

LEXINGTON ITEMS

Mrs. Dorothy West is working at the hotel again.

Miss Ruth Howard is back at her old desk in the telephone office in Burgoyne's store.

Why don't some one start a blacksmith shop here. It's badly needed, as the old one has closed.

School election will be held next Monday afternoon and from gossip heard we predict lively times about then.

Mr. and Mrs. Marsh White have gone to the coast in the hope that the change will improve Mr. White's health.

The Guild ladies have moved into the front of the McAlister building; the part that was formerly used for the postoffice.

Grover Swaggart is here visiting his mother, Mrs. Ben Swaggart. Mr. Swaggart went to Spokane and other points in Washington on a business deal.

A number of Lexington people had black eyes, noses, faces and hands last Saturday afternoon, the result of looking through darkened or smoked glasses at the eclipse.

Among the Lexingtonites away visiting are, Geo. White and family at Prineville, Cora Johnson with her sister and grandmother at Walla Walla, the Gentry children at Walla Walla, Mrs. Ola Ward at Portland and Elsie Allyn at Pendleton.

Mr. Dodge, the piano man, has been in town quite often of late, and he says business is quite good. Another piano representative from Portland was in town this week but he came a little too late, the territory having been thoroughly canvassed.

F. Q. Simpson, of Belyview, Minn., arrived here Sunday evening for the purpose of looking over the general resources of Morrow county. He has been going over considerable of the county during the week with D. E. Gilman. Mr. Simpson's visit may mean the introduction of some Minnesota capital into the county if conditions here look good.

Potatoes for Patriotism.

By eating potatoes instead of wheat the people of the United States can help win the war. We have not enough wheat for the Allies and ourselves. We have an abundance of potatoes. Wheat flour is a concentrated food and therefore good for shipping; potatoes are bulky and are consequently not suited for limited shipping space, nor are the Allies so short of potatoes as of wheat. Next to cereals, potatoes have been in this country the mainstay of starchy food, which supplies energy.

The more potatoes we eat, the less wheat we need. A medium-sized potato, weighing about 3 1/2 ounces, supplies about as much starch as two small slices of wheat bread one-half inch thick. In other respects also, the potato measures up well with wheat bread and even has the advantage over it in supplying certain salts which the body needs to counteract the acidity resulting from the use of such foods as cereals, meat and eggs. By exercising her ingenuity the housewife can prepare potatoes in many different attractive ways, thus increasing their proportion in the family diet and conserving wheat and other staples needed for shipment abroad. An important use of potatoes, also, is in the mixing of breads, in which mashed potatoes up to fully ten per cent may be used without detracting from its appearance or taste; in fact, many persons hold that potatoes properly mixed in bread, improves both appearance and flavor.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Minor, their daughter Blanche and Miss Edith Thorley, arrived from Portland last evening and will spend some time in Heppner. Miss Thorley, who has been studying music in the city, will spend the summer with her mother, Mrs. Eugene Slocum.

Wm. Ayers received a letter Sunday from his son Charlie, who is with the A. E. F. in Europe, and he says the boy is quite disgusted with the situation over there. He is still in England and is sore that they don't send him over to France to get into the big mix-up.

Chas. E. Short, editor of the Stanfield Standard, drove over from that town Saturday to witness the eclipse, his town not being favored with a ring side seat at the exhibition but being provided with only a bleacher ticket. Mr. Short was accompanied by his daughter and a number of her young friends and the party

NEW COSTUME SILKS

... AT MINOR'S ...

Shoppers at our store will find an abundant and rich assortment of the new Costume Silks, Twilled Silks, Taffetas, Foulards, Pongees, Tubs, etc.

These Silks are unusually attractive in their rich colorings and artistic designs and are immensely popular because of their good wearing qualities and their adaptability to the season's styles. Prices reasonable, too. See them at our silk counter and in the window.

Undoubtedly you will want a new Silk Petticoat to wear with that new Dress.

You will find here a wealth of changeable colorings and newness of design which characterize our silk petticoats as the most desirable offerings of the season. There are many styles in beautiful color combinations that have been created, it would seem, especially to be worn with the new skirts and costumes.

At no former time have values such as these been offered at more attractive prices.

Dr. Calloway, who recently succeeded to the osteopathic practice of Dr. Purkey here, is getting settled in his offices in the Roberts block and says he is mightily pleased with Heppner and those of the Heppner and Morrow county people he has met. His professional card will be found in another column of this paper.

Kenneth Binns, of the class of '18, Heppner high school, who did not complete his work with his class here, is in Portland where he entered the senior class of Lincoln high last week, expecting to receive his diploma from that institution. Mrs. Binns is also in Portland as a delegate from the O. E. S. of this city to the Grand Chapter which is in session this week in that city.
