HEPPNER WILL RISE AGAIN

Heppner will rise from her ashes a bigger and a better town than she has ever been in the history of her optimistic residents. Men who were swept clean of their earthly possessions by the recent fire picketed their losses with a smile and are beginning to get ready to build in again, make a new start and build a town worth while. Men do not grow old in this good old homelike grassy country as they do in less favored sections and being broke once in awhile is merely a detail of the game. It's the air and the big outdoors that puts the pep and courage into the people up here and makes them hard to down, and the fellow who has never been broke knows nothing of the real joy of getting on his feet, grabbing a new load and wading into step with his friends and neighbors who, by the way, are, by about 1000 per cent margin, the best people on earth. The Herald has neither space, nor time nor the inclination to boast much about Heppner nor peddle pretty phrases about her people and, anyway it isn't necessary, people on the outside who get to know Heppner and her people will find it out for themselves and if they don't it's their misfortune.

Watch Heppner Grow.

Dave and Arthur McAtee have purchased the fine lot adjoining the Palace hotel property from the Hill's lodge and are preparing to erect at once a concrete building on the north half of the 39x79 feet. The new structure will be occupied by Patterson & Clark, barbers and Louie Pearson, the tailor. It occupies are found the remainder of the lot, which has a 60 foot frontage will also be covered.

J. L. Wilkins is figuring on rebuilding the Palace corner with a strictly modern hotel and, it is understood, has the details of his project well worked out. No definite statement, however, is yet ready for publication.

Victor Groshens is clearing the debris from his late and, it is understood, has already had several offers for the property from parties who expect to erect a modern building.

Dennis McNamee, who owns a two corner at Main and May, is busy figuring on the details for a modern apartment house.

G. W. Vardis is the first man to get in the order in the town this year. He has received an old building on the east of his lot, placed a tent beside and is busy about and doing a big business in the past few

HURVANS HONOR MEMOIR

Members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians composed a resolution in Miss O'Hara's honor regarding the residence of Father R. J. O'Rourke, the resident before the eye of Mr. O'Hara's departure for camp Lewis.

A possible program of mutual numbers and short addresses was given. Those who desired in the mutual program during the evening were: Misses Kathleen McNamee, Peggy O'Rourke, Cecelia Keene and Mary Farley and John Kilkeny Jr. Short addresses were made by Rev. Father R. J. O'Rourke, John Kilkeny, E. L. Berry and J. L. Wilkins. Curran responded in a happy manner telling his friends that he would return with a real German as a trophy either dead or alive. Mrs. Frye Entertains. Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Frye entertained Wednesday afternoon in honor of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice A. Frye, who are visiting here from Chicago, Illinois. Those present were mostly old residents and friends of Maurice Frye who left here for the East several years ago where he has held a number of responsible positions as an operator and instructor in telegraphy.

A Wartime Romance.

Mr. George Cook and Mrs. Lulu Baker, both of this city, were united in marriage Monday evening at the home of Mrs. S. A. Potter, the ceremony being performed by City Recorder J. P. Williams. The wedding was of particular interest because of the fact that Mr. Cook left the following morning with his commission for American Lake to enter upon the course of intensive training by which he hopes to soon be fitted for the work which is set out for a few million American boys "over there" in making the world safe for Democracy. Both the young people are well and favorably known here and a host of friends will wish Mr. Cook a victorious trip to the European battle fields and a safe and early return to his bride, his parents and friends.

War Emergencies Threshers Report

The County Agent has just received notification that under authority of Section 2 of an act of Congress, approved by the President Aug. 10, 1917, all operators of threshing machines and combines are requested to make monthly reports of all wheat threshed. This report will be sent to the County Agent for tabulation, after which they will be forwarded to Washington, D. C. At the close of the season each operator will be expected to report on all grains threshed. Record books and report blanks are being mailed out from the office of the County Agent so that this requirement will place as little burden on the operator as possible. The report on the acreage of wheat and the amount of wheat threshed should be made promptly, so that it can be in the hands of the County Agent by the first day of each month.
