A Theodore Thomas Retort.
A characteristic story is told of one of the first rehearsals of the college choir of the Cincinnati College of Music, at which Theodore Thomas had reprimanded some of the sopranos sharply for inattention. "He treats us as if we were members of his orchestra" exclaimed an indignant singer to her next neighbor. Thomas overheard the remark and let it pass for the moment, but at the close of the rehearsal, as the performers were leaving the stage, he passed the lady in question and, turning to her, said very quietly, but with that biting sarcasm which those who knew him did not care to excite, "Madam, you will have to sing a great deal better than you do now before I shall treat you as I treat the members of my orchestra"—Memoirs of Theodore Thomas.

Origin of the T Rail.
Robert Livingston Stevens sailed from New York to Liverpool before the advent of the ocean steamer. In those days the passage took two months, and Stevens passed many an hour, jack-knife in one hand and a piece of wood in the other, brooding over a problem that had often worried him—how to run a railroad without stone stringers for tracks. He wanted to get an iron rail that would "hold" and would take the place of the timber stringers in the chair of the roadbed. Just before he reached England his whelming revealed to him the solution of his problem, and that solution took the form of a T rail with a broad base that could be applied direct to a solid wood support. That T rail is still in use on all the railways of the world.

Illiteracy in Spain.
In many villages and small towns in the interior of Spain no one knows how to read or write. There are in Spain 20,000 rural villages without schools which can be reached only by a bridle path, there being no highways or railway communication of any kind. Attendance at school is voluntary, not obligatory. Seventy six per cent of the children in Spain are illiterate.

Another View of It.
"How did Blues get all tangled up?"
"Tried to come between a man and his wife."
"Interfered in a family row?"
"Oh, no—tried to cross the street when each was coming toward him in an auto"—Florida Times-Union.

Ups and Downs.
"I threw up a good position to please that girl."
"Did she appreciate the sacrifice?"
"No, she didn't; she threw me down."—Baltimore American.

Finger Prints.
Finger prints for identification were used by the Chinese as long ago as the seventh century.
