FOR SALE—Strictly modern 5-room bungalow for sale. See Clyde Wells.

Furnished sleeping room for lady $10. Inquire at Herald Office 22-23.

William Haylor went to Portland Sunday expecting to return Wednesday.

F. A. McMenamin left Wednesday on a business trip to the state of Washington.

F. A. McMenamin returned Thursday from a business trip to Alderdale Washington and Arlington.

F. R. Brown left Wednesday for Spokane where he went to close a deal for the sale of his ranch, that city.

Arthur Campbell and Norton Winard left Sunday morning for Eugene where they will re-enter U. of O. for the coming year.

Miss Gladys Davenport, who has been a guest at the Mike Curran home for a couple of weeks, returned to her home in Goldendale, Wash., Saturday.

Ardale Ball, 21 year old son of Mrs. Mary Ball, of near Ione, is in the Heppner hospital recovering from an operation for appendicitis he underwent last Monday morning. It is expected he will be able to leave the hospital within a few days.

G. W. Swaggart returned from Portland Wednesday where he went a week before to attend the Wilson meeting. Mr. Swaggart was fortunate in drawing a ticket in the seat lottery before the speaking and his good fortune stayed with him to the last as his seat assignment placed him within 20 feet of the speaker.

Mrs. E. A. Patterson returned from Pendleton last Thursday where she spent a week visiting friends and attending the Round-up. Mrs. Patterson was accompanied home by her mother, Mrs. Matlock, of Eugene, who will make an extended visit here. Mrs. Matlock was a former resident of Heppner but this is her first visit to the old town in eight years.

Miss Vivian Cox, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. J. H. Cox, has returned from a pleasant vacation trip spent at Portland, Tacoma, Ranier National Park and the Pendleton Round-up. The ladies were particularly delighted with the beauties of Ranier park and also enjoyed a day at the Round-up before returning to Heppner.

Henry Schwarz, Heppner's former blue ribbon meat market man, now getting next to the Big Five by producing more real beef than they can absorb, was a Heppner visitor last Wednesday. Mr. Schwarz says everything in his balliwick is fine except that more rain is needed just now to insure plenty of feed to make the Thanksgiving beef just what it should be when they send it out.

E. S. ACKERMAN TO COME TO IONE

E. S. Ackerman, who was connected with the Herald for a year or more and since December has been with the Moro Observer, has, it is understood, taken over the plant of the old Ione Independent and will re-establish that paper. Mr. Ackerman lived at Ione during the time the Herald was printed on that plant after the fire and made many friends among the residents of that town. The Herald extends best wishes to Mr. Ackerman in his venture and congratulates the people of Ione in securing a newspaper man of his ability and a gentleman of his sterling character and integrity.

MARRIAGE LICENSE BUSINESS BOOMING

County Clerk Waters reports the marriage license market strong lately so far the present month being the record in recent years.

Last week a license was issued to H. M. Moore and Mrs. Arndale Stephens, of Lone Rock and the couple were registered in the clerk's office by City Recorder Williams.

Last Saturday afternoon licenses were issued to Mr. L. D. Chibault of Pendleton, and Miss Neva Childsey of Heppner, and Carl Heppner and Miss Lucille Huff of Cent.

Ten licenses have been issued during the month up to Saturday evening.

FARMERS SOW WEEDS

Seeds of wild mustard, corn cockle, Canadian thistle and dodder are some of the weeds that Oregon farmers sometimes unintentionally sow along with their farm crops seed. More than one-sixth of all samples tested by the federal and O. A. C. testing laboratory at Corvallis contained some of these weed seeds. Some of this seed was also low in germination quality. Farmers of Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana who want to improve their crops may get their seed tested from by sending a small sample to the laboratory.

WEDDING BELLS

Clabaugh-Childsey

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Childsey, on Gale street at 7:15 Sunday morning, when their charming daughter, Miss Neva Childsey, became the bride of Mr. Delbert Clabaugh, of Pendleton.

The interesting ceremony was performed by Rev. H. A. Noyes, of the Federated church. The guests were limited to members of the class of '20, Heppner high school, of which the bride was a member and immediate relatives of the bride. Immediately following the ceremony the guests accompanied the newlyweds to the depot where they took the train for their home in Pendleton amid a shower of rice, old shoes and other tokens of esteem.

USED CLOTHING NEEDED

Last spring when America was asked to raise a relief fund for Armenia, it was expected that the Armenians would be able to return to their lands and raise a crop, but the Turks have been able to prevent their return. The result is that extreme suffering is still their lot. Mr. Hoover reports 700,000 in the direct need 200,000 of whom must perish, as it is impossible to reach them in time. There is a call for clothing for the sufferers. All persons having used clothing which they are willing to donate are requested to bring or send it to the council chambers not later than next Thursday afternoon. The boxes must be packed and ready to send on Friday.

ARLINGTON STILL WANTS COUNTY SEAT

That the little town of Arlington still has visions of becoming a county capitol is shown by the following squib picked up by the Oregonian hotel reporter the other day:

"There is some talk of creating a new county out of the northern end of Gilliam and Morrow counties," says H. W. Lang of Arlington. "Ever since Condon took the county seat from Arlington by one vote, the people at the south end of Gilliam have been afraid that Arlington will prosper and take away the county seat again. That is why the south-enders would rather see the John Day highway go through Sherman county than permit it to connect with the Columbia highway at Arlington, where it logically belongs. The people of the north end of Morrow get about the same kind of treatment, so there is a sort of bond of sympathy which is leading to talk of a new county. The John Day irrigation project will start at the city limits of Arlington, and, in fact, will include some of the city acreage. This project runs across the north end of Gilliam and Morrow and takes in part of Umatilla county. There are 365,000 acres in the project. C. C. Clark of Arlington, is president of the board of directors, and others are M. D. Clark, John Kilkenney and F. R. Brown, all of Heppner."

POULARD WHEAT REPUDIATED

Faking endorsement by the agricultural college a man is said to have reaped a rich reward from sale of so-called "Egyptian" wheat during the Oregon state fair at Salem. He charged 50 cents a pound it is said, and did a thriving business. He is further reported as having increased his sales by claiming that the original seed was obtained from O. A. C. This claim is repudiated by G. R. Hyslop, chief of farm crops, who says that this type of Poulard wheat was given a thorough trial on the experiment station grounds and proved inferior both in quality and yield to white winter wheat. The Oregon station and others have repeatedly discouraged the use of these "wonder" wheats, and now advise farmers not to buy or use them for seed.

STUDENT BODY ELECTS OFFICERS

Members of the student body of Heppner high school held an election last Friday when, after much doings in a political way the following students were chosen to the various positions of prominence and trust:

- President—Elmer Peterson.
- Vice-president—Pearl Hall.
- Secretary—Marie Curran.
- Treasurer—Violet Merritt.
- Fire Chief—Raymond Ferguson.
- Officers of the Athletic Association: President—Ted Young.
- Vice-president—Eddie Childsey.
- Sec'y-Treas.—Roland Humphreys.

The following staff was chosen to have charge of the destinies of "Hehishhe," the school's annual magazine.

- Editor-in-chief—S. Everett Pattison.
- Bus. Manager—Roland Humphreys.
- Advertising Manager—Elmer Peterson.

A new political system was adopted by the school this year, the old system which meant a four-cornered scrap with keen rivalry between the four classes giving way to the two-party plan under which the student body is divided into two "parties" known as "Purple" and "Gold."

HATS

The prettiest and best ever shown here and the price is right. No matter what you want I have a pattern maker who can make it. 21-24 MRS. L. C. HERREN.

HAS MET 20 PRESIDENTS

When President Wilson shook hands the other day with Mrs. H. W. Somers, wife of General Somers of Civil war fame, he was the twentieth chief executive of the United States to whom she had been introduced. Mrs. Somers made her debut at the White House on the arm of Daniel Webster when William Harrison was president. The aged lady declares that since that time she has attended many of the social functions given by presidents and that she was intimately acquainted with many of the executives. Washington has been her home for 30 years. Despite her advanced age she is very active and in the stormiest or hottest weather can be seen among her wards—the poor.
