Early Fire Alarms

An early morning fire at the Swob home near the warehouses in north Heppner alarmed the citizens many of whom believed the warehouses had been fired and their contents of precious wheat etc. threatened.

Mr. Swob, who works at the round house got up and built the range fire as usual and left the house before Mrs. Swob arose. Before she was dressed she discovered that the house was in flames and had barely time to save her two young children from their bed. The hose carts arrived in good time, as soon as the high pressure water was turned on the fire was quickly quenched. The house which belonged to Tom Morgan, was badly damaged and most of the contents were destroyed.

George Clark, of Lexington, went to Portland Tuesday to enlist in the navy.
