C. E. Johnson, well-known sheepman of the Hardman country spent the past week in Heppner doing jury duty.

E. R. Lundell, of Ione, Joe Howell, of Hardman, and J. D. Bauman, of Lexington, served their country as jurymen here during the past week.

W. H. Cronk, who served on two important juries here during the past week, would rather sell a million feet of lumber, he says, than sit on any jury for 24 hours.

W. J. Maringer, of Blalock, and one of Gilliam county's best known citizens, was a visitor in Heppner Friday. Mr. Mariner was county judge of Gilliam county for a number of years and has also represented his district in the legislature. He is an extensive wheat farmer at Blalock and a progressive citizen.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Rand, of Baker, were the guests of Mayor and Mrs. R. J. Vaughan last week while Mr. Rand was looking after professional matters in the circuit court. Miss Gilberta Hyde, a sister of Mrs. Vaughan accompanied the Rands from Baker and will spend several weeks here as the guest of her sister.

W. S. Worstley, president of the Oregon Horticultural Society, and one of the state's original good roads boosters, was a Heppner visitor on Thursday and Friday. Mr. Worstley is now touring the state in the interest of the Roosevelt Highway and all other good road measures. He made a short good road speech at the Star theatre Thursday evening to an appreciative audience.

W. P. Dutton, former Heppner resident, now retired from active business and living in Portland, came out Thursday evening to look after his interests here and keep in touch with his old friends. Judge Dutton is a staunch friend of and booster for Heppner and he declares that it is the best place to live on earth, Portland being nowhere in comparison and that if he was 20 years younger he would be back here helping pump a little pep into the Commercial Club and other lines for civic betterment.

Mrs. Decker, of Portland, prominent in Degree of Honor and W. R. C. work, was a Heppner visitor last evening making an official visit to the local lodge of the Degree of Honor.

Ben Christman of Monument, who has been soldiering down on the Mexican border for the past year until a couple of weeks ago when he received his discharge from the army and came home, was in town yesterday on business.

Hanson Hughes who went to Portland a week ago on business is supposed to be at Salem today attending the meeting of the I. O. O. F. Grand Lodge now in session in that city, where he is representing Willow lodge of Heppner.

Dr. and Mrs. M. M. Johnson are at Clarkston, Washington, this week preparing their household goods for shipment to Heppner where they expect to make their future home. Dr. Johnson located here several weeks ago in the practice of his profession of veterinary surgeon.

V. T. Wilesworth, of Lutter creek who has been at Beverly, Washington, since last fall looking after the firm's ranch and stock interests there was in town this morning for a short time. Later he drove to Echo where he will ship six bands of the Wilesworth sheep tonight to Orofino, Idaho, where they will be summered. Mr. and Mrs. Wilesworth will spend the summer at Orofino in order to keep in close touch with the stock.

A. E. Bates came over from Boardman Wednesday evening where he is engaged in the Pastime business. He reports the new town growing rapidly and says that business is very good. Mr. Bates is interested in the flouring mill at Hardman and he says the mill will resume operations this fall after having been closed down during the war because of failure to secure a license from the government allowing them to operate.

Samuel VanDersal, publisher of the Oregon Brand Book, which contains a picture of every registered stock brand in the state of Oregon, was a business visitor in Heppner Thursday in the interest of the Pacific International Live Stock Exhibition Building association. Mr. VanDersal is in close touch with the live stock industry of Oregon and is an enthusiastic booster for the exhibit building which means so much to that important industry in the Pacific Northwest.

OLD BUILDINGS BEING RAZED ON NEW HOTEL SITE

Baldwin & Brown, who bought the old buildings on the new hotel site, have already demolished the theatre building and removed the debris yesterday morning commenced razing the millinery store occupied by Mrs. Luper, and within a day or two the old building for years occupied by the Elkhorn restaurant will also go to the bone yard.

TARDY WITNESS RECEIVES PUNISHMENT

Grover Andrews, who lives back in the Ritter country near where the famous Johnson-Colvin cattle case originated, was subpoenaed as a witness in the case with instructions to appear in court Wednesday morning. He did not appear until Judge Phelps issued a bench warrant and a deputy sheriff was sent out from Ukiah to locate him. Andrews was brought into court Friday morning after an all night's ride and after giving his testimony in the case was severely reprimanded by the court. His excuse was that he wanted to finish putting in his crop before leaving home. The court explained to Andrews that he had delayed the court a full half day thereby keeping a large number of witnesses, jurors and others away from their business who were perhaps as anxious to be at home as he was. He was fined $55.00, and given a five-day sentence in the county jail.

Andrews was a former justice of the peace in his precinct.

BACCALAUREATE SERMON

The Federated Church was filled to capacity Sunday evening the occasion being the baccalaureate sermon delivered by Rev. H. A. Noyes to the graduating class of the Heppner High School.

After a song by the high school chorus Rev. Andrews read as the scripture lesson that most wonderful discourse of the gospel, Christ's Sermon on the Mount.

Rev. Noyes chose for his text the words, "No Man Liveth Unto Himself." He spoke of the need for co-operation between the public schools and the church emphasizing the necessity of inculcation into the minds of the young the principles of religion and morality.

He argued that, as the mastery of the problems in algebra is a necessary step in becoming proficient in the science of mathematics so is an understanding of the principles taught by the Christ in His sermon on the mount necessary to the proper development of character in the way of correct thinking and right living.

$1,000 — NOTICE — $1,000

I have posted with the Heppner Herald a check for $350.00 which sum, or any other amount up to $1,000, I propose to wager on the following propositions: That I can ride horseback in one day, from sun up to sun down, farther than any man of my age in the state of Oregon or the United States of America. I am past 66 years of age.

I will also wager a similar amount that I can ride 100 miles in one day from sun up to sun down.

These challenges are open to all comers of 66 years of age and subject only to the condition that the challenge must be accepted and the money covered within 30 days from the date hereof.
