Hibernia Banquet Sunday

All plans are now complete for the biggest social event of the season in Heppner the occasion being the Hibernian banquet at the Palace hotel at 6:30 o'clock next Sunday evening. The banquet will follow initiatory ceremonies in the lodge room during the afternoon when a large class of candidates will be received into the order.

The entertainment committee has been fortunate in securing Hon. John R. Murphy, of Portland, to deliver the principal address of the evening. Mr. Murphy is well known as one of the foremost orators in the west. A splendid program of vocal and instrumental music will also be rendered during the evening by local artists.

Miss Annie Cork, of Monument, registered at the Palace Monday.

Tom Stancliff is back from The Dalles, where he accompanied a shipment of sheep sent out by L. V. Gentry a few days ago.

A large delegation from Heppner went to Lone Thursday morning to attend the Sunday School convention in session in that city.

After enjoying a short vacation Dr. Gunster, our resident veterinarian, has returned to town and is again at the service of his patrons.

The many friends of Rev. Father P. J. O'Rourke will be glad to know that he is reported very much improved yesterday and will probably soon be able to be on the streets again. Father O'Rourke was attacked several days ago with pneumonia and his condition for a day or two was considered quite serious.

S. W. Spencer, who suffered last week from a succession of rather serious hemorrhages from his nose, his many friends will be pleased to learn, is about all right again.

Arthur Edwards, who went to Camp Lewis with the last contingent of the Morrow county draft returned Monday after having been rejected by the medical examiners on account of eye trouble. Arthur says the conditions at the camp are good and he regrets having to leave. The drills are strenuous and the work is hard but Arthur says the boys are standing it fine.

Y. M. C. A. workers have been active all week doing missionary work for the cause in outlying districts of the county. Tuesday evening a party composed of C. E. Woodson, S. E. Notson and Judge Phelps went down to Lexington and held a rousing meeting there in the interest of the War Work fund. A big crowd turned out to hear the speakers and much interest was manifested. The same evening a party of high school boys, accompanied by Rev. Noyes, drove to Lena and held a fine meeting in the school house. The party included Garnett Barratt, Everett Pattison, Kenneth Binns and Herbert Hynd. Rev. Noyes and Garnett Barratt were the speakers. Wednesday evening a big delegation went down to Lone and held a rousing meeting in that lively town and Thursday evening Sam E. Van Vactor and S. E. Notson held a fine meeting at Eightmile. Wednesday evening Rev. McDonald, Sheriff George McDuffee, and Norton Winnard, high school boy, went to Hardman where they held a splendid meeting and aroused much enthusiasm.

Football Game Saturday

Moro High eleven will tackle the Heppner High team on the Heppner field Saturday, Nov. 17th and the home boys promise that there will be only "peace with victory" and that they propose to be the victors. The home boys are said to be getting in pretty good condition and those who know say that in the Moro bunch they will find worthy foemen. Every fan or near fan should turn out Saturday and help root the home team to victory. Game will be called at 2:30 sharp.

F. H. Robinson, attorney, of Lone, was a court attendant this week.

C. D. Robinson, well known citizen of Lone Rock, was a business visitor here Monday.

George and LeRoy Pearson, well known young men of the Lena country, were in town Monday making final proof on their homestead claims.

Lamont Slocum, who enlisted in the navy last spring returned a few days ago after having been honorably discharged from the navy on account of physical disability which resulted from an injury to his hip received while in the service.

F. M. Akers, who farms in the Eightmile country, was in town the first of the week doing jury duty. Mr. Akers reports that but little seeding has been done in his section because of the continued dry weather. Most of the wheat has been hauled to the warehouses but a large amount of it is yet unsold. Mr. Akers is fortunate in having sold his crop some time ago at a fair price and is therefore not worried about paying six per cent. interest on advance money.
