Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Noel, pioneer resident of the Lone Rock country were here last week attending the fair and visiting friends and relatives.

J. H. Pearson, David Pearson, Howard Pearson and Eddie E. Hammer, all of the Lena country, were in town Monday making proof on their homesteads.

Big bargain in 200 acre creek ranch. Thirty acres in alfalfa, good orchard, 60 to 70 acres farm land, balance pasture. Bargain if taken at once. See Roy V. Whiteis.

Mrs. Esther Turner has purchased the residence property on Chase street, known as the Tom Ayers property, from Mrs. Ada M. Ayers for a consideration of $35,000. The deal was made through the agency of Roy V. Whiteis.

W. H. Cronk, Tum-a-Lum manager announces that his company has closed a contract with Snook & Traver, contractors on the Elks' building for all the lumber needed in that building. The job will aggregate three car loads of about 100,000 feet.

Mrs. Opal Collins of Monument, has bought the new dwelling recently completed by Jeff French near the depot as an investment. Matt T. Hughes has the property leased and will continue to occupy it. The Roy V. Whiteis agency handled the deal.

Roy V. Whiteis and John F. Vaughn have bought the old Elkhorn restaurant building and are having it moved back to Mr. Vaughn's lot on East Willow street where it will be remodeled and rented to a Portland lady who will open a first-class restaurant therein.

Lew Holmes, Tum-a-Lum manager at Lexington, sold H. E. Warner, near that town, lumber for a first-class modern 8-room house the other day. The building will be erected after plans furnished by the Tum-a-Lum company which means the latest ideas in modern building.

Mrs. Emma Fuller, of Atwater, California, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. A. J. Knoblock, for some time left for her home early last week only to be recalled from Portland by a telegram announcing the serious illness of her mother. Mrs. Knoblock has been an invalid for several years and the day following her daughter's departure she suffered from an acute attack from which it is feared she will not rally.

KENNETH BINNS RETURNS

Kenneth Binns, who has been in the army for more than a year serving at Camp Kearney, near San Diego, has finally received his discharge from the service and returned to Heppner Thursday evening. Kenneth worked as a clerk in headquarters until after the armistice was signed and then served in the demobilization headquarters until he was discharged. While he was there, from January until June, 18,000 men were discharged and Kenneth thinks he did his good share at making out their papers.

He expects to enter O. A. C. about October 1st after enjoying a few weeks' rest in Heppner.

COLUMBIA BASIN WOOL WAREHOUSE MAKES FINE DISPLAY

Representing the Columbia Basin Wool Warehouse, of which T. J. Mahoney, former Heppner banker is general manager, Mr. Shepard, wool expert with that company, was at the Morrow county fair last week with a splendid display of practically all the different grades of wool produced in the Pacific Northwest.

Many of the sample fleeces were of Morrow county production some having been selected from the wools now in the big Portland warehouse.

The exhibit was of great interest to the sheepmen who attended the fair and was no doubt of considerable educational value.

MARRIED

Sargent-McCalley

Mr. Cecil C. Sargent and Miss Inez Z. McCalley, well known and popular young people of Gwendolyn, Gilliam county, quietly slipped into Heppner yesterday, secured a marriage license from Deputy Clerk Gay Anderson and enlisted the services of Judge J. P. Williams to perform the marriage ceremony.

The bride has many friends in Morrow county, having been a successful teacher in Matteson district last year, all of who will join in best wishes.
