NO. 37

LEXINGTON ITEMS

Mr. and Mrs. Parks of Canada, returned to their home after a pleasant visit with their daughter, Mrs. Ralph Finley.

A daughter was born last Tuesday to Mr. and Mrs. Mike Powell who live on the place formerly owned by Robert Wilcox.

Mrs. McFerrin, mother of Mrs. Walter Hill, is here visiting her daughter.

Seeing by last week's paper that Mayor Notson had donated his salary and its equal for the Tobacco Fund for our boys "over there," we beg to ask what is the matter with the Mayor of Lexington? Has he come across with his salary for the fund?

The Breshears attended church at Heppner Sunday and found the roads to be terribly muddy.

Miss Rose Eskelson, a school girl 13 years old, has the distinction of being the only girl in Lexington who has knitted an entire sweater for the Red Cross society. The parents of an industrious girl like this should certainly be very proud of her.

Mrs. Florence E. Bauer, who has been enjoying an extended visit in St. Joseph, Mo., is now back in Lexington again.

The Fred Ritchie children are just getting over the chicken pox.

Guy Nordyke was a passenger for Seattle, Wash.

Mr. Wahrer, husband of Mrs. Wahrer, who was formerly Miss Antonia Bauer, one of our school teachers, returned to his soldier duties Sunday morning after a brief visit with his wife.

Mrs. John Piper and son Rufus are in San Francisco, called there by the very serious illness of Mrs. Piper's brother, who is in a hospital.

Mrs. S. A. Beymer was a Heppner passenger Monday night, going up on the Oregon special.

A daughter was born to the wife of Walter Hill, cashier of the Lexington State Bank, Sunday morning.

J. F. McMillan and wife have adopted a little girl about 5 years old. The little lady is called Claudia Bernice McMillan.

HARDMAN HAPPENINGS

Frank Glasscock and wife visited during the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Lon Knighten.

W. P. Prophet, wife and daughter Shirlie went to Heppner Monday on the stage.

Sam McDaniel and wife of Sinnott, visited Wednesday and Thursday last week with their daughter, Mrs. Maud Howell.

Mrs. E. E. Bleakman, Hardman postmistress, has recovered sufficiently to resume her duties in the office. Since she sustained injuries one day last week from a fall on the frozen ground, which confined her to her bed for a few days, Mrs. Ida Bleakman took charge of the office during her illness.

Mrs. Frank Barlow visited Tuesday with her daughter, Mrs. Jay Cox in Cason Canyon.

Miss Verna McCarty of Sinnott visited in Hardman the first of the week.

Frank Glasscock's children have been suffering from an attack of la grippe, but at present writing are much improved.

Mack Riley's smiling countenance is seen on our streets once more, Mack has been across Rock creek pruning fruit trees for Lotus Robinson.

Ed McDaniel made a business trip to Heppner Monday, returning Tuesday.

John Smith and wife, formerly of Long Creek, have moved into the Joe Howell house in town. Mrs. Smith, daughter of Mrs. A. Howell, is very ill suffering from a cancer caused from a tick bite. She was in Heppner a few weeks ago for medical aid, but as her case is a hopeless one she came to Hardman to be among relatives during her remaining days.

In spite of the bad roads Creed Owens, Heppner-Hardman mail carrier, has made the round trip every day in his jitney.

Agricultural Instructors Here

J. C. Hawkins and W. B. Oldham, federal agents representing the Department of Agriculture and co-operating with the O. A. C., are here arranging for a course of illustrated lectures on plant diseases, varieties, etc., and expect to spend two weeks in the county. Their work is intended somewhat as preparatory for the work the agricultural agent will undertake when he arrives.

Miss Cecil Sharpe, chief operator at the telephone office, has gone to California for a stay of several weeks for the benefit of her health.

John Kilkenny reports having seen a big air ship pass over his ranch Tuesday night. The machine was showing a strong light but showed no sign of making a landing.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Milholland and children have arrived in Heppner from Portland and have taken the cottage at May and Court streets, where they are getting settled. Mr. Milholland has been appointed manager for the Standard Oil Co. in Heppner, succeeding Mr. Nordling, who was transferred to Portland.
