Farmers Attention

Why not break the force of winter's cold penetrating winds from your house and barns by planting a few rows of

CAROLINA POPLARS BLACK LOCUSTS
LOMBARDY POPLARS BOX ELDERS

on the windward side of your buildings? These are hardy fast growing trees and will in a very few years prove great protectors from winds during both summer and winter. The small expense involved will be many times repaid in the shelter they will give you. Plant your trees about eight feet apart in a double row. Figure out how many you need and let us quote you on your requirements.

BOARDMAN NEWS

The Boardman local of the Morrow County Farm Bureau held a very successful meeting last Monday night, the main topics being rabbit control which is being very successfully waged in this section; good roads, a special meeting to be called soon; and the discussion of the idea that officials of the organization, local, county and state should be bona fide agriculturists.

Mrs. Earl Cramer, who has been suffering from an attack of pneumonia, is now improving rapidly.

Some tools and equipment are being ordered for shop work and an elementary course in cobbling for the boys of the school.

Bulletins have been sent to the homes of the district in the interest of the Boy and Girl club work. It was brought out at the State Teachers' association that in chief measure the success of the movement lay in the encouragement and backing the child received from his parents, and that the work is one of the best courses that can be given pupils of rural schools.

The Boardman Farm Bureau will change its regular meeting night to the week end either Friday or Saturday, so that more can attend and the county agent be present oftener.

The following resolution was passed by the Boardman Local of the Morrow County Farm Bureau at its meeting last night.

WHEREAS, It has been and is deemed expedient to permit others than those whose business is purely agricultural to become associated in the Farm Bureau movement, to the proportion of not to exceed 20 per cent, and

WHEREAS, By so doing, there is a fear openly expressed that the Farm Bureau movement is thus jeopardized through danger of being controlled by officials whose interests are not agricultural,

THEREFORE, It is resolved by the Boardman Farm Bureau that with the exception of treasurer when that office is separate from that of the secretary, that all offices of local, county or state organization be filled by men who are actively engaged in agricultural pursuits, and that constitutions and by-laws be so framed or amended that those whose business is non-agricultural shall be excluded from official positions in the Farm Bureau in compliance with this resolution, and be it FURTHER RESOLVED, That the local secretary of this organization be instructed to communicate this resolution to the other local secretaries throughout the county and urge its adoption by their respective organizations, and also to file a copy of these resolutions with each official of the county organization that they may be fully informed of our desires in the matter.
