COUNTRY NEEDS APPLE TREES

Little Danger of a Surplus of Production if All of Us Should Get Busy.

"An apple a day keeps the doctor away."

With all things taken into consideration the apple stands at the head of all fruit lists.

It is the favorite fruit in the majority of homes. The apple is not only a productive crop, but from a commercial standpoint a good paying investment.

The war created such a big demand and necessity for immediate food that for the last four years the planting of all kinds of fruit has been neglected. Leading authorities state that in order to meet the requirements of the ever-expanding apple industry there must be planted 12,000,000 to 15,000,000 apple trees each year for the next ten years.

If you own a piece of ground, no matter how small or large, plant as much fruit as you can, especially apples. Remember if you have a small lot in a suburban town, say 50 by 150 feet, you could plant a dozen trees or more. If you own the lot and have not already built your house, start the trees now; the cost will be small and the value of your lot increased.

Farmers having plenty of acreage should plant apple trees in large quantities. It requires no special skill and very little attention to bring the young orchard to the bearing age.—U.S. Dept. of Agriculture.

HOW TREES BENEFIT STREETS

Amply Demonstrated That They Are of Practical Value in Prolonging Life of Roadway.

It has been demonstrated by those in charge of the work that aside from the purely ornamental value of trees along the highway, many practical benefits would result from their proper use. It is not generally realized that trees, by means of their shade during hot summer months, prolong the life of the roadway for many years, and road experts in general are heartily in favor of this means for road protection.

Due to the emergencies of war work it was found necessary to keep many of the highways which formerly had not been used for travel in winter open and free from drifting snows. That a demand will be made for keeping these roads open in the future is certain, and in place of many expensive and unsightly snow fences which now line our more open stretches of highway it has been found that much of this work can be performed equally as well by the proper grouping of trees and shrubs along the open areas. More general planting of fruit and nut trees along the state highways will be recommended.

Need for Library Work.

Librarians in the war camps say that the need of libraries in all towns and neighborhoods in the United States will be more acutely felt henceforth than in the past. The men returned from the army, when scattered over the land, will, it is held, wish to continue their reading, and will be restless if denied the opportunity. Consequently, although it may be necessary to postpone the book distribution scheme tentatively decided upon by the American Library association, the plan should be kept well in view, subject only to such amplification as may be necessary to meet all the requirements of the case. The returned American soldier who likes to read should be afforded the opportunity always.

Boston Housing Plan.

Boston, even before the announcement of the federal government's reconstruction building program, had under way a housing plan aimed to demolish the city's slums and to relieve congestion as much as possible. The situation is complicated in that city by high fares on the street railway system, which tend to keep workers massed near the places where they are employed.

Several other cities were also contemplating housing programs on a considerable scale when the department of labor made its plan public.

Need of Self-Control.

We need to use self-control in connection with our good qualities as well as with our faults. If we are not self-controlled in our sympathy it may do more harm than good. Generosity uncontrolled, leaves the giver poor and injures the recipient. Some girls who realize perfectly the need of self-control when they are angry, forget that it is as necessary in love as in hate.—Girl's Companion.

Not the Thing.

Kitty was engaged and her girl friends were very interested.

"How did it feel," asked one, "while Billy was proposing to you?"

"Oh," laughed Kitty, "receiving her lovely diamond ring, 'two or three times I felt like supplying the words I knew he was groping for; but of course that wouldn't have been the thing to do at all, would it?"

CLAIM CURE FOR GLANDERS

Italian Savants' Discovery, if True, Will Have Earned Them the Gratitude of Mankind.

The reviews of medicine and veterinary surgeons speak of important researches looking to the cure of glanders, which afflicts horses and man and also attacks man, who almost invariably succumbs.

At the beginning of the war the spread of glanders, especially among the quadrupeds of the Third Italian army, suggested to Colonel Commanding Dr. E. Bertelli, director of the veterinary service of the army, the idea of utilizing the victims of glanders in making experiments in regard to its curability.

Obtaining permission of the war ministry and the supreme command of the army, the experiments were begun at Casale in a sanitary rigorously quarantined and equipped with all the latest scientific and surgical appliances.

Dr. Guido Finzi, head of the Institute of Pathology and Medical Clinics of the Superior Veterinary School of Turin, assisted Doctor Bertelli. After two years they announced that glanders was curable, not only in its chronic stages but also in its process of evolution.

The importance of the discovery and the evidence of the results obtained led the two experimenters to ask for a commission to make practical tests of their discoveries. The results fully confirmed the facts announced by Doctors Bertelli and Finzi.
