PATRIOTISM AND FASHION

THE NOBLE WOMEN OF FRANCE HAVE SET THE STYLE

French women have made more sacrifices for the war than the women of any other nation, but have continued to dress as smartly as ever, and set the mode for their foreign sisters.

They have done this by making their own clothes and by making it stylish to wear simple gowns in war time. Now that war has come to America, patriotism and fashion alike demand that American women follow the example of France. You may best serve your country by doing things yourself that previously others did for you. Make your own clothes!

Blunders of a Sculptor.
Stroll back of the treasury department building in Washington into Potomac park and look upon the statue of General William T. Sherman. At each corner of the base stands a soldier figure in full uniform and equipment. Since the day of the unveiling military men have smiled at the lack of knowledge of military costumes displayed by the sculptor. Each figure wears a blanket roll over the right instead of over the left shoulder, making impossible the use of his rifle. The canteen rests on the left hip under the blanket roll, whereas custom places it on the right, and the cartridge pouch is placed on the right hip, while the military manner of dress prescribes that it be worn in front or on the side. —Washington Post.
