

PERSONAL MENTION

L. V. Gates is here from Hillsboro on a business trip.
 Crve Rasmuss, who has been dangerously ill for several weeks is reported as somewhat improved.
 Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Cochran are spending a few days in the city. They have rooms in the Freeman home at May and Chase streets.
 Ed Breslin has been ff duty for a few days suffering from a severe cold. His little-daughter, Teresa, has also been indisposed.

 J. V. Gentry who has been confined to his home for the past week with a severely sprained ankle, was in town this morning.
 Mrs. C. L. Freeman and little daughter Margery, returned last evening from a pleasant visit with her mother at Vancouver, Washington.

LOCAL ITEMS

Earl Gordon, a student in the College of Pharmacy at Portland, who spent the holidays here has returned to his school work.

Burl Gurdane, who has been jolly-tarring in Uncle Sam's navy for the past year or more, has received his discharge and is at home again.

Mrs. Phil Cohn has resigned as chairman of the civilian relief committee of the Red Cross and Mrs. A. L. Ayers has been appointed to the position.

Miss Georgia Shipley who is a student in Washington High at Portland spent the holidays in Heppner the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Dick Wells, and other relatives.

Leo Nickolson and Miss Vera Mahoney, students at the University of Washington at Seattle, have returned to their school work after spending the holidays with Heppner friends.

John Brosnan and Dillard French, of Lena, were in town Monday on their way home from their cattle feed yards at Lexington where they are feeding several hundred head of cattle. They report stock doing well the past week having been ideal weather for feeding.

Mayor and Mrs. W. W. Sward were called to Pendleton last week by the illness of their son-in-law, Clarence White, a well known attorney of that city. They were caught in the quarantine due to influenza and detained for several days. Mr. White is reported improving.

Clyde Wells, who recently sold his small farm on Willow creek to W. A. Wicox, of Ione, has moved to town and is occupying rooms in the Shurte residence. Mr. Wells has bought a fine residence lot in east Heppner from Sam E. Van Vactor and may build a residence there in the spring.

Miss Struck, efficient domestic science teacher in the high school, has tendered her resignation to the school board and the same has been accepted. Miss Struck has been offered a much more desirable position as a field demonstrator for the O. A. C. and while reluctant to lose her services the school board did not feel like allowing their contract with her to stand in the way of her advancement.

OREGON MAY FURNISH NEXT U. S. PRESIDENT

That Oregon may furnish the people of the United States with their next president is indicated by the following Washington dispatch sent out by the Oregonian news bureau under date of December 31st:

A presidential boom for Senator George Chamberlain of Oregon, is looming as a result of his sensational speech in the senate yesterday, in which he tore the lid off the War department and exposed its workings.

His speech was widely discussed at the national capitol today and gave impetus to speculation which connects his name with the presidential nomination. The Chamberlain presidential boosters say that the republicans expect to make a vast deal of capital out of exposures of the shortcomings of the War department in the recent war and that the democrats could make a ten strike by nominating an independent and fearless critic and military expert like Senator Chamberlain, whose leadership would give assurance to the country that the objectionable conditions in the War department and other branches of the government would be remedied.

Already many letters and telegrams of approval of the speech are beginning to reach the Oregon senator. Mention of Senator Poindexter, for the republican presidential nomination, suggests the interesting possibility that the Pacific northwest might furnish the rival presidential candidate in 1920.

RECENT DEATHS

Bodine

Mrs. Lucia Etta Bodine, a well known resident of Heppner, passed away at her home in this city last Friday morning a victim of pneumonia following an attack of influenza. She was aged about 32 years.

Deceased was a member of one of the old Heppner families and was widely known as a singer of more than ordinary ability.

The funeral was held Saturday afternoon a short service being held at the grave with Rev. H. A. Noyes, pastor of the Federated church as the officiating minister.

McMillan

Mrs. E. D. McMillan, one of the best known women of Lexington, passed away at her home in that town Tuesday evening, December 31, after a short illness of influenza. Besides her husband, E. D. McMillan, of the Leach Bros. company, she leaves several small children.

Mrs. McMillan was held in high esteem in her community as a loyal neighbor and friend and it was while ministering to the wants of neighboring families who were stricken with the prevalent ailment that she contracted the illness that caused her demise.

Hadley

Guy L. Hadley, a well known resident of the Hardman section, died at his home last Sunday evening of pneumonia, aged about 56 years. He leaves a widow and two children to mourn his loss. The funeral was held this morning, interment being in the Hardman cemetery.

Roosevelt

Theodore Roosevelt, twenty-sixth president of the United States and incumbent of that office from 1901 to 1909 was found dead in his bed yesterday morning. He had been in poor health for some time and the end came apparently while he slept.

Captain Roosevelt was one of the best known men in the country, and enjoyed a wide acquaintance around the world, having been an extensive traveler. He was in his 61st year. He leaves a widow and three sons and two daughters. One son, Lieutenant Quentin Roosevelt, of the U. S. aviation service, lost his life on the west front several months ago during an air fight with the Germans during an air fight with the Ger-
