DEVELOPMENT OF COLUMBIA RIVER

Commenting on a recent article in the Walla Walla Bulletin regarding the development of transportation on the Columbia river, a writer in the Portland Telegram says:
"The subject matter is the greater commercial use of the Columbia river. It is suggested to obtain this greater use by co-operation of Portland with up-river people in the establishment and maintenance of increased river-boat service.

To put this suggestion into practical effect would be good so far as it would go. So far as such increased service can be established and can be made to accommodate river commerce there, should be earnest and energetic endeavor to bring about the co-operation necessary to its establishment.

But this movement, however successful would be tentative, it would be but a step toward the ultimate results for which we should and must strive. There can be no doubt that the suggestions advanced can be so adopted and acted upon that in a limited measure and in a comparatively short time there can and will be a far greater, actual, commercial use of the Columbia river than there now is. Such achievement will afford only a partial solution.

Looking to the increase of river commerce we must recognize at once that to secure that there must be the creation of river port facilities, there must be river wharves and warehouses and elevators at points suitable from approach from the interior where the supply of river tonnage is to be gathered. In addition to these requirements, precedent to the full use of the river in the commercial sense, there must be construction of good roads from these points into the territory of interior supply.

With the exception of Arlington, Umatilla, Pasco Kennewick and Lewiston, there are no permanent landings on the river worthy of name.
Arlington has a small wharf, Umatilla has a wharf and warehouse which accommodates boats at all stages of water. Pasco and Kennewick each have a wharf, and Lewiston has a public warehouse. There are some warehouses on the Snake river, but except at the points named there is lack of passable roads, and as the usable river points in most of the counties along the river the right of way to available landings is blocked by the railroad.

In the broader sense, in the sense in which it must ultimately be dealt with, the problem of the full commercial use of the Columbia river is one of conjoined road building and port development. The first of these factors is recognized as a legitimate state function to be undertaken with co-operation of the counties interested, and the second is more essentially of the same character. It will be by the backing of the credit and prestige of the state that any comprehensive plan for the fullest commercial use of the river can be carried out.

And commercial use of the river is only half of the big and ultimate problem. On the Snake river and at Umatilla rapids there is more than 1,000,000 horsepower of undeveloped hydro-electric energy. There is 300,000 horsepower at the Cascades, almost 2,000,000 horsepower at Cello and a little more than 600,000 horsepower on the Deschutes.

It is inconceivable that we should never develop the human foresight, enterprise and energy to put that power to work. We will do that and the time to begin to consider that very thing is now. The determination to do that should be incorporated in the state policy of reconstruction."

Y. W. C. A. OPENS
WORK IN ITALY

Tea and Club Rooms Opened for American Women.

Miss Charlotte Niven, Director of Italian Work, Prepares for Influx of American Woman Students.

Italy is now included in the war work of the American Y. W. C. A.
Miss Mabel Warner of Salina, Kan., and Chicago left Paris a few days ago for Rome, where she will be in charge of a Hostess House for American girls employed there by the American Red Cross, the Embassy and the new Tu-bererculosis Commission. Miss Warner has been director of the Y. W. C. A.
Hostess House at Brest, France.

Miss Warner will open a tea room and club rooms where the American women can gather for social times.
Rome is harboring a refugee population of about 40,000 and accommodations are difficult to find.

The work in Rome was started as a direct result of the appeal of Miss Charlotte Niven, one of the National Y. W. C. A. secretaries in Italy, who is spending a few months in France as advisor in the French work.

Miss Niven's dreams of Y. W. C. A. work in Italy include the maintenance of a residence for non-Italian women, who, she feels, will come to Italy in great numbers after the war to study music and art.

"I believe at this time such a project is particularly important because women from other countries should be encouraged to come to Italy to replace the great numbers of German women who flooded Italy in the past, many of them paid agents of their government," Miss Niven said in discussing her plans.

Miss Niven has asked the American Y. W. C. A. to aid the Italian Association in establishing a center, perhaps at Genoa, with two American secretaries, with physical and recreational training, to act as a training school for Italian women. In connection with it her plan would include a Hostess House for girls passing through the city or employed there. Such a center would become eventually the center for all Y. W. C. A. work in Italy, both Italian and foreign.

In her formal appeal for help for the Unione Christiana Delle Giovani (the Italian name for Young Women's Christian Association) Miss Niven has emphasized two facts, the poverty of the Italian Association on the one hand and the need and opportunity on the other for an American program in Italy at the present time.

Miss Niven's favorite way of illustrating the friendliness of the Italian woman to America is by telling the story of the Italian mother who said she had taken down the picture of the Madonna which had hung for many years over her bed and was putting in its place one of President Wilson.

"In our work in the Unione we have lacked trained leadership as well as the material resources to give such training. We have had no means to buy modern equipment. Consequently we have not the visible results of American and British work.

"Feeble as our work may be, it is not useless. Many girls in all parts of Italy have told us how much the Unione meant in their lives. Italian girls are touchingly grateful for the smallest efforts. They respond eagerly to friendliness.

"There is no other agency doing in Italy what the Association is trying to do."
Miss Niven has spent the past seven years in work with the Italian women, starting as director of a hostel, or boarding home, for Italian women students at Florence. She is an American from New York, where she was one time head of the Christadora Settlement House.

WOMEN LEARNING MESSAGE.

Germantown Y. W. C. A. Trains Women for Reconstruction Work Among Soldiers.

Educational courses to prepare women as aides in the rehabilitation of wounded soldiers have been opened at the Germantown, Pa., Young Women's Christian Association.

A reconstruction message course, lectures in anatomy, physiology, muscle work and remedial movement message, theory and practice, electrother-apy and hydrotherapy are given by doctors and nurses, who also supervise practical work at the Y. W. C. A. and at hospitals. The courses are recognized by the Surgeon General.

Similar courses have also been opened in the New York City Central Branch Y. W. C. A., where a specialty is made of brush-making with a view to training women as teachers for reconstruction hospitals.

The Canadian Y. W. C. A. has received permission to place a Y. W. C.
A. secretary on every ship leaving England with 200 or more women and children on the passenger list.

The secretary fulfills the same function for the women as the Y. M. C. A. secretary has for men on transports.
She plans entertainments and recreation for women and children and is a friend to whom they may come if they are in distress.
