W. J. Lowell passed away Friday, Sept. 26, at the age of 73 years. The funeral services were held Saturday at 2 p. m. in the Congregational church of Ione. B. E. Emerick conducting the services. Mr. Lowell was rather a quaint man but pretty well known, being an uncle of the Blakes and Mrs. Ed Moore and Mrs. W. L. Padberg of this place and of Mrs. Arthur Wills of Portland. He was born in Boston in 1846, making him 73 years of age at the time of his death. At the age of 19 Mr. Lowell came to Oregon, arriving at Corvallis in 1864. He lived a brief time in different states, Iowa, Colorado, Washington, New Mexico and Arizona, but spent most of his life in Oregon. The latter years at Ione. His business as a photographer occasioned a good deal of traveling during his stay in Iowa he was married to Delphine Gardner, who after a long and delightful companionship passed on to the better land six years ago. There survives him an only child, Nettie, now Mrs. John Mobley, and two grandchildren, Alma and Joseph.

Mr. Lowell was an earnest Christian and member of the Congregational church of this place. He was afflicted with deafness most all his life being worse the last few years. Perhaps this added to the keen delight that was his in the study of the bible. He selected the songs and the scripture lesson and text to be used at his funeral services. He passed away the 26th of September at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John Mobley.

IONE SCHOOL NOTES

The Camp Fire Girls organized last Friday with Miss Meda Angell, one of the grade teachers, as leader.

The sixth, seventh and eighth grades started work in manual arts last week, the girls taking domestic science and the boys manual training. Domestic science is offered the first semester and domestic art the last semester. The high school classes have double periods daily and the grades twice a week.

Mr. Earl A. Brown, the school band and orchestra leader, has the following students signed up for the work: Cornet, Thomas Davidson and Edmund Bristow; Alto, Kelsey Devin; Carl Linn and Carlton Swanson; trombone, Keithley Blake, Harold Anderson and Nolan Page; Clarinet, James Howard; Drums, Ted Blake. More students are still wanted for bass, cornet and tenor.

The teachers in the high school require each student to make out a complete schedule of all time which he is to devote to school tasks, including the periods when he is not reciting at school and the study time at home. The purpose is to establish regular hours and regular habits of study and home work.

Any pupil in high school may earn one unit toward graduation by taking up social work according to the following outline. When a pupil has earned 15 points he shall have done his year's work and shall be entitled to one-half unit. Points may be earned in the various activities as follows:

President student body, five points; secretary student body, two and one-half points; manager student body, two and one-half points; president of class, two and one-half points; participation in debate try-out five points; participation in inter-school, seven and one-half points; for each appearance on literary program, one point; president of literary society, two and one-half points; secretary, one point; major part in play, five points; minor part in play, two and one-half points; public appearance on any other school program, one point; points are also given for athletics, besides on the recommendation of the instructor in charge the faculty may grant one-fourth credit per year toward graduation for regular and systematic participation in any of the following activities: foot ball, basketball, baseball, tennis and track.

This year the seventh and eighth grades are so large that it was necessary to change their room from the first floor to one of the larger high school rooms on the second floor.

A large number of pupils from rural schools are attending the Ione school this year. We are glad to welcome them and as many more as can find it convenient to attend.
