D. J. Donhouser planted a small ad in the Herald last week announcing he had a buggy and harness for sale. Mrs. Ada Woodward read the ad and bought the property pronto. Herald want ads get quick results.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Phelps received a letter from their son Marshall, last evening announcing that he expected to arrive in Heppner next Sunday. Marshall recently returned from France where he has been in the air service.

Glenn Jones, who has been serving in the navy for more than a year has been discharged and is at home again. Glenn says that his appetite became such a tax on the food resources of the navy that they gave him an honorable discharge in the interests of economy.

Avery Shoun, who went back to Heppner about the holidays, returned to look after things here at the homestead last week. He thought he would try baching again for awhile so he left Mrs. Shoun to look after the ranch over at Heppner.—Spray Courier.

Fixtures for the bath rooms in Patterson & Clark's barbershop which will soon be moved into the room recently vacated by Phill Cohn arrived Thursday and as soon as the new fixtures are installed the shop will be moved from the temporary quarters in the McAtee & Aiken building.

A fine daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Beamer last Wednesday morning. Mother and child are reported as doing nicely and Jeff made his regular trips around town the next morning his usually beaming countenance illuminated with a smile so big and broad that he says himself that he does not believe it ever will come off.

Henry Swarz who formerly conducted the Peoples Cash Market here has bought a cattle ranch in the Cottonwood district of Grant county and expects to move there in the spring and engage in the cattle business. Including some land Mr. Swarz leased he will control 1900 acres much of which is good grain hay land. He has a good start in cattle and horses and will no doubt do well in his venture.

Jimmy Wilson who divorced himself from the lobster palaces and white lights of Heppner several months ago and retired to the sylvan scenes of village life in the quaint and curious town of Pendleton, after spending a week here renewing acquaintances with his sisters and their chums departed Sunday morning for the village of his adoption for another period of rest and recuperation. His Heppner friends should not despair, however, he will come back.

W. O. Erwin, representing Parker & Banfield, designing engineers and constructors of Portland, was in Heppner a couple of days during the week being attracted this way by the splendid outlook for building activity during the coming spring and summer. Parker & Banfield are looking for business connections in Heppner and with that end in view Mr. Erwin has placed an advertisement in the Herald. Roy V. Whiteis has been appointed local representative of the firm.

T. S. Leatherman, who resides with his daughter Mrs. J. J. Wells a couple of miles below town, was a pleasant caller at the Herald office Saturday and was much interested in the operation of the Intertype and other machines. Mr. Leatherman is around 90 years young and he enjoys the exercise of walking from the Wells home to Heppner and back. Neither does he think it at all remarkable that he plants, cultivates and harvests a considerable patch of garden every summer all by himself.

OREGON FUEL NEWS

All coal prices and zone regulations on coal and coke will be suspended February 1, by the Fuel Administration according to advices received by Fuel Administrator Fred J. Holmes, from Washington. An exception is made in the case of Pennsylvania anthracite which will remain subject to the present regulations.

The price regulations refer to the prices, margins of wholesalers, commissions of agents and retail margins and prices, over which the Fuel Administration has had control for the last year.

The zoning system has been in effect since March, 1918, and has resulted in the avoidance of much waste in transportation. Distribution has been prohibited beyond the limits of each zone, except through special permit issued by the Fuel Administration.

"Women are dear creatures" bled the callow youth. "You bet they are," snapped the grizzled married man. "My wife's shoes alone cost me $87 last year."

BOARDMAN ITEMS

Mrs. Adams of Portland has been visiting her brother Mr. Dillabaugh for the past week.

Mr. John McHugh is spending the winter in New York City visiting relatives and friends.

The Red Cross society met in Boardman with Mrs. Burns, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. R. Rand is enjoying a visit from her mother Mrs. Hall. Mr. Rand's father is also with them at present.

The Hard Times Social which was to be held at Boardman was postponed indefinitely on account of the "flu" which so many of us have managed to evade so far.

The wind storm we had Wednesday night damaged a number of buildings ripping the shingles off and blowing down the chimneys. The school house chimney was blown down and it was impossible to have a fire all day Thursday.

Mr. Cummins butchered eleven hogs Tuesday the 17th. Eight were raised and fattened with feed that grew on his own place. Six of them he took to Portland selling them on the market there. While there he visited his son Archie, going from there to Oregon City to visit his daughter Mrs. Tressie Larkins and family.

The society met at Mrs. R. M. Johnson's Thursday afternoon, and nineteen ladies were present in spite of the fact that it rained all afternoon. The hostess had almost given up expecting any one on account of the bad weather and the lateness of the day and was greatly surprised on seeing her company coming from every direction almost simultaneously. Everybody there enjoyed a fine time and refreshments were served just before the guests went home. Society includes every woman on the west side of the district. The meetings are to be held every other Thursday. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. F. H. Edmonds. We of the west end are in hopes that the ladies of the east end will form a like society and sometimes both societies will meet together for a general good time.
