COMMUNITY SHOCKED BY NEWS OF DEATH OF MRS. J. S. YOUNG

The people of the town and community were sadly shocked yesterday when it was told about the streets that Mrs. J. S. Young had died about 1:00 o'clock. Mrs. Young was brought to town Monday noon from their ranch west of town feeling very ill but it was not suspected in the least that she was in a dangerous condition. Last night she grew rapidly worse and it was found that she had an abscess on the brain. From that time until her death she was unconscious.

Mrs. Young was born in Linn County, Kansas, October 23, 1868. She was married to Mr. Young in Heppner on Feb. 17, 1885. They have lived with the exception of two or three years in Heppner, on their ranch in the Eightmile country. To them have been born seven children. Six of these are living and are Mrs. Eugenia H. Huston, Robert H., Harvey E., Elbert Ray, James Glenn and Eurita Fay. One daughter, Mary Pearl died twenty-three years ago when she was but four years old.

Mrs. Young's relatives lived mostly in Medford, but she had two sisters living in San Francisco.

Mrs. Young was one of those old-fashioned mothers, mothers who loved their homes and who gave the best part of her life in its upbuilding. She and Mr. Young came to this country in the semi-pioneer days and have done their part in making it a land of plenty. She was a member of the Federated Church of Heppner, and the Eastern Star Lodge and no truer, more consistent member's name ever graced their roll. Scarcely a person in this county will fail to remember her name when it is mentioned, for all knew her and to know her was to think better of you kind. We want to add a kindly word of encouragement and good cheer to the members of the family in their time of stress, only to say that your loss is not the only loss, for the entire community loses when such people who serve as powers for good pass from among us.

FORMER SHERIFF DIES AT PORTLAND

Again we are called upon to record the passing from this life one of Morrow County's most honored pioneers, Arthur Andrews, who came to Eastern Oregon in the eighties and lived for a number of years on a ranch in Sand Hollow. We clip the following from the Morning Oregonian of Tuesday, December 8.

Arthur Andrews, a resident of Oregon since 1864, died at his home, 1117 Cleveland avenue, December 2.

He was born in Ashtabula, O., November 9, 1837. In 1859 he married Elizabeth Gaut, who survives him. They came to Oregon by the Panama route, and Mr. Andrews for many years was the foreman in the Thomas Kay woolen mills at Brownsville. In 1885 they moved to Eastern Oregon, where he was engaged in stock-raising and farming. He retired from active business in 1911. Besides the widow, a sister, Mrs. Phoebe Wright, of Ashland, and the children, E. H., W. A., Ollie and Minnie Andrews, of Portland, and Mrs. I. L. Howard and Mrs. L. Putman, of Ione, Oregon, survive.

Mr. Andrews was a man of kindly disposition. He believed that we make our own sunshine, that "We laugh and the world laughs with us." In times of sickness and trouble he was genial, ever ready to exchange the pleasantries of life which mean so much. He was loyal to his convictions and judged his neighbor by the same standard that he wished to be judged by.

In July 1899 he was appointed to fill the vacancy in the Sheriff's office caused by the death of E. L. Matlock. In 1900 he was elected to that office on the Republican ticket.

Frank Glascock is another one of well known readers who is walking about wearing the smile known as the one which won't come off. They have a new baby boy and both boy and mother are doing nicely.

Grover Cox and wife left for California yesterday. They are going there for Mrs. Cox's health. Grover displayed his good judgment when he dropped in this office and ordered the semi-weekly sent to his new address.

Roy Campbell and Mr. Peterson were in the city yesterday to take part in the Oddfellow-Bekah social meeting, especially the feed.

W. T. Campbell, one of the up-to-date farmers west of town, was in the city today.

COUNTY TAX LEVY NOT YET DETERMINED

Elmer Beaman sold the bowling alley this week to Edgar Ayers and V. E. Baldwin. The new firm took possession yesterday. The local alleys have been enjoying a good business and the new proprietors will be on the job to please all the old customers.

We met the Anderson brothers, Leonard and Emil, at Ione a few evenings ago and they informed us that they have been hauling grain into Ione for 68 days steady. They had a fine crop this year and are still holding a few thousands sacks for a higher figure.

The basket social at the Fairview schoolhouse last Saturday night was a very successful affair and the school realized about $55. Wm. Barlow was the auctioneer and it is said that Bill is some shouter. Miss Woods is the teacher in this district. A fine program was rendered.

Roy Neill is still filled with the Thanksgiving spirit as the result of the arrival of a new daughter in the family born the first of the week in Heppner at the J. V. Crawford home.

Mrs. Percy Hughes, of the Butter Creek country, came to Heppner today to do her shopping.
