the Elkhorn Restaurant, in the city of Heppner. My daughter and son were employed in the restaurant at this time and owing to the great rush of business my wife volunteered to peel a pile of potatoes. While she was attending to this matter, a couple of drunk young men stepped into the doorway between the kitchen and dining room and stayed there until they became a nuisance to the waiters and the proprietor to have them moved out of the way and Gong Lane pointed out the sign, which read, "Keep out of the kitchen, give your orders in the dining room, we will be pleased to serve you, make no trouble."

The young men refused to move and Lane took a broomstick and struck one of them over the head. The young man caught Lane by the lapel of the coat and started to kick him. He was getting the best of Lane when the latter party appealed to my son, Jake, and asked Jake to put the young man out of doors. Jake was leading him towards the front door when the young man asked to be allowed to go back after his hat, which he had lost in the scuffle with Lane. He picked up his hat and started towards the door. My son, Jake, was still holding him by the lapel of the coat, when the other young man jumped on to Jake's back and struck him repeatedly in the back of the head and in other places. Jake went ahead and shoved the first young man out of the door, and then pulled the other man off his back and shoved him out also. The City Marshal was at the front door, on the outside, at the time, and took charge of the two boys, and turned them over to one of his deputies, ordering them to be locked in the jail.

The Marshal then went in and put my son, Jake, under arrest. My son refused to submit to this injustice, and a scuffle ensued. During the scuffle, my wife, who was peeling the potatoes as aforementioned, in the kitchen, heard the disturbance and, supposing the girls were having trouble, as drunk men during the fore part of the day had acted in a very ungentlemanly manner in the place she proceeded towards the dining room with a potato in one hand, and the small peeling knife in the other hand, asking, "what's the matter?" This in the manner of any person who would be attracted to the spot by the excitement. By that time the marshal had ceased to scuffle with my son, Jake, and several of the guests explained to the marshal that Jake had not struck either of the boys and had caused none of the disturbance. The marshal then went out of doors and in a few minutes returned with Sheriff Evans. The marshal put Gong Lane under arrest and Evans went into the kitchen where my wife had resumed her work, and put her under arrest.

The officers then started toward the jail, where they had intended to place Lane and my wife in confinement. Owing to the press of business, Lane proposed to put up a cash bond to guarantee the appearance of himself and Mrs. Dexter in court at a time to be fixed by the officers. The proposal was accepted and $20 each cash bond was given to the marshal.

The marshal set the time for hearing to be held the next day, but owing to the rush of business, the City Recorder agreed to hold over the hearing until the Monday following. Mrs. Dexter was in town all day on the Monday set for the hearing, and at various times was seen by the marshal, but at no time was ordered or requested to appear in court.

It appears that a certain party, representing Gong Lane, spoke to the marshal regarding the matter, several days after the fair, and at that time the marshal handed this party $20 of the $40 cash bail put up by Lane, and informed him that the other $20 had been retained by the City Recorder as a fine of $10 each upon the charge of "disorderly conduct," preferred against Lane and my wife, Mrs. Dexter.

At no time has Mrs. Dexter been accorded the privilege to plead to this charge. No semblance of a hearing was ever held to allow her to present evidence clearing herself from the charge, but at the present time the records of the City of Heppner contain a plea of "guilty" to the charge of "disorderly conduct" made for her by another party, without any authorization on her part whatsoever.

The part I wish to bring before the citizens of Heppner and of Morrow County is the fact that, without her knowledge, a plea of "guilty" was made to this charge and is now a matter of record. What innocent woman, or man for that matter, is there in this city or county who, as an innocent bystander, would like to be dragged into a matter of this kind and have a charge of this sort placed on the records of the city where they will stand for all time, without even being accorded the privilege of a denial his own mother handled in such an un-false and thereby strike this dark blot, from her otherwise fair name, off the records as they now stand?

What kind of a Court is this that conducts such a grave matter in such a slighting way? How would this judge, who imposed this unjust fine and made it a matter of record that an innocent woman was "guilty" of "disorderly conduct," when, as would be attested by several witnesses, she was entirely innocent of this or any other charge, like to have the name of his own mother handled in such uncerimonious and disgraceful way? Is it not possible for a person to protect their fair name in this great and glorious country, the land of the free, where chivalry is not supposed to be a matter of myth but a reality? Is there no way by which this woman can be allowed to disprove the charge now on record against her in the City of Heppner, and thereby have this dark blot removed?

Let the officials of the City of Heppner to accord this woman a "square deal," and ask that she be allowed to appear before the Court with witnesses who will disprove the unjust charge now held against her.
