BRIEF AND BREEZY

Here's hoping you don't fall off the resolution wagon.

Arizona's two governors might try governing on alternate days.

To Rumania it must appear that the allies were so glad to have her enter the war that they just turned the whole thing over to her.

We see by a headline that "House of Representatives" so suppose that pretense now the senate also, will be called upon to return call upon the president.

The erection of a government pulp and paper mill has been approved by the joint committee on printing. The government uses 30,000,000 pounds of print paper a year—some of it to good purpose.

Federal Judge Landis, of Chicago, is the sort of jurist we admire. He dramatizes justice and makes it interesting.

Mexican generals regards the factional quarrels of their country as personal privileges.

Among the objects of the various belligerents, it is safe to say that Paris is no longer on the list of things that Germany hopes to get.

Congress cannot make the investigation into the print paper trust too thorough, or too drastic. These paper manufacturers have gotten together to "skin the public" and they have surpassed all other trusts, in the consciencelessness of their robbery. It is hoped that the government will mete out justice to them, which would result in placing many of them in suits of stripes for violating the anti-trust laws.

Tom Lawson, of Boston, of "Frenzied Finance" fame, has been having a few spasms because President Wilson's peace note shook up the Wall Street market and enabled one set of Wall Street parasites called "bears" to skin the other set of parasites called "bulls." What does the public care about what happens to either bunch of those parasites?

Everybody has kidded the flivver but it remained for Congressmen Gussie Gardner to go to Detroit town and bawl out Henry Ford.

There was talk last summer of putting Colonel Roosevelt in the United States senate, in the event of a Republican victory. But the senate is lively enough without him.

The course of Presidents Wilson in withholding information from Secretary Tumulty which might cause him embarrassment is considerable. In previous administrations taking the blame has been a part of the private secretary's regular duty.

Surgeons are talking about the day when they can transplant human organs from one body to another. Speed the day when human organs will not need to be transplanted.

Candidates are not required to learn all about diplomacy beforehand, or they would never become presidents, because life is too short.

By the way, who recalls the name of the town first made famous by the Deutschland?

Arizona's new Republican governor—the state has also a Democratic governor—must be a remarkably thin man. We read that when he applied with his followers for admission to the capitol, a guard "opened the door a few inches and admitted the governor."

The nation will avoid rash entrance into war when it becomes the duty of everyone to serve.

President Wilson hurt his ankle playing golf, which is more physical arduous than any of the heads of the nations actually at war have personally experienced.

Criticism of a man in Carranza's position is inevitable, but it cannot be charged that he acts hastily.

If love is blind how can there be love at first sight?

A stubborn fountain pen has interrupted many a man's flow of noble thoughts.

Getting the men out of the trenches might be more easy if some of the kings were to get out of their kingdoms.

Redmond—Deschutes county may construct a McKenzie pass road with federal help.

Riddle—Michigan men are bringing a sawmill with them to install near here.

Roseburg—The North Umpqua fish hatchery is to be improved this year. Hermiton country proves adaptable to prunes with a heavy yield and returns large.

Port Orford lumber mills will ship 30,000 feet of white cedar to Bremerton navy yards.

Klamath Falls—The new $13,000 steel bridge across the Link river is completed.

Railroad construction in Oregon in the past year includes: the Southern Pacific Co., complete Coos Bay line, 118.3 miles; O.-W. R. R. & N. Co., complete Eastern Oregon line to Crane 127 miles; California & Oregon railroad put in operation 15 miles of the proposed Grants Pass to Crescent City line; the Portland & Oregon City have 15 miles in operation and the Valley & Siletz complete 13 miles.

Stayton is becoming a prune and potato center.

Coos Bay may be chosen for an aviation or submarine base.

Donald is shipping in the neighborhood of $7000 worth of hogs each week.

Union City—A $5,000 community hospital is planned here.

Building permits for the city of 141 and total $198,933.00.

Cosburg—A platinum ledge discovered east of this city is causing great interest. Marshfield—The Smith Powers Logging railway has been granted a franchise along the county road between Bunkie Hill and Summit, a distance of 11 miles.
