LUMBERMAN HAS PAINFUL ACCIDENT

W. L. Holmes, big mogul of the Tuma-Lum company at Lexington, was in Heppner Saturday with his arm in a sling and a willingness to tell his friends just how it happened. Mr. Holmes, it appears, owns a car of the Mustang variety which answers to the name of Ford and which he had been led to believe by the agent who sold it to him was of decidedly pacific temperament. He knows better now. The critic, Mr. Holmes says, had a habit of stopping frequently and it was sometimes necessary for him to do considerable "cranking" at it to induce it to proceed. The other day Ford took a spell of this kind and Mr. Holmes stopped around in front of the un-landed looking him sternly in the lamp began his little line of "cranking." Ford was in an ugly mood that day, however, and with a snort he made a vicious pass at his master with his middle front leg, caught Holmes on the forearm and fractured the large bone. Mr. Holmes is inclined to excuse Ford's ugly temper in the ground that the machine had been loaded with Willow creek moonshine.

Arnon Wright and family of the Elmer creek district, were in town shopping Saturday.

Did you notice that $x12 smile on Attorney Joe Nye's face lately? Mrs. Nye has returned from a visit with relatives at Salem and Portland.

W. H. Cronk, who is not a crank, but who is the efficient manager of the Tuma-Lum business at Iona was a business visitor here Saturday.

R. A. Campbell, well known young farmer of the Lexington district was a business visitor in Heppner Saturday. Mr. Campbell will keep posted on the Morrow county events during the coming year by reading the Herald.

Matt Hughes, Rock creek stockman who recently purchased his father's big ranch near Heppner, moved his family over from Rock creek ranch Friday and is establishing his domicile on the Hughes ranch.

Sherman Shaw blew into the Herald office Saturday to get another copy of last week's issue as some fellow had wiped his copy before he had time to finish it. Sherman says he can hardly blame the fellow who took it as the Herald is an absolute necessity in every well regulated home. All of which reminds us to remark "now is the time to subscribe," not only for yourself but as a Christmas present for some absent friend.

WHAT BOYS SAY ABOUT RED CROSS

Since the soldiers overseas have been informed by their officers that the American Red Cross will play Santa Claus this Christmas for all the boys in khaki who have no relatives in the United States, Red Cross Headquarters at Washington has been receiving hundreds of appeals. Incidentally the men at the front have taken this time to express their appreciation for the work done by the Red Cross "Over There."

Following are a few excerpts taken at random from letters inclosing Christmas Package Coupons:

"Dear Mr. Miss or Mrs. Red Cross—I would appreciate it tremendously if you would send me a Xmas package. I have no relatives, and a little something from the good old U. S. A. would be appreciated beyond words. The Red Cross has sent so much for us over here, and you don't know just how we appreciate it beyond everything else."

An Italian thus addresses his Christmas appeal:

"To Whom It May Concern—I am in service in France and, having no people in the United States, would like to receive a little package from the Red Cross on Xmas. I am in No. 100's Camp in a big camp, and it is raining."

"I have been informed the Red Cross will send Xmas packages to our soldiers who need them for Xmas packages. I have received so much tobacco and other things from the Red Cross in my former service in France. I would like to write again. I am in the hospital recovering from wounds, and the Red Cross furnishes us with daily papers, writing material, tobacco, fruits and recreation."

"I have no one else to send my Xmas coupon to, so am sending it to you, as per notice on our bulletin board. If you send a package I would appreciate it if you would inclose a bill for same, for I would gladly pay it. I don't want to impose on you. The Red Cross is the best friend we have."

One Red Cross nurse writes:

"Am inclosing the coupon, but please be sure all the boys at the front get their packages first, then if one is left, I will appreciate it, as I suspect all the others will have something from home which will make up a little something. Words cannot express our appreciation for the Red Cross."

"The Red Cross is a great help and blessing to the soldiers and every-where."

"We at the A. S. P. are constantly being shown evidence of the wonderful work the Red Cross is doing and are extremely grateful."

"These Red Cross Workers—After we all hear old America we thought we were taking away from your country, but we didn't see. We would please you to send us your Xmas. I have no bills at home to send me a Christmas package."

NO FIXED QUOTAS FOR 1919.

So great is the faith of the American Red Cross in the American people that no quotas have been assigned to Red Cross Chapters for the enrollment of members in the Red Cross Christmas Roll Call. Universal membership is the goal. Chapters are limited only by the number of people in their jurisdictions. The Roll Call will be finished only when every available person, without regard to age or sex, has been enrolled. Children may join only through the Junior Red Cross Auxiliaries, and their membership dues are twenty-five cents a year. The chief aim in enrolling is not to raise money but to increase the membership. Special emphasis is laid upon the regular membership at $1.00 per year, but privilege will be given to enroll as a Contributing Member at $5.00, Sustaining Member at $10.00, Life Member at $50.00 or Patron at $100.00.

THE CLIMAX TO VICTORY.

During the week before Christmas the entire American people will have the privilege of answering the Red Cross Christmas Roll Call. The response should come through the bond with a unanimity that will stimulate to the uttermost the hopes of men in all parts of the world. It will therefore be the climax of American patriotism and will usher in Christmas with a Red Cross membership approaching the census figures. What the Red Cross wants is the approval of the American people of the Red Cross policy, and such approval will have the highest significance in the eyes of suffering people everywhere. President Wilson leads the response and passes along the message, "I summon you to the comradeship."

RED CROSS SCHOOL FOR BOYS. The American Red Cross has established a manual training school for Belgian boys at Vauxuis, Switzerland.

PEACE MAKES GREATER NEED

Peace will not end the need of Red Cross relief work. On the contrary, the provisioning of peace opens new fields of service for the Red Cross, and now, more than ever, the American people will be called upon to show their generous impulses to help the world's wounds. Membership in the Red Cross affords the public outlet for such impulses. Every American should answer "Here" to the Red Cross Christmas Roll Call.

Christmas Superstitions in Homes of Our Allies

OF the new world and the modern customs are always deeply interested in any quaint habits or unusual customs of the countries across the ocean. Particularly have the habits of England and France held our former attention, and in our own country, the latter because of the unapproachable near vicinity of Lafayette and more recently because of that same spirit so gloriously upheld today by France's noble sons. And this holiday time finds us with our eyes turned thitherward for a more poignant reason—for there aren't many homes who cannot claim a "ther, a son or a brother" over there.

And it is well to know some of the homely, sweet little superstitions which prevail among the people of our allies.

In England and in Scotland the saying goes that it is unlucky for anybody but a brunette to first cross the threshold on Christmas morning.

To bake bread on Christmas day is praiseworthy, and loaves baked then will never grow moldy. In these times of scarcity of flour, the poor loaves do not stand half a chance to mold!

Woe to the housewife who on this day turns a waitress. If bodies ill luck for the whole year.

A superstition which had its origin in Devonshire tells us that it is bad form and ill luck indeed not to wish the best good morning and the compliments of the season. On Christmas eve the houses are decorated with sprigs of green and a bit of red ribbon. The also said that bees sing all night on Christmas eve. But bees are rather perpetual singers, anyway.

The graceful traditions prevail, in northern England and Wales, that the birds and beasts have some mystic connection with the Nativity. Hence, the farmers and landowners purchase sheaves of oats from little boys who sell them as our boys sell holly. These bundles are placed in convenient high places in trees and fences, that the birds may partake. The cattle, sheep, goats and even the pigs, are all given double the amount of feedings on Christmas morning.

In Lyons, France, at the Foundling hospital a very pretty custom is to welcome the first baby that arrives with a special house—a furnished cradle, padded bassin, soft clothing, substitute and a bowl of gifts, and careful attention. This is done in expectation of the poor welcome given to a Wee Child at Bethlehem 20 centuries ago, and a beautiful thought it is.

In some provinces in France it is considered bad luck to cross a strange threshold on Christmas day.
