PATRIOTISM AND FASHION

THE NOBLE WOMEN OF FRANCE HAVE SET THE STYLE

French women have made more sacrifices for the war than the women of any other nation, but have continued to dress as smartly as ever, and set the mode for their foreign sisters.

They have done this by making their own clothes and by making it stylish to wear simple gowns in war time. Now that war has come to America, patriotism and fashion alike demand that American women follow the example of France. You may best serve your country by doing things yourself that previously others did for you. Make your own clothes!
