

PERSONAL MENTION

Bob Carner was in from his cattle ranch near Hardman Friday.

Mrs. J. J. Keegan of Vale, visited her sister, Mrs. John F. Kenny, last week.

Cleve Walton bought a Reo car last week from the Mc Roberts-Cohn Auto company.

Mrs. Mattie Adkins visited her daughter, Mrs. Waldo Vincent, on Buttercreek last week.

County Agent Hunt, F. P. Mahoney and Claud Cox went to Boardman Friday returning Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Robinson and little daughter, of Spray, were Heppner visitors Friday and Saturday.

G. W. Hux, of Irrigon, who supplies Heppner people with luscious peaches, was in town on business Saturday.

Deputy County Clerk Gay M. Anderson and family spent last week on upper Willow Creek camping at the Cohn camp.

Guy Boyle and wife are at the Imperial. Their home is in Heppner, where Guy is one of the livestock men that ever nizzled. He is in the sheep business.—Telegram.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Bayless expect to leave this week for an extended eastern trip during which they will visit relatives and friends in Tennessee and the middle west.

Mrs. Chas. H. Latourell arrived from Gresham Friday to join her husband who recently established a Ford agency here adding another family to Heppner's house-hunting army.

L. D. Basey was in from the Herron mill on upper Willow creek Saturday. Mr. Basey is engaged in the wood and post business in an extensive scale and is preparing to supply the demand for posts this fall.

Dr. Guant, formerly located in Hardman in the practice of his profession, and recently discharged from the army with which he served more than a year in France, was a visitor in Heppner from Portland last week.

Roy Whiteis and Andy Hayes returned Thursday evening from Klamath Falls where they attended the Elk's convention. They report a great time and found the roads fairly good most of the way. Returning they visited Mr. Whiteis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Whiteis, at Terrebonne, a famous irrigation district in Crook county. Mr. Whiteis' young brother, Paul, a native son of Heppner returned with Roy for a short visit.

Joe M. Hayes was a business visitor in Heppner Saturday from Buttercreek.

Ed Bucknem put down a concrete walk for Martin Reid last week in front of the latter's Main street property.

Jim Carty, one of the big land owners in the proposed John Day irrigation district, was a business visitor here Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Keithley were in from Parkers Mill Saturday where Mr. Keithley makes his summer headquarters while engaged in the forest service.

Sam E. Van Vactor came down from his Willow creek farm Saturday to look after office business for a day and, perhaps, also to let his friends see how well he looks behind that coat of tan.

Bob Notson, who has been spending his vacation with his parents in Heppner, has returned to Salem where he is a student in the high school and editor in chief of the Clarion, the high school magazine.

S. A. Pattison has bought the Lee Sprinkles residence property in the south part of town and will take possession of the same this week. Mr. and Mrs. Sprinkles left for Portland Sunday morning where they expect to reside.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Freeman left Sunday morning for their former home near Vancouver, Washington where they will spend a pleasant vacation on their fine fruit farm. They will also visit Mrs. Freeman's mother and numerous other friends in Clark county.

Dr. and Mrs. McMurdo returned on Friday evening from a trip to Portland, making the trip in their Franklin car. While in the city enjoying his vacation Dr. McMurdo improved his time by going into a hospital and having his appendix removed. "It's only a nuisance to carry around," said the doctor, in telling his experience, "so I just thought I'd have it snipped off while I had plenty of time."

Mrs. E. J. Bettner received a fine box of peaches from Mrs. Myrtle Smith who lives in Alderdale, Wash. Mr. and Mrs. Smith while on their way home from the John Day country had the misfortune of breaking their big Buick car and had to leave it here in one of the local garages to get repaired. The piece could not be furnished either here or in Portland so had to send to the factory for it, the car is still in the garage here and is being thoroughly overhauled and Mr. Smith will come for it later.

Mrs. S. W. Spencer has returned from a pleasant visit with Pendleton friends.

Wm. Hendrix and R. D. Alstott leave this week for Elgin and other points in Baker and Union counties looking for a band or two of sheep to buy.

R. A. Thompson has purchased the Mrs. Gentry residence on Gale street and it will be occupied by his mother who has until recently had apartments in the Bartholomew house.

Mrs. W. W. Smead, of this city, and her daughter, Mrs. Mabel Curtis, of Marsfield, will enjoy an extensive eastern trip shortly, their objective point being the big soldiers' reunion at Columbus, Ohio.

Ellis Irwin left early Sunday morning in the Irwin Oakland for Portland and Rockaway beach where his mother, Mrs. W. R. Irwin and little daughter, Betty, are spending the summer in the Irwin cottage. Mr. and Mrs. Freeman accompanied Ellis as far as Portland.

Vane E. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Jones, who enlisted in the Marine corps at Walla Walla May 31, and served 26 months in that organization of real, he-fighters, has received his discharge and reached home August 19th. Vane did not get to France but was sent to Cuba where he served 22 months and was mustered out of the service at Philadelphia August 4th.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Carsner were in town Saturday having recently returned from Klamath Falls where they attended the Elks convention. Mr. Carsner says they had a fine time in Klamath which is a good town but might be a better one if they had fewer court houses and more hotels. Klamath Falls is unique in having three court houses, two palatial new buildings standing empty while the little old pioneer building is still housing the county officials. A different town from Pendleton says Mr. Carsner.

Rolland Humphreys and his two sisters, Misses Leta and Evelyn, have returned from a highly enjoyable auto vacation trip to Portland, Willamette valley and coast points following which they drove to Tacoma and Seattle and explored the Sound country pretty thoroughly. They planned to visit Victoria and Vancouver, B. C., but after missing the road three successive days they decided Fate had stacked the cards against that trip. Returning they came over Snoqualmie pass and down through the Yakima country. They report a most enjoyable trip.
